WEATHER FORECASTS

Furnished Expressly for The Chief for Webster County

(Copyrighted by W. T. Foster.) ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Sept. 15.— My last bulletin gave forecasts of the storm wave to cross the continent from September 14th to 18th, and the next will reach the Pacific coast about the 18th, across the western mountains about the close of the 19th, the great central valleys from the 20th, to 22d, and the eastern states about the 23rd.

This disturbance will be a full ay-erage in force, and will increase as it nears the Atlantic coast.

The fifth storm wave of September will reach the Pacific coast about the 24th, cross the western mountains by close of the 25th the great central valleys from the 26th to 28th, and the eastern states about the 29th.

This disturbance will be at its greatest force about the 26th, while in the western part of the great central valleys.

The warm waves will cross the western mountains about the 21st and 27th the great central valleys about the 23d and 29th, and the eastern states about the 25th and October 1st.

Light frosts may be expected in northern latitudes, following the storm wave, about 21st in the northwestern mountains, 23rd in the upper Mississippi valley, and 25th in the northern New England states.

Those who desire more particular details can obtain by weather chart for September or October by sending stamped and addressed envelope.

SUN SPOTS.
A. Gullimin, in his work on the sun, speaking of La Rue, Balfour, Stewart and Lowry's writings, says of them.
"They appear to have observed that when one of the planets cross the plane of the sun's equator, it drags as it were, the spots into the equatorial region. The spots spread toward the poles, on the contrary, when the planets pass away from the equatorial plane."

Touching meteorology, the weather on our earth, the above quotation contains the germ of the greatest truth ever uttered. If a planet draws the sun spots—which are the same as the high barometers of our storm waves—toward the equator of the sun then the moon, which is a planet to the earth, draws our storm waves toward the earth's equator when our moon is in a similar position relative to the earth that the planet occupied relative to the sun.

All nature's laws are the same everywhere. From Alcyon, the central star of the Pleiades, which is said to shine with a light equal to twelve thousand suns like ours, to the little meteor, whose life dies out in a flash of light when it strikes our atmosphere and is destroyed, the same universal law rules supreme, and these diversified heavenly bodies are of the same materials, all came into existence in the same manner, and when we discover a law that applies to one we know that it will apply to all the others, and the assertion of these great astronomers that the planets have a marked influence on the sun spots is strong evidence going to prove that our moon and planets affect the weather of our earth.

But those astronomers and our Washington weather seers make a mistake in not recognizing the sun as being precisely the same nature as our earth, the only difference being in their sizes and magnetic forces.
Other astronomers, who suspicion that sun spots are sun storms, make the mistake in comparing them to our storm centers alone, when the great sun spots should be compared with our high barometers, our clearing weather.

A scientific writer in Belgravia says: When Mercury passes between Venus and the sun, the spots come forth in the fullest splendor, and there is more than a suspicion that Mars, in conjunction with one of the inferior planets, is influential in increasing the area of the spottedness."

This last writer probably should have qualified his statements, for such conjunction of the planets certainly have greater influence in producing sun spots at times than at other times.
The conjunction of the planets is the base of Prof. Mansill's system of meteorology, and he recognizes that a conjunction, when one of the planets is at perihelion, has greater influence than at other times. Mansill's mistake however, lies in assigning to the planets their greatest influence when at perihelion.

The planet, when at its nearest approach to the sun has an increased effect on sun and the other planets, but in altogether a different manner, and with much less effect than when at certain other points of its orbit. At one point in their orbits the planets and satellites cause atmosphere to expand or contract, while at other positions they excite electric action and produce local storms, tornadoes, hurricanes, etc.

Worse than an Outrage.

