CURRENT COMMENT.

A BILL for the construction of the Oklahoma Midland railway has been introduced in congress.

REPRESENTATIVE HEARD favors an extra session of congress to pave the way for effective work at the regular session.

INTERNATIONAL fish commissioners at Detroit, Mich., have adopted resolutions looking to the conservation of fish life.

ANDREW LANG says there are no living writers who can write good fairy tales, because they don't believe enough in their own stories.

R. HENRY TAYLOR, an inventor of baby carriages, was found by the police of Waltham, Mass., in a starving condition and mentally unbalanced.

JERUSALEM has been enjoying a boom since the completion of the railroad that connects it with Jaffa. Over three hundred houses, hotels, stores and residences have been erected.

FREDERICK SHON, the brave sailor who planted the first French flag upon the soil of Algeria on June 14, 1830, died recently at the age of 85 years. The French government rewarded and cared for the old man, and he was loaded with decorations.

ROBERT PECK, of Doholomega, Ga., wanted to get married, but his finances were so low that he could not parade the necessary $1.50. His brother-in-law, who is 35 years old, went out on the public square, mounted a dry goods box, made such a strong appeal that the crowd chipped in the necessary money, and Robert and Nancy Jane Higgins were duly married.

THE FAMOUS Bryn Mawr school near Philadelphia has for its medical director a lady, Dr. Kate Campbell Hurd, who is the daughter of a physician, and after her college course had practical experience in hospital and dispensary in Boston, then took up athletics under Prof. Sargent, and finally visited England, France, Germany and Scandinavia to study her specialties further.

SECRETARY FORTER, of the state department, has been informed of the appointment of Gen. Cesar Canevaro as Peruvian minister at Washington. Gen. Canevaro is one of the most prominent citizens of Peru and has been a candidate for president of that republic. He was one of the leading military spirits in the late war between Chili and Peru, and made a gallant record.

Two years ago the Louisiana legislature passed the "Jim Crow" law making it compulsory on railroads running through the state to provide separate coaches for white and colored passengers. A number of prominent colored men subscribed liberally toward raising a fund to test the constitutionality of the act to finally settle the matter. The supreme court has sustained the constitutionality of the law.

Mud baths were common among the ancients, the mud on the seashore and the slime of the rivers being especially prized for this purpose. The Tartars and Egyptians still use them in certain diseases. They are taken by many people at places on the continent of Europe, among which may be named Driburg, Elison, Neundorf, Pyrmont, Spa, Marienbad, Franzensbrunn, Eger, Kissinger and Teplitz.

The Germans are trying the experiment of introducing coolie labor into east Africa. They recently landed 500 Chinese coolies at Tanga, whence they were taken some distance inland to the cotton and coffee plantations at Lewa and Damere. This experiment may prove a disastrous failure, as it is not at all certain that the Chinese can thrive under the unfavorable conditions they will meet in equatorial Africa.

GEN. C. C. WARREN, of Montana, says in regard to the gold shipments: "This scare about so much gold leaving the country does not frighten residents of Montana who know the mineral possibilities of the state. Why, Montana can produce $150,000,000 a year in gold if forced to it. There are no less than 150 gold properties in the state that are paying claims. From these mines Montana alone can produce gold enough to pay the national debt."

INQUIRIES are daily reaching congressmen from all sections of the country concerning the manner of distributing the proposed new issue of the war records series. The law provides that these volumes be mailed from the war department upon lists furnished by each senator and representative. Similar inquiries are numerous about a new edition of Col. Kellogg's maps of the Chickamauga and Chattanooga campaigns now numbering fifteen. These, when issued, will be distributed mainly upon the requests of congressmen.

GEN. LONGSTREET'S experience goes back to the Mexican war, when many officers whom he afterward counted as the enemy were his comrades and warm personal friends. His friend Frank A. Burr has often told the story of the attachment between the general and Gen. Grant, which, dating back to those famous Mexican battlefields, recurred to Grant's memory shortly before Appomattox and led to an interchange of invitations with the humane object of avoiding further bloodshed. And when at last, in the bitter hour of the Confederate chieftain's humiliation, after the formalities of the capitulation had been settled, Longstreet tells how Grant linked arms with him, and as they walked away together recalled their old friendship by saying in the old way, "Pete, let's go back to the good old days and play a game of brag as we used."

