Sweden is the most Protestant country, for out of a population of 4,774,409, only 810 are Roman Catholics, or 16 out of every 100,000; and next to it in this respect is Norway, which is under the Roman Catholies out of 1,818,853 inhabitants, or 27 out of every 100,000. In both of these countries the mass of the population adhere to the Lutheran Protestant church.

A CURIOSITY in the botanical gardens at Washington is a plant afflicted with genuine consumption of the lungs or aves. There are three species of this, all of which are being cultivated for his peculiarity; it is the custom of the gardeners to throw away all that seem ealthy. The disease first appears as a white spot on a single leaf, which inases and gradually spreads over the entire leaf and then to its neighbors.

According to advices received from Ounalaska things are going to be lively in the Behring sea this season. Already there is a report that the war ship Mohi-can has fired upon a runaway sealer. The indications are that a number of the poachers will defy the fleet and enter the Behring sea at the risk of seizure and imprisonment. The migrating herds are now near the passes in the closed sea and the cruisers are following them.

Ax English scientist has made a calculation about the time it will take to till the world with all the people it will hold. SHUT OUT.

The Homestead Workmen Forestalled by the Firm. PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 1.-The Homestead shut down went into operation yesterday. There were 3,000 idle tonnage men on the streets and they have invited the mechanical department, day laborers and watchmen to join them. They expect the men will do so, and if so, the entire plant will be idle.

The firm discharged all the employes at midnight and notified them to report for their pay at the office on Saturday. By this action the Carnegies have clearly forestalled the men and by making it a lockout instead of a strike, have placed them on the defensive. The streets are crowded, but everything is quiet.

As predicted, the sheet iron manufacturers and Amalgamated association succeeded in settling their differences at a conference held last night. Mutual concessions were made. The settlement affects about twenty-five companies and 10,000 men. The Oliver & Roberts Wire Co. signed the scale yes-terday morning. The firm employs 300

During the lock-out every means possible will be used to preserve the peace, and the end is desired by both the mill owners and the Carnegie company. The Amalgamated association has sworn in twenty extra men to do police duty, without pay, and the company has added a number of watchmen to protect their property. It is thought the latter are all well armed and will keep a sharp look-out day and night.

The trains are being watched by committees of the association and there are men stationed all over the country at manufacturing points to inform the organization here should any gang of workmen board the train for Homestead.

A committee of workmen called upon the Pittsburgh, McKeesport & Youghiogeny railroad authorities and requested that no trains bearing men to take the places of the strikers be stopped in the limits of the yard. The request was refused, the officials stating that the yard of the Carnegie steel works was a regular station. The refusal of the company to comply with the wishes of the men caused great excitement and many threats of violence were made against the railroad company.

The scale under which the members of the Amalgamated association have been working for the past year expired at midnight with a condition of affairs confronting both manufacturers and workers that has not occurred in recent years. The scale to govern wages in the iron and steel mills employing union men for the year commencing today remains not alone unsigned, but exhibits such a wide divergence in the prices demanded by each side as to place a settlement very far off and probably difficult to arrive at.

No immediate effects of the differences between the manufacturers and their men will be visible for some time. The majority of the mills will shut down for repairs and two weeks will elapse before any attempt to recommence operations will be made.

There is still some hope that during the interval the iron scale may have been mutually agreed upon.

A CYCLONE EAST.

Two Men Killed and Several Injured at Gloucester, N. J. GLOUCESTER, N. J., July 1 .- Yesterday afternoon a windstorm or cyclone struck this city from the southwest, doing great damage to property and killing two persons and injuring three For an hour or more before the storm burst threatening clouds filled the western sky to 'he zenith, with an occasional flash of lightning. The air was close and heavy and the light wind was blow-· couds before it with hardly a per-able movement. By 1 o'clock the neavens were almost covered and people began to hurry toward places of safety. Shortly after 1 o'clock a few persons who were on the beach were panic stricken, seeing a black cloud of dreadful funnel shape rushing across the river in a southerly direction.

With almost incredible swiftness the cyclone bore down on this city. The cloud did not approach with a direct forward movement, but bounded from the water like a gigantic football. The path of the cyclone was about 400 feet wide and whenever it struck the water it lashed it into foaming waves. Fortunately no ships were in the path of the wind and it wasted its fury upon the river. In the meanwhile the people upon the beach rushed for shelter. Some jumped into the river and, as the cyclone passed over them, they dived into the water. Patrick Highlands was among those on the bench. He ran towards Bogen's pavilion. The wind, however, was close on his heels and as he dashed into the building the cyclone struck it. There was a crash of falling walls and Highlands fell dead across the doorway with his brains beaten out with a heavy girder. A toboggan and merry-go-round received part of the debris and were wrecked. Behind Bogen's was the humble home of Hamilton. Hamilton, wife and daughter were about to sit down to dinner. With appalling suddenness the greater part of Bogen's pavilion was hurled upon the house, crushing it to the ground. Hamilton was instantly killed and his wife and daughter badly injured and will prob-ably be crippled for life.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., June 30.-It is now stated that the reported execution of the celebrated Teresa Urrea, the "Saint of Socoroco," some days ago is untrue. The story was purposely circulated by the Mexican authorities in order to quiet the excitement among the restless Indians who were becoming dangerous and were flocking to Nogales in great numbers to see their "patron saint" and receive her wonderful treatment for all diseases. "Saint Teresa" did attempt to return to her old home in the mountains of Sonora and was intercepted by the police, who gave out the report that she had been shot. She was again transported to the United States border and warned that if she ventured into Mexico again she would be put to death. She has taken up her abode in Nogales, Ariz., just across the boundary line. It is estimated that she was visited yesterday by fully 5,000 Mexicans and Indians. Many came from interior points in Mexico to receive treatment for infirmities and diseases.

ANOTHER DEATH.

Ferd Colberg, the Twelith Victim of the HARRISHURG, Pa., June 27.-Saturday's frightful wreck on the Pennsylvania road within a few hundred yards of the Union station, involving the first and second section of the western express, was almost the sole topic of conversation wherever persons were gathered. Several city pastors made the awful catastrophe the theme of their discourses from the pulpit. Most of the injured who were able to travel have left for their homes, and the eleven persons still at the hospital are in a fair way to recovery. Another death, making the list of dead twelve, occurred at the hospital this morning. The twelfth victim was Fred Coldberg, of Brooklyn. He was a large man and the partition walls of his nose seem to have been crushed intohis head. His skull was also fractured and there were internal injuries.
