He is a very pleasant gentleman and has many friends. Mrs. Dr. Snowden, who has been visiting with Mrs. L. H. Fort, has returned to Modesto, California, after an extended visit in this city. The people of Red Cloud are prepared to put down all kinds of vice, and hereafter make it warm for evil doers. Let the good work go on. Mr. and Mrs. Sanborn of Edgar were visiting with the families of M. W. Dickerson and D. L. Groat this week. They talk of moving to Red Cloud. Do not buy a sewing machine until you see that the Singer. No other machine equals it for durability and fine work.—W. F. Hull, agent, Red Cloud. STATE TREASURER Bartley has been sued by a Crete bank because he has not given them part of the state funds, for which they have put up bonds, according to law. Mrs. Frank Stokes, about three months ago, stuck a sand burr in her finger, and little was thought of it until recently her arm began swelling and now gives her much trouble. On Sunday night, a fire in Riverton burned the lively stable of H. Banks, the skating rink belonging to Mrs. Fred Loaf, and a blacksmith shop, said to belong to C. H. Potter of Red Cloud. The loss was not so very heavy, but would have been greater had it not been for the city water works. The fire is supposed to have been incendiary.

LOCAL NEWS.

See Dr. Cullimore's dates in Red Cloud. Look at Cotting's window displays this week. A fine biscuit flour at McNitt's, 70 cents a sack. W. R. Adams of Hastings was on our streets Saturday. S. E. Cozad has been on the sick list, but is better now. Dr. Spencer adds his name to THE CHIEF list. Thanks. John Myers and A. O. Berg returned from Hebron this week. Look at those beautiful fringed curtains at Cotting's, only 50c. Henry C. Richmond is able to be up again after a week's illness. The S. of V. band gave our citizens a fine musical treat on Saturday. Mrs. Jesslyn of Orleans was visiting in the city for the first of the week. Watch for the program of the S. of V. band concert. It will be published next week. "Orange Blossom" is a painless cure for all diseases peculiar to women. Sold by C. L. Cotting. The ladies of Red Cloud have organized a reading circle. They will meet every Saturday. The B. & M. has many thousand ties in the yards, and we look any time now for a new railroad. T. G. Wilder, F. W. Ailes, John Wilhelmson, John Street and W. P. Kenady have renewed for 1894. Mel M. Tingley has gone to McCook on a visit. From there he goes to Iowa, to be gone three weeks. Cotting keeps the largest stock of Glass in the city, not including James Glass his popular clerk. If you have a good horse weighing about 1100 pounds, that you want to trade for a wind-mill, see Jas. Peterson. We will pay you 27 cents for corn and sell you goods cheaper than any merchant dare sell you—Chicago Clothing Co. Dr. Cullimore, with Dr. McKeeby in Red Cloud for eye and ear diseases, Monday and Tuesday, January 29th and 30th, 1894. If you want anything in second-hand furniture, etc., or have anything to sell, see Curt Evans, Blue Front south Webster street. Dr. Cullimore, Eye and Ear Surgeon of Omaha, Red Cloud January 29th and 30th, 1894, Monday and Tuesday, Dr. McKeeby's office. Everybody should prepare to go to the S. of V. band concert, soon to be given by them and some of the best musical talent of the city. If your Eyes and Ears need attending see Dr. Cullimore, Red Cloud, with Dr. McKeeby, January 29th and 30th, 1894, Monday and Tuesday. Calves can be surely and safely dehorned at an expense of only three cents per head by using the Deborning Remedy sold by C. L. Cotting. Ald. Myers and Grant Usher are going to start a new grocery and drygoods store in the room lately occupied by J. L. Miller, the harness man. Charley Keeler, whom every one in Red Cloud will remember, has just returned from England, where he was married, and is now located in Texas. Our old time switchman Geo. Nease, who for the past few months has been filling the place as brakeman in Denver was on our streets last Saturday shaking hands with his many friends who were all glad to see his smiling face. John Keeler who has been meandering over the wild and woolly west for a number of years, and who in his tender years deviled in this office, has returned to Red Cloud where he will stay during the winter. The past 17 days in January have been almost as pleasant as summer. Scarcely a day has passed that the thermometer has not been in the vicinity of 80 or 90 above zero. What country can beat this? Not even California with its rosy stories. The S. of V. band is practicing for a grand concert and musicale to be given at the opera house February 14, 1894. This will be one of the grandest musical programs ever given in the city, as all the best musical talent in the city will be engaged in it. Mr. and Mrs. John M. Chaffin have at last closed the deal for the old homestead down in Ohio, where they will spend a few weeks of each summer looking after the crops and fruits. But as Mr. Chaffin is in love with Nebraska, as well as with the practice of his profession, he informs THE CHIEF that he intends staying right here, giving close attention to his business and enjoying in common with his neighbors, this, the best of climates.

