AT Dessau, a weaver, 65 years old, strangled his wife, who had been an invalid for many years with a painful disease, in order to free her from suffering. She entreated him to put her out of agony in this way. He made no secret of to death.

A RULE has just been introduced at all the theaters of Italy by which the performers are forbidden, under pain of fine, to receive flowers during the representation or to notice in any way the presence of the audience. This will now put an end in Italy to bouquetthrowing in the middle of a scene or at the end of a song.

GEN. LORD WOLSELEY at Schastopol lost an eye and received a severe wound, the trace of which is clearly visible on his cheek to-day. He was then a young engineer officer and stood in the advance line of intrenchments sketching a plan of the works when a round shot struck near him, shattered a gabion full of stones, killed two men and threw Lord Wolseley to the ground.

THE error by which Mr. Aldrich, who had written "a potent medicine for gods and men," was made to read in print "a patent medicine," etc., recalls to a Boston Transcript correspondent that on another occasion the same au thor wrote: "Now the old wound breaks out afresh," and was horrified to learn by the types that he-a bach-elor-had said: "Now the old woman "Now the old woman breaks out afresh."

Long heads are usually associated with the possession of great intellectual strength and mental capacity. Herr D. Ammon, however, who made examination of the cranial capacity of 5,000 soldiers at Baden, the results of which he communicated to the German men of science at Heidelberg, is of the opinfor that the size of the skull depends almost invariably on the proportions of the body. Tall men he found to always have long skulls, or skulls of medium length, whereas the short, fat men, as a rule, had round, flat heads.

CLEVER artist is Chicago named Carl Linden painted a $1 bill so accurately that when a secret service officer and it he thought it was a genuine bill inned on the canvas, and when be found out it was only a picture he seized it as a counterfeit. Of course a picture painted upon canvas could never be passed as a bill on anybody, and be-sides, as the painting is valued at $150, no one would exchange it for $1, and yet it is said that as the law stands the work is technically a counterfeit, and the artist is liable to punishment for painting it

SUNDAY SCHOOL UNION.

Missionary Work of the American Organ-PHILADELPHIA, June 17.—The year of missionary work for the neglected children of our country, in the American Sunday school union, which closed March 1, 1892, was very fruitful in blessing. Sixteen hundred and sixty-four new Sunday schools were organized in places that were previously entirely destitute of religious privileges, con-

rs. Aid was given to 2,127 other schools, with 14,302 teachers and 135,-299 scholars; while, in addition to this, 4,536 schools that had been before reported were aided, with 25,790 teachers and 299,206 scholars. Besides all this direct Sunday school work, the missionaries of the society distributed by sale and gift 6,458 Bibles and 9,115 Testaments. They made 56,582 visits to families for religious conversation and prayer, and delivered 12,474 sermons and addresses. Sixty-six hundred and seventy-eight conversions were reported as resulting from the evangelistic labors of these earnest and faithful men; and 216 churches have been developed from the Sunday schools established by them, while regular preaching services have been secured in many other places as an outgrowth of this Sunday school work. It is utterly impossible to estimate the far-reaching and beneficent results of such a missionary work as this, and all accomplished in one year.

FATHER MOLLINGER DEAD. The Renowned Faith Cure Priest Passed

PITTSBURGH. Pa., June 16 .- Father Mollinger, the renowned faith cure priest, died yesterday. He was pros-trated Tuesday (St. Anthony's day) and yesterlay an operation was per-formed for rupture of the stomach but it was useless. •

Father Mollinger was born of Dutch parents, from whom he inherited considerable wealth. He only recently attained his 61st birthday. The little church in which he had labored for years is known as the Church of the Most Holy name of Jesus, and is situated at Troy hill, not far from the heart of Pittsburgh. Father Mollinger years ago obtained the name of being a miracle worker. Miraculous cures were credited to him and thousands flocked to his little church to receive his blessing, although he never claimed to be a miracle monger. The feast of St. Anthony of Padau had long been the day which the priest physician set apart for the reception of his patients from all over the country.