William Newby, who enlisted in the Fortieth Illinois volunteers August 8, 1861, and who after severe and almost fatal wounds at Shilo was imprisoned at Andersonville, and who after years of wandering as a demented and crippled tramp returned to his home was, a few days ago, sentenced to a term of two years in the penitentiary, because some one said he was not William Newby. The story has been frequently told. On the trial 135 witnesses, thirty-seven of whom were old comrades in the Fortieth regiment, twenty-two relatives and the remainder old friends and neighbors who knew him before the war, swore that the man on trial was William Newby.
He was also recognized by seven ex-prisoners at Andersonville who knew him as a prisoner. In spite of this evidence the jury found the accused guilty of personating another man, and Judge Allen last week denied the application for a new trial, and sentenced the crippled old soldier to two years in the penitentiary.

This is worse than an outrage, and the members of the Grand Army of the Republic are making an effort to raise money to pay the expenses for an appeal to the Supreme Court. The relatives of Mr. Newby are none of them well-to-do and they sacrificed nearly everything to defend him in the recent trial. They have absolutely nothing to expend in further proceedings, and if a fund is not raised by some one to pay the necessary expenses the unfortunate old soldier goes to the penitentiary as a common criminal.

The lawyers who have had charge of the case, among whom is General James McCartney, of Chicago, late Attorney General of Illinois, have given their services without pay, but there are certain expenses that must be met. The Grand Army veterans have become interested in the matter and have resolved that they will not permit a crippled old soldier who served a term at Andersonville, and who had both mind and body impaired in the government service, to be sent to prison for the want of money.
More than old soldiers should be in-interested in such a case. Every man who believes in common fairness and decency should contribute something to prevent the consummation of this outrage. Those who desire to contribute may send their money to Wm.

Crome, Fairfield, Ill., or to General Charles W. Parry, Mount Vernon, Illinois. Many Chicagoans have contributed, and if a general interest is manifested the case will be appealed and William Newby will be released from the penitentiary and the State saved from disgrace of sending a half-crazed old soldier to prison.

Resolutions

Of respect of Sherman Circle No. 3, Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic of Red Cloud, Nebraska.

WHEREAS: By the death of Bro. Wm.
Huffman, our esteemed sister has lost a good and loving husband, and her daughter, a kind and loving father, be it RESOLVED: That we the members of Sherman Circle No. 3, Ladies of G. A. R. extend our sympathy to the bereaved widow, daughter, his brother and family in this their hour of sorrow and affliction.

RESOLVED: That we fully comprehend the loss of one near and dear, we trust that this expression of condolence may cast a ray of sunlight in the desolate home and hearts of those who now mourn.

RESOLVED: That we hope they may be enabled to realize that their loss is his eternal gain and be comforted in the thought of meeting the loved one in a better life where there will be no parting, nor tears can come.

RESOLVED: That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the sorrowing widow and daughter and to the RED CLOUD CHIEF for publication and be spread upon the minutes of the secretary's book.

A Good Thing to Keep at Hand.

(From the Troy (Kansas) Chief) Some years ago we were very much subject to severe spells of cholera morbus; and now when we feel any of the symptoms that usually precede that ailment, such as sickness at the stomach diarrhoea, etc., we become scared. We have found Chamberlain's colic, cholera and diarrhoea remedy the very thing to straighten one out in such cases, and always keep it about. We are not writing this for a pay testimonial, but to let our readers know what is a good thing to keep in the house. For sale by Dayo & Grice.

A Fine Farm For Sale. A Great Bargain.

If you want to buy a fine home you should not fail to see this farm. It will go for $5000 if sold soon. Half cash and half on time, or will trade for valuable property. The house is 16x24 2 stories with L 14x20 with porches on each side.
Good water, fine outhouse. Big barn 24x40 2 stories; cob and coal house 14x16; granary 12x14; corn crib 8x32; windmill (new). School house within 40 rods. 15 miles from county seat, two trading towns within 8 miles. If sold soon will sell everything on the farm including 11 cattle, 11 horses and mules, 17 hogs, farm machinery, buggies, etc. 100 acres well fenced with galvanized wire. Apply at once to the RED CLOUD CHIEF, Red Cloud, Nebraska.

No person should travel without a box