NEBRASKA WEIGHT.—For hundreds of years there has been more or less ado made over the advent of little folks into this veil of tears. The fond mother and father were usually the happiest mortals that existed, but this week when it was known that Bert Gries, the handsome and courteous druggist fell heir to a nine pounds of femininity he actually jumped over his counters and hollered "pap" and then failed to breathe for some time until saturated with paregoric. Even the school children were going up and down the street proclaiming the news that Bert was papa, and the very thoughts of it seemed to enthrone every body. Bert has not done a lick of work since the young lady came to town and he swears by all that is good that he will whip the first chap that hangs on his front gate. But to show how excited he was over the matter, our reporter went into his store just twenty times, and each time he was standing at the catnip box, muttering two ounces of catnip, one table-spoonful of paregoric, and a half gallon of Mrs. Wilson's soothing syrup ought to make the baby quiet, so there would be no necessity of walking the floor at night. Oh, my, but the responsibilities of a father are great, and then he would have a far-away look on his face, and begin to sing, "It's nice to be a father," etc, and then he would go back to the catnip scene. But up to this writing the happy father is recovering, and "Richard's" himself again. THE CHIEF takes great pleasure in congratulating the happy parents.

OBITUARY.—The death of Miss Mattie E. Mahard which occurred at Jamestown North Dakota last week has occasioned much sorrow amongst her many relatives friends and acquaintances in this city. She was born in Wisconsin and when young moved with her father's family to this city where she resided for many years. Her father, William Mahard, a most excellent gentleman of high merit, the father of Mrs. M. Sherman of this city, Mrs. L. A. Haskins and Mrs. D. G. Norris living near here, died in the year 1887. Mrs. Mahard in a few years returned to Wisconsin, where Mattie went some time after. She remained at South Kaukauna, Wisconsin for some time and finally went to make her home with the family of Wm. Hogeboom at Jamestown, Dakota, where she remained till her death. Before her departure for Wisconsin she united with the Christian church at this place and till her death remained a devout, earnest and consistent Christian. She was a woman whose virtues were indeed many. She possessed a free and honest heart, a magnanimous nature, and was earnest and sincere in all her doings. Mattie Mahard wronged no one intentionally, and always preserved the same pure character and modest manner which with her indomitable will made her friends always wherever she went. The direct cause of her death was consumption; and she died at the age of 34. While this good woman's death is deeply deplored, the consoling thought of her many friends is that if God in His infinite wisdom prepares a place for the just, she is certainly enjoying his beneficent mercy in the heavenly land far beyond this wicked world of sin and iniquity.

UNOSTENTATIOUS NEPTUNALS.—For some days the most intimate acquaintances of D. W. Turnure, the younger member of the firm of Shea & Turnure who so admirably preside at the Parlor Grocery, discovered that gentleman to be acting strangely, and when they actually thought something serious the difficulty he foisted them all by making a business trip to Reynolds, Nebraska, and while here, sought his affianced, prepared for the occasion and wandered to the home of the Rev. Stephenson, who officiated in the marriage ceremonies in a most pleasing and creditable manner. The bride is Miss Carrie B. Rothrock, daughter of J. S. Rothrock of Irvale, and has made her home for many years with her grand-parents, a highly respected family of Reynolds. She is beautiful, well cultured and refined, and withal a charming selection for the excellent husband she has accepted. The groom is a young man full of business pluck and energy, and will no doubt rank among the first of our business men some day. THE CHIEF extends congratulations and bespeaks for them a bright future.

A NARROW ESCAPE.—What might have been a very serious accident terminated in a dog-gone funny affair. The Red Cloud street car line came bowling down the street at a rapid rate, and in turning the corner of Webster street and 4th Avenue, it came very near running over C. A. Nine, who was lying down on the right of way, never dreaming of what was coming. The motor-man quickly set the brakes, and with his whip, "incurved" the displeasure of the aforesaid C. A. Nine, who might have been mauling being beneath the clay had it not been for the watchful eye of the driver, or if all we know, might have been worked up into bologna by this time.

Sherman Circle No. 3, Ladies of the G. A. R., installed the new officers Saturday evening, January 13, 1894, when the following were placed in control for the ensuing term: President—Nellie Beaver. S. V.—Ella Keeler. J. V.—Novella Bayles. Conductor—Nora Nics. Guard—Minnie Bayles. Chaplain—Mary Mahaffey. Treasurer—Mrs. Hoffman. Secretary—S. A. Scott.

After the installation ceremonies the Circle closed in F. C. and L. S. A. Scott, Secretary.

