

THE SARATOGA MIRACLE

Further Investigated by an Express Reporter.

The Facts Already Stated Fully Confirmed - Interviews with Leading Physicians - Who Treated Quant - The Most Marvellous Case in the History of Medical Science.

A few weeks ago an article appeared in this paper copied from the Albany, N. Y., Journal, giving the particulars of one of the most remarkable cures of the 19th century. The article was under the heading "A Saratoga Co. Miracle," and excited such widespread comment that another Albany paper - the Express - detailed a reporter to make a thorough investigation of the statements appearing in the Journal's article.

The facts as elicited by the Express reporter are given in the following article, which appeared in that paper on April 16th, and makes one of the most interesting stories ever related.

A few weeks ago there was published in the Albany Evening Journal the story of a most remarkable - indeed so remarkable as to well justify the term "miraculous" - cure of a severe case of locomotor ataxia, or creeping paralysis, simply by the use of Pink Pills for Pale People, and in compliance with instructions an Express reporter has been devoting some time in a critical investigation of the real facts of the case.

The story of the wonderful cure of Charles A. Quant of Galway, Saratoga county, N. Y., as first told in "The Journal," has been copied into hundreds if not thousands of other daily and weekly newspapers and has created such a sensation throughout the entire country that it was deemed a duty to call the people and especially the thousands of suffering sufferers to the statements of the case as made in "The Albany Journal" and copied into so many other newspapers should, if true, be verified, or, if false, exposed as an imposition upon public credulity.

The result of the Express reporter's investigations authorizes him in saying that the story of Charles A. Quant's cure of locomotor ataxia by the use of Pink Pills for Pale People, as reported in the Albany Journal and put up by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Morrisville, N. Y., and Brockville, Ontario, is TRUE, and that all its statements are fully justified by the further development of the further facts of the case.

Perhaps the readers of the Express are not all of them fully familiar with the details of this most remarkable cure, and the health of a man who after weeks and months of treatment by the most skillful doctors in two of the best hospitals in the state of New York - the Roosevelt hospital in New York city and St. Peter's hospital in Albany - was dismissed from each as incurable and, because the case was deemed incurable, the man was denied admission into several others to which application was made in his story to the Albany Journal.

My name is Charles A. Quant. I am 37 years old. I was born in the village of Galway, Saratoga county, N. Y., and have spent my business and a little while in Amsterdam, have spent my whole life here. Up to about eight years ago I had never been sick and was then in perfect health. I weighed 150 pounds, all weight, 150 pounds, and was very strong. For 12 years I was traveling salesman for a piano and organ company and had to do, or at least did so, a great deal of heavy lifting, and my meals were particularly and step in enough spare beds in country houses to freeze any ordinary man to death, or at least give him the rheumatism. About eight years ago I began to feel dizzy in my head, and my eyes began to feel as if they were burning. Several doctors about it. They all said it was dyspepsia, and for dyspepsia I was treated by various doctors in different places, and took all the patent medicines I could hear of. I continued to be cured for dyspepsia. But I continued to grow gradually worse for four years. Then I began to have pain in my back and legs and became conscious that my legs were getting weak and that I was constantly growing worse. I then, upon advice, began the use of electric belts, pads and all the many different kinds of electric appliances I could hear of, and spent hundreds of dollars for them, but they did me no good. Here, Mr. Quant showed the result of a reporter's investigation of underwearer, for which he paid $134.

