

Inciting Anarchy.

Perhaps it is fortunate for the country that the appeals of the imprisoned Chicago anarchists for release and the efforts of their friends in their behalf have not yet brought about their liberation. The presence of the three ringleaders of the Haymarket tragedy at the labor mass meeting held in Chicago on Sunday, would in all probability have precipitated another bloody out-break. The president of the meeting said that as labor creates all wealth, all wealth belongs to labor, and that instead of the workmen asking Carnegie for a raise in wages they should tell him to get out, as the mills belong to them. "I do not say hang Carnegie or Pinkerton," he continued, "there is a time for everything." The execution of Parsons and Spies and the rest was referred to as "judicial murder that took away five of our best men. We cannot afford to have any more incipient revolutions," he said, "the next one must be complete."

Such incendiary talk at a time of perfect quiet would probably not be at all dangerous, but when the masses in a state of excitement it is liable to produce serious results. The experience of the past prove that public danger lurks under such reckless utterances. Public sympathy has not been denied to their ironworkers at Homestead in their resistance to the Pinkerton hirelings, but it must be understood that public approval of such sentiments as those expressed at Chicago is impossible.

The same mistaken notion concerning the rights of the laborer are responsible for the slaughter in the mines of Idaho, and there can be no doubt that the striking miners were spurred on by the intemperate talk of political demagogues who seek to array the workmen against the republican party.

The rights of the workmen must be protected; he must be permitted to employ every peaceful means to gain his ends; but it will never be conceded that he has a right to take possession of the property of his employer by force. Such doctrine incites anarchy and strikes at the basis of all our institutions.—Bee.

Purify Your Blood

The importance of keeping the blood in a pure condition is universally known, and yet there are very few people who have perfectly pure blood. The taint of scrofula, salt rheum, or other foul humor is hereditarily transmitted for generations, causing untold suffering, and we also accumulate poison and germs of disease from the air we breathe, the food we eat, or the water we drink. There is nothing proven more conclusively than the positive power of Hood's Sarsaparilla over all diseases of the blood. This medicine, when fairly tried, does expel every trace of scrofula or salt rheum, removes the taint which causes catarrh, neutralizes the acidity and cures rheumatism, drives out the germs of malaria, blood poisoning, etc. It also stimulates and enriches the blood, thus overcoming that tired feeling, and building up the whole system. Thousands testify to the superiority of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a blood purifier. Full information and statements of cures sent free.

He who Wants Health Wants Everything!

There are millions of persons in this country who suffer from chronic diseases or an affliction which incapacitates them from business, and frequently makes life a burden. Many of whom would place themselves under different treatment if they were acquainted with the fact that a new treatment was in reach of them. Remedial agents for many of these ills we have endeavored to secure. Of such we offer to the afflicted one, on a business like basis, the management of which we trust will be tempered by a moral and philanthropic principle.

We practice the Brinkerhoff treatment of all forms of RECTAL DISEASES. We personally owe a debt of gratitude to the father and founder of this system and not to publish to the world such knowledge, would be to do mankind an injustice. This is the remedy that thousands bless, and one that I have secured at great expense, tried and tested before offering it to you for your consideration and investigation. Descriptive pamphlets sent free on application. Office consultation free. Names of parties who have been cured cheerfully given on application.

FARMERS ATTENTION.

All who are contemplating getting a harvester should see the Davis Platform Binder before purchasing, as it is the leading harvester of the day, the following points of excellence will show its superior qualities over all other binders. The chief point is there is no elevation of the grain at all, it simply binds all the grain at an elevation of not over nine inches above the stubble. Thus saving the power necessary to elevate the grain, making a saving of from one to one and a half horses in the draft of the machine.

There is a complete separation between the bundle being bound and the rest of the grain of nearly three feet, thus doing away with the tangle and hanging together of bundles so common with many binders. No other binder has this quality.

A most wonderful feature of the Davis Binder, the only one ever put on a grain binder, is the reel rake, which enables the driver to handle down and tangled grain with ease and make the bundles smooth and straight. We challenge any man to produce a set of grain that the Davis Binder cannot harvest better and make every sheaf straighter and more symmetrical than can be done by any other binder.

We don't thresh out and waste grain as other binders do, as we don't have the friction necessary to elevate the grain, and thus save enough grain to the farmer to pay for the entire cost of harvesting and also pay for the cost of seeding the next crop.

The Davis uses no canvas aprons at all, instead uses studded belts, that can be loosened at night or tightened in the morning, or after a rain, in just one second, thus saving much valuable time used in tightening the canvas of the other binders. The driver can raise or lower the center bar without leaving his seat, so as to cut the longest or shortest grain, and at the same time keep the platform in proper position to handle the grain.

There is no weight on the horses necks from the tongue, as it is perfectly loose, there is absolutely no side draft at all. Will bind tighter and with less end than any other binder. The binder is a steel binder.

The Davis needs no folding apparatus for transportation about the farms as it will pass through any eleven foot gate.

The Davis binder is fully warranted. Before purchasing a binder, call and see the Davis at Guilford's blacksmith shop in Red Cloud on North Webster street, at Hamme's old stand.