WAR IN MEXICO.

Revolutionists Put a Guard of Soldiers to Flight.

A BLOODY BATTLE IMMINENT.

International Action Wanted—The Revolutionists Capture United States Deputy Marshals in Zapata County, Texas.

NEUVA LAREDO, Mex., Dec. 26.—It is now definitely known that there is at least one band of revolutionists, numbering about 200, on Mexican soil, a dispatch having been received here from Guerrero stating that a detachment of soldiers stationed five miles from Camargo were attacked Saturday by the revolutionists. The soldiers were so greatly outnumbered that they attempted no defense but retired in panic-stricken order to Camargo, where the remainder of their troop was stationed. The revolutionists kept up a constant fire on the government soldiers, but have not yet attacked Camargo. It is reported that several soldiers were wounded.

Reinforcements have been ordered to Camargo and a bloody battle will be fought unless the revolutionists again seek refuge on United States soil.

Gov. Reyes, commander of this military zone, has written a letter to President Porfirio Diaz recommending that the Mexican government make an arrangement with the United States government for the pursuit of border revolutionists over the international boundary line. The military of this country say the arrangement can be made. Under the existing law the outlaws when hotly pressed by the troops of one country escape capture by crossing the river, where they are perfectly safe until discovered by the troops of federal authorities on the other side, when they are chased across the river again. This game of hide and seek has been going on along the lower Rio Grande border for the past seventeen months and the Mexican military authorities think it time to adopt some new measure for stopping the troublesome raids.

UNITED STATES MARSHALS DEFEATED. NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 26.—The Times-Democrat's Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, says the Mexican revolutionists have committed another bold outrage on United States soil.

A lengthy dispatch was received here from Guerrero stating that reliable information had just reached there of an engagement in Zapata county, Tex., between a posse of United States marshals and about 300 revolutionists, which resulted in the defeat of the marshals and the capture of two of the latter, who are being held as prisoners by the outlaws.

Last Wednesday this posse of marshals under the leadership of Pink Barnhill, who is regarded as one of the bravest officers on the lower Rio Grande border, left their camp about forty miles below Carazzo and made a raid upon a ranch. They captured Julian Palacios, one of the leaders of the recent revolutionary movement and started back to their camp with him.

They arrived at the camp safely and kept guard over their important prisoner Wednesday night and Thursday. Just before daylight Friday morning the marshals were attacked by about 300 well armed and equipped revolutionists. The deputy marshals made a desperate resistance, but were overpowered and compelled to make a retreat. The revolutionists released Palacios and captured two of the deputies who remained behind the remainder of the posse in the fight.

It is reported that a number of the revolutionists were killed and wounded. There is also a rumor here that the two deputies who were taken prisoners and their bodies riddled with bullets, but no confirmation of this last mentioned rumor has been received.

A DANGEROUS PASTIME.

The Criminal Exuberance of Fools Shooting at Railway Trains.

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Dec. 26.—A wreck occurred at Greenland, a flag station on the Frisco road five miles south of here. A freight train going south was passing there when a young man, supposed to be George Pierson, flourished a gun and the engineer supposed he was going to shoot the headlight out, a piece of fun frequently indulged in in that settlement, but he allowed the engine to pass and fired into the train. The bullet penetrated an oil tank car and exploded. This wrecked the train and burned sixteen cars into ashes. The oil spread the fire and it was with great difficulty that the citizens saved the town from burning. Part of the cars that burned were loaded and partly empty. About 800 feet of track were destroyed.

Poisoned Convicts Dying.

LITTLE ROCK, Dec. 26.—Another convict who partook of the poisoned food at Helena has died, making the total number of victims up to date nine. Saturday Abraham Green, colored, who was taken ill at Helena, went into convulsions. All efforts to save him failed, and he lingered in terrible agony until he died. During the night three other convicts grew gradually worse, and small hopes are entertained for their recovery. The government will offer a large reward for information that will lead to the arrest and conviction of the parties who poisoned the men.

Crooks Escape.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 26.—Edward, alias "Speedy," Murphy, Edward O'Connell and James Morrissey, alias "Candy Alley," three notorious and dangerous crooks, broke jail in the district station at Seventh and Carr streets at an early hour yesterday morning. They managed to make their way to the Carr street side, but in jumping from a window Murphy fell and broke his leg. He was rearrested, but the other two men got away.