In the fall of 1888 the doctors advised a change of climate, so I went to Atlanta, Ga., and acted as agent for the Eastern Organ Company. While there I took a thorough electric treatment, but it only seemed to aggravate my disease, and the only relief I could get from the sharp and distressing pains was to take morphine. The pain was so intense at times that it seemed as though I could not stand it, and I almost longed for death as the only certain relief. In September of 1888 my legs gave out entirely and my left eye became drawn to one side, so that I had double sight and was dizzy. My trouble so affected my whole nervous system that I had to give up business. Then I returned to New York, and went to the Roosevelt hospital for four months. There I was treated by specialists and it pronounced my case locomotor ataxia and incurable. After I had been under treatment by Prof. Starr and Dr. Ware for four months, they told me they had done all they could for me. Then I went to the New York hospital on Fifteenth street, where, upon examination, they said I was incurable and would not take me. At the Roosevelt hospital they examined me and told me the same thing. In March, 1890, I was taken to St. Peter's hospital in Albany, where Prof. H. B. Hun franklin told my wife my case was hopeless; that he could do nothing for me and that she had better take me back home and save my money. But I wanted to make a trial of Prof. Hun's famous skill and I remained under his treatment for three weeks, but secured no benefit. All this time I had been growing worse. I had become entirely paralyzed from my waist down and had partly lost control of my hands. The pains were terrible; my legs felt as though they were freezing and my stomach would not retain food, and I fell away to 130 pounds. In the Albany hospital they put 17 big burns on my back one day which red hot irons and after a few days they put 14 more burns on me treated with electricity, but I got worse rather than better; lost control of my bowels and water, and, upon advice of the doctor, who said there was no hope for me, was brought home, where it was thought that death would soon come to relieve me of my sufferings. Last September, while in this helpless and suffering condition, a friend of mine in Hamilton, Ont., called my attention to the statement of one John Marshall, whose case had been similar to my own, and who had been cured by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. In this case I was cured, a prominent member of the Royal Templars of Temperance, had, after four years of constant treatment by the most eminent Canadian physicians, been pronounced incurable, and paid the $1,000 total disability claim allowed by the order in such cases. Some months after Mr. Marshall began a course of treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and after taking some 15 boxes was fully restored to health. I thought I would try them, and my wife sent for two boxes of the pills, and I took them according to the directions on the wrapper of each box. For the first few days the cold baths were pretty severe in my case, but I continued to follow the instructions, and even before I had used up the two boxes of the pills I began to feel beneficial results from them. My pains were not so bad; my stomach began to feel better; my food began to retain and agree with me; I could straighten up; the feeling began to come back into my limbs; I began to be able to get about on crutches, and now, after the use of eight boxes of the pills, at a cost of only $4.00 - I can walk with the help of a cane only, walk all about the house and yard, can saw wood, and on pleasant days I walk down town. My stomach trouble is gone; I have gained ten pounds; I feel like a new man, and when the spring opens I expect to be able to renew my career in a piano agency. I cannot speak in too high terms of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, as I know they saved my life after all the doctors had given me up as incurable.

Such is the wonderful story which the Express reporter has succeeded in securing verification of in all its details, from the hospital records where Mr. Quant was treated and from the doctors who had the case in hand and who pronounced him incurable. Let it be remembered that all this hospital treatment was two and three years ago, while his cure, by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, has been effected since last September, 1891. So it is beyond a doubt evident that his recovery is wholly due to the use of these famous pills which have been found to have made such remarkable cures in this and other cases.

Mr. Quant placed in the hands of the reporter a copy of the admission to Roosevelt hospital, which is here reproduced in full confirmation of his statements:

ROOSEVELT HOSPITAL. OUT-PATIENT. No. 19057. Admitted Sept. 16, 89. Charles A. Quant. Age 37. Birthplace N.Y. Civil Condition Married. Occupation Salesman. Residence 17 Park St. Galway, Saratoga Co., N.Y. Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

To verify Mr. Quant's statement our reporter a few days ago, (March 31st, 1892), called on Dr. Allen Starr at his office, No. 23 West Twenty-eighth street, New York city. Dr. Starr, the house physician at Roosevelt hospital, situated corner of Ninth avenue and Fifty-ninth street. In reply to inquiry he said he remembered the case of Mr. Quant very well and treated him some time, but that he was chiefly treated and under the more especial care of Dr. Ware. He said he regarded this case as he did all cases of locomotor ataxia as incurable. In order that our reporter might get a copy of the history of the case, Dr. Starr, who is the house physician at Roosevelt hospital, situated corner of Ninth avenue and Fifty-ninth street. In reply to inquiry he said he remembered the case of Mr. Quant very well and treated him some time, but that he was chiefly treated and under the more especial care of Dr. Ware. He said he regarded this case as he did all cases of locomotor ataxia as incurable. In order that our reporter might get a copy of the history of the case, Dr. Starr, who is the house physician at Roosevelt hospital, situated corner of Ninth avenue and Fifty-ninth street. In reply to inquiry he said he remembered the case of Mr. Quant very well and treated him some time, but that he was chiefly treated and under the more especial care of Dr. Ware. He said he regarded this case as he did all cases of locomotor ataxia as incurable.

Dr. M. A. Starr, 23 West Forty-eighth street, New York, N. Y., March 31st, 1892. - Dear Dr. Wright: If you have any record of a locomotor ataxia by name of Quant, who says he came to the clinic three or four years ago, No. 1057, of the O. D. Dept., Roosevelt, sent to me from Ware, will you let the bearer know. If you have no record send him to Roosevelt Hosp., N. Y. Yours, M. A. Starr.

By means of this letter access to the records was permitted and a transcript of his history of Mr. Quant's case made from them as follows: - Admitted September 16th, 1889. Charles A. Quant, aged 34 years. Born U. S. Married. Hoboken, N. J.

History of the case: - Dyspepsia for past four or five years. About 14 months partial loss of power in the lower extremities. Girdling sensation about abdomen. (November 20th, 1889, not improved, external strabismus of left eye and dilation of the left eye.) Some difficulty in walking. Several times at times no headache, some dizziness; alternate diarrhoea and constipation; partial palsy past two weeks in left eye.

