ABSOLUTELY PURE

Tree Culture.
Now the question is: Why has fruit growing in this country been a partial failure prior to four years ago?
1st. The sectional or root grafting system, the majority of the people supposed that a root grafted tree, was a crown grafted tree, and did not know that there was such a thing as a tree being grafted on a short piece of root.
Charles Downing in the great work of his life "Fruit and Fruit Trees of America," says: "Large quantities of trees are propagated by using pieces of roots thus forming from the root of one stock two, three or more grafts, this practice although quite common, is of very doubtful value by prominent horticulturists considered as tending to debilitate and reduce vitality, the seat of vital life in fact resting the natural crown of the seedling and that once destroyed cannot be renewed."
No higher authorities have ever lived in America or in the world than Downing. Now as it is a well-known fact that a large per cent of the fruit trees in this country that stand leaning to the north-east is caused by the tree being on a short piece of a root and planted shallow convinces me that Mr. Downing is right, as a tree never stretches upward or downward in growth, but adds to, and besides the vital life being destroyed there is no trunk root to hold the tree permanent, therefore leaving the tree subject to be turned to and fro by the winds; whereas had the tree been grafted in the crown and on the whole root it is impossible to transplant without setting the tree deep in the ground; therefore the lower end of the trunk root will be down in the subsoil or clay to hold the tree permanent horizontal roots will be near the surface and get the benefit of the soil, where they ought to be giving the tree its life support. Plant an apple seed and when the sprout starts at germ of the seed as the sprout grows upward the root will grow downward and when the tree is 5 years old by digging that tree up and tracing the top root to the lower end in a reasonable loose ground, it will be at least 3 to 4 feet long which teaches me that Mr. Downing is right.
2d. The majority of the trees had been planted by inexperienced planters and a small hole would be dug and the trees planted very shallow and when a dry season comes the trees would wither.
3d. Some varieties will succeed here.
4th. Little or no care taken after planting, there are various other reasons, but an important point is if we are not horticulturists and do not understand the business, we should counsel them that do and get the benefit of their experience. We should start right then and keep in the middle of the road, and we will have no trouble in fruit growing. Such is my enthusiasm. W. E. MORLAN.

Like a Waterfall After the Grip

Tremendous Hoarding in the Head
—Pain in the Stomach.
"To C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass."
"Two years ago I had a severe attack of the Grip, which left me in a terribly weak and debilitated condition. Last winter I had another attack and was again very badly off, my health nearly wrecked. My appetite was all gone, I had no strength, felt tired all the time, had disagreeable roaring noises in my head, like a waterfall. I also had severe headaches and severe sinking pains in my stomach. I took medicines without benefit, until having heard so much about Hood's Sarsaparilla, I concluded to try it, and the result is very gratifying. All the disagreeable effects of the Grip are gone, I am free from pains and aches, and believe Hood's Sarsaparilla is surely curing my catarrh. I recommend it to all." Geo. W. Cook, St. Johnsbury, Vt.