COLD SNAP.

Jack Frost Repletes His Possessions in the West.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Dec. 26.—It was a wretched Christmas yesterday so far as the weather went, and the elements seemed in conspiracy to make it chill and drear and desolate. In the morning the sky was hidden by a thick dun veil. The wind, cold and raw, came from the north, with occasional blasts from the far northwest British possessions and intermittent chills from Ontario and Quebec—shifting to strike vulnerable points of Christmas celebrators, but never getting many points away from the pole.

Just as the noon chimes rang, came the snow, filling the air and putting clean raiment upon everything out of doors.

As the day wore on it grew colder, touching zero at 12 o'clock. At 3 this morning it was 6 below and at 5 o'clock it was 15 below.

Dispatches show the storm to have been general and very severe all over Kansas. It came from the north and has played havoc with the wires in many places. So many operators being away from their posts for Christmas makes reports from many points impossible, but the Western Union in a general way declares the storm very severe.

A dispatch from Washington says: The temperature fell rapidly during the forenoon and middle of the day over all districts east of the Mississippi river and in the southwest began to rise very rapidly in the afternoon, with increasing northwesterly winds and rapidly falling temperature over the lake regions, central valleys and the southwest. An extensive area of very high pressure is moving rapidly southward from the Dakotas and will probably cover the eastern states, the central valley, the lower Mississippi valley and Texas during Monday night, with very low temperature.

SLATER'S INCINERATION.

The Business Part of a Missouri Town Guttered.

SLATER, Mo., Dec. 26.—The business portion of this little city was visited by a disastrous fire and before the flames could be controlled twelve of the leading mercantile houses were in ruins. The total loss is estimated at $100,000, with an insurance of $65,000. Additional reports may, however, swell the value of the property destroyed to $125,000.

The fire was first discovered at about 3:30 o'clock burning briskly in the toy and notion store owned by R. L. Holloway. The alarm was immediately given and despite the increasing inclemency of the weather, every man in town was soon on the ground. By this time Rosenthal's meat market adjoining Holloway's store was in flames and the citizens directed their efforts toward preventing the spreading of the flames. Several bucket brigades were quickly formed and the surrounding business houses were soon deluged. Nothing, however, could stay the progress of the flames and the fire rapidly ate its way through the block, consuming everything within reach. When the end of the block was reached the fire burned itself out.

THE CHILDREN'S RIGHTS.

Offering of Whites and Reds Allowed the Rights of Full Bloods.

EL RENO, Ok., Dec. 26.—In the case of Morrison vs. Wilson in the United States court here, Judge Burford held that the children born to a white citizen of the United States who had married a female member of the Arapahoe tribe might still be a member of that tribe of Indians and entitled to an allotment under the treaty as a member of the tribe, and that the laws of descent in Oklahoma applied to Indians, and that the administrator of an Indian decedent was entitled to the possession of the lands so allotted. The decision was rendered in an ejectment suit involving 100 acres of land adjoining El Reno, of great value, and is of great importance, as similar questions are pending in all the courts of the west where allotments have recently been made. The decision is contrary to the decisions in the northwest under similar treaty with the Sioux.

Land Office Work Decreasing.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26.—The statement of the commissioner of the general land office in his annual report to the effect that the work of that office is up to date was regarded as a gratifying condition, but the sequel is not quite so agreeable, because the land office officials are confronted with the problem of how to keep employed the present force of clerks. Two years ago the weekly issue of land patents was approximately 3,000, and this number has now fallen to less than 1,000 per week. It is expected that early in the new year there will be a reduction in the force from 20 to 30 per cent.

Two Ladies Killed.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Dec. 26.—Mrs. Mary Noonan and Mrs. John Schwarzneger met a horrible death at Sieman & Bro.'s book store. They were ascending in the elevator, when the boy in charge lost control and it shot rapidly upwards. The ladies, becoming frightened, attempted to jump off at the third floor, but fell backward into the shaft and were hurled to their death 90 feet below.

Famine in Sweden.

STOCKHOLM, Dec. 26.—The famine in the government of Uleaborg threatens to cause an exodus of the poor people. Hundreds have gone to the coast of the gulf of Bothnia to seek means of emigrating. Uleaborg City is crowded with starving peasants.

CONDENSED TELEGRAMS.

$100 Reward $100.

The reader of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.