Dr. E. F. B. pep. and soda. These are the marked symptoms of a severe case of locomotor ataxia. "And Dr. Starr said a case with such marked symptoms could not be cured and Quant who was receiving treatment in the outpatient department, was given up as incurable." "There never was a case recovered in the world," said Dr. Starr. And then said: "Dr. Ware can tell you more about the case as Quant was under his more personal treatment. I am surprised," he said, "that the man is alive, as I thought he must be dead long ago."

Our reporter found Dr. Edward Ware at his office, No. 102 West Ninety-third street, New York. He said: "I have very distinct recollections of the Quant case. It was a very pronounced case. I treated him about two months. This was in the early summer of 1891. I deemed him incurable, and thought him dead before now. Imagine my surprise when I received a letter from him about two weeks ago telling me that he was alive and getting well and expected soon to be fully recovered." "What do you think, doctor, was the cause of his recovery?" "That is more than I know. Quant says he has been taking some sort of pills and that they have cured him. At all events, I am glad the poor fellow is getting well, for his was a bad case and he was a great sufferer."

Dr. Theodore R. Tuttle, No. 219 West Eighteenth street, to whom our reporter is indebted for assisting courtesies, said of locomotor ataxia: "I have had several cases of this disease in the course of my practice. I will not say that it is incurable, but I never knew of a case to get well; but I will say it is not deemed curable by any remedies known to the medical profession." After this successful and complete investigation in New York, our reporter, Saturday April 2nd, 1892, visited St. Peter's hospital, in Albany, corner of Albany and Ferry streets. He had a courteous reception by Sister Mary Philomena, the sister superior of St. Peter's hospital, and when told the object of his visit, said she remembered the case of poor Mr. Quant very distinctly. She said she "was a very distressing case and excited my sympathies much. Poor fellow he couldn't be cured and had to go home in a terrible condition of helplessness and suffering. The house physician, on consulting the records of St. Peter's hospital, said he found only that Charles A. Quant entered the hospital March 14th, 1890, was treated by Dr. Henry Hun, assisted by Van Deyver, who was then 1890, at the head of the hospital, and that his case being deemed not possible of cure, he left the hospital and was taken to his home, as he supposed to die."

After this full and complete investigation of this most remarkable case of successful recovery from a heretofore supposed incurable disease, and after all the doctors had given him up, by the simple use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, truly it is the most interesting story of a most miraculous cure of a dreadful disease by the simple use of this popular remedy.

CONGRESS.

The Week's Proceedings Condensed For Convenience of the Reader. The senate was not in session on the 19th and when the house met members who had been sent for, who were absent without leave, were excused. The house then went into committee on the private calendar. The Sibley tele bill, which has been clogging the private calendar for two months, was laid aside after being favorably recommended, but without final action. The house then took a recess until evening for the consideration of private pension bills.

This senate was not in session on the 20th, and the house was occupied in further considering the diplomatic bill. During the debate the action of the administration in paying an indemnity to Italy out of the contingent fund was criticised. Pending an amendment offered by Mr. Chipman (Mich.) that no part of the sum appropriated as an emergency fund shall be paid to any power in settlement of any claim against the United States, the house adjourned.

Pensioners were presented in the senate on the 23rd against opening the world's fair on Sunday. A petition was also presented from a Methodist church in New Hampshire protesting against any further legislation against the Chinese. Mr. Tilden made some criticism of the extravagance in spending money by the managers of the world's fair which he considered reckless in view of the fact that congress was being asked to further aid the enterprise. Among the bills passed were: a bill to fix the price of lands entered under desert land laws. It fixes the price at $1.25 per acre, whether the lands are outside or within a railroad grant, and it requires the repayment of the difference to those who have heretofore paid a double price for such lands. The house passed the free binding twine bill; also a bill pensioning the survivors of the Black Hawk, Cherokee, Creek and Seminole wars; also a bill appropriating $150,000 to enable the president to call on the stipulations of a treaty with Great Britain in regard to the arbitration at Paris. The diplomatic bill was then considered until adjournment.

In the senate on the 31st Mr. Morgan called up the subject of the international silver conference and Mr. Kyle, of South Dakota, addressed the senate in favor of free coinage. The conference report on the Chinese exclusion bill was then agreed to, yeas 39, nays 39. The house bill placing binding twine on the free list was then laid before the senate. Adjourned. Soon after the reading of the journal the house went into committee of the whole on the diplomatic bill. Mr. Chipman's amendment that no part of the contingent fund be used to pay any claim against the United States was adopted. The motion to strike out the appropriation of $50,000 to carry the survey of the intercontinental railway was agreed to and the bill finally passed. The senate amendments to the treaty of appropriation bill were not concurred in and a conference ordered. Adjourned.

After routine morning business the senate took up the calendar on the 4th and passed a number of bills. The Honey of Horowitz and the Pike's Toothache Drops Cure in one minute. The bill authorizing the construction of a bridge across the Oswego river near Warsaw, Mo. The proceedings were devoid of interest. After an executive session the senate adjourned. In the house the conference report on the Chinese exclusion bill was agreed to by a vote of 18 yeas to 28 nays. A resolution was adopted calling on the attorney general for information as to whether the sugar trust has violated the anti-trust law, and if not subject to prosecution. The river and harbor bill was then considered in committee of the whole until adjournment.

In the senate on the 5th Mr. Morrill presented a petition against legislation for the closing of the world's fair on Sunday and remarked on doing so that if it were so closed it would deprive the working classes of any reasonable opportunity to visit the exposition. Several local bills passed, and the house bill appropriating $150,000 to defray the expenses of the Behring sea arbitration also passed. Pending debate on the resolution to pay the Choctaws and Chickasaws for their interests in the Cheyenne and Arapahoe reservation (about $1,000,000) the senate adjourned. In the house after referring a few senate bills, the river and harbor bill was taken up in committee of the whole and debated until adjournment.

THE SHADOW OF HIS CRIME.

The Effect It Has on a Boy Murderer in the Kansas City, Mo., Jail. KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 6. - Amos Avery, the 18-year-old boy who murdered John A. Miles, of Barton county, last September, and who was brought here to save him from being lynched, is having a terrible time of it in the Second street jail. He is quiet enough during the day, but at night the shadow of his crime seems to drive him mad and he howls and yells and shrieks almost continuously. He has torn his clothing into shreds and threatens to brain the turnkey whenever that individual endeavors to quiet him. Avery shot Miles while driving along the public road and stole his team. This team seems constantly before his eyes now, and he frantically screams "Give me those horses! Give me those horses!" The boy was sentenced to be hanged April 29 last, but got a new trial.

HORSES LEFT TO STARVE.

They Were Tied to a Tree and Had Been There About Six Weeks. SPOKANE, Wash., May 5. - Three dead horses were discovered yesterday a few miles east of Ross Park, a suburb of this city. Two of them were tied to a tree, one being tied to the tail of the other. The horses had been dead probably six weeks or two months, and were equipped with saddles and bridles. They had eaten all the grass surrounding them and had almost eaten through the tree to which they were tied. They evidently perished from starvation. Investigation revealed that the horses had been saddled and bridled by Van Cleave, Dower and Patchen, three horse-thieves, with the intent of mounting them and leaving the country, but being arrested in the meantime, the horses were left to starve.

Thursday's Races. NASHVILLE, Tenn., May 6. - A beautiful day and a good programme caused the largest attendance of the meeting at West Side park yesterday. The crowd numbered at least 5,000. The talent fared extremely well, four hot favorites and one much backed second choice carrying off the money. Only one outsider won, Revenue, at 8 to 1, out-footing Goodwood. The Ivy Leaf stakes were won by Red Banner, Queen Enid, second; Issie O, third. Betting was unusually good and the track was again fast.

Prices on Crackers Cut. CHICAGO, May 5. - The American Biscuit & Manufacturing Co., the trust which controls the product of nearly two score cracker and sweet goods factories, has reduced prices on fifteen items in the sweet goods class. The reduction ranges from one-half to two cents a pound.

Missing From Topeka. TOPEKA, Kan., May 6. - W. H. Myers, a Topeka man, 72 years old, of German descent, is missing from his home in this city, and has not been seen since 10 o'clock Sunday night, when he was visited by a neighbor, Elmer Hansson.

THE RUSSET ORANGE.

Its Color is the Result of the Bite of an Insect. The russet orange is made so by a minute insect, which comes at certain times during the summer months in such vast numbers as to give a grove the appearance of being covered with brown dust. A magnifying glass shows this insect to possess a bill-like proboscis, with which it punctures the oil cells of the orange skin and causes the oil to exude, which becomes oxidized on the surface and discolors it. It acts much upon the rind of the orange as tanning upon leather, making it thinner and tougher.

It is a mistake to say they select only the "sweet fruit," for they cover an entire grove, both fruit and foliage. Some hold the theory that as they destroy the oil cells of the rind the formation of oil ceases and the fruit is made richer and sweeter in consequence. Sometimes orange-growers spray their trees with a mixture that destroys the insects, but it was found that the russet orange shipped so much better and was so much finer in quality that they abandoned it. The hammock and Indian river fruit is seldom attacked by the rust mite, hence it is not so durable for shipping, the skin being very tender. - N. Y. Post.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address, F. J.