CARD OF THANKS.—We desire to thank all of our kind friends, who gave us such loving assistance at the burial of our beloved son and brother Harry. His dear young soul is in the keeping of his Savior. We laid his dear young body amongst his friends surely "it is well with the child". May God bless you all. MRS. ALEX. BENTLEY AND FAMILY.

Ladies: If you have headache, pain in the back, nervousness or any of those diseases peculiar to your sex, do not fail to try Dr. Sawyer's Facilities. Deyo & Gries

A PLEASANT ENTERTAINMENT.—On last Monday evening the editor of THE CHIEF had the distinguished pleasure of attending one of those very interesting and edifying entertainments which are annually given by the Woman's Relief Corps and James A. Garfield Post, Grand Army of the Republic, and which are well known for their social qualities. At a stated hour, Comrade Miller called the meeting to order and announced that he was about to install the officers elect of the Post, and in a very pleasant manner, and closely observing the ritualistic work, installed the following officers:

- Commander—Wesley Street. Senior Vice-Commander—F. N. Richardson. Q. M.—H. E. Pond. Chaplain—D. L. Groat. Officer of the Day—A. D. Brown. Officer of the Guard—John Wilhelmson. Surgeon—J. W. Moranville. Asst. Q. M.—O. C. Bell. Adjutant—Jos. Garber. Asst. Adj.—G. W. Knight.

The installation ceremonies being over the work of the Post was completed and that body adjourned. Immediately afterwards, the ladies of James A. Garfield Relief Corps, No. 14, G. A. R., announced that they would install their officers, and the following ladies were obligated: Kate Pond, President. Carrie West, Senior Vice-President. Carrie Richardson, J. V. P. Kate S. Judson, Secretary. Gertrude Dickerson, Treasurer. Lizzie Lewis, Chaplain. Leona B. Turner, Conductor. Nancy Turner, Guard. Maude Knight, Asst. Conductor. Rebecca Street, Asst. Guard. Lizzie Lewis, Delegate. Ellen Ludlow, Alternate. Mrs. G. W. Dow was installing officer. After the various installations were completed, the ladies invited their guests to the banquet room where a bountiful repast was served, and all did ample justice.

During the evening, pleasant speeches were made by Comrades Wilhelmson, Jos. Garber, J. L. Miller, D. L. Groat, G. W. Knight and Sargent Cole and a number of ladies. Sargt. Cole, "the irrepressible," who fought in 40 wars, so the boys say, made a most excellent speech, but, forgetting himself, told how he eubched fifteen or twenty dozen chickens from Jake Miller and Jos. Garber, and laid them under his pillow, only to find that his chickens had vanooosed. He was loudly applauded. The entertainment was a very pleasant one and appreciated by all.

DEATH OF HARRY BENTLEY.—On last Sunday the painful news of the death of Harry Bentley, a former employe of this paper, was dispensed from the pulpits of the different churches. But three months ago, Harry, in buoyant spirits and the picture of health, left this city with his mother and family to make his home in Lincoln. Many warm friends of the most estimable family gathered at the arrival of the evening train to meet and console the mother and brother who accompanied the body here for interment. Sudden as the affair really was, the sombre looking burial case in which reposed all that was mortal of little Harry Bentley confirmed the awful reality of his sudden demise. The services were held at the residence of A. T. Ayers, Mrs. Bentley's old home, and the body laid peacefully to rest in the cemetery at this place Monday morning. From a long and intimate acquaintance with the deceased, we, perhaps, have as but very few of his acquaintances. To simply say that he was a good boy would hardly suffice. Harry possessed, largely, all the virtues which go to make a pure, noble and devout being. He was honest, faithful and diligent, and modest almost to reticence. He had a remarkable understanding of the distinction between right and wrong, and was resolute in the obedience of the demands of an unfeigned conscience. With a strict regard for truth, constant desire to be right and do right, he commanded the sincere respect of all with whom he was acquainted. His death, was caused by spinal meningitis. He was about 17 years of age.

The following is a letter of sympathy from the job office of Jacob North & Co. where he was employed: To Mrs. Alexander Bentley:

The employes of the job department of this establishment, of which number your son Harry was so recently one, desire to extend to yourself and family, in your dark hour of bereavement, our sincerest sympathy and hearty condolence. We can understand how keenly you must feel the loss of a son so manly and generous, for, in his short association with us, we all learned to love him, and observed by his demeanor that he was possessed of those cultivated in boyhood, are sure to blossom into a perfect manhood. We found him a genial and pleasant companion, ever cheerful, and always ready and willing to perform all duties that fell to his share. Our recollection of Harry shall be pleasant, and the vacancy in our ranks by his untimely taking off can not be filled by one more worthy to be remembered. Very respectfully yours, ED. N. THACKER, Foreman.

The employes of this office also desire to extend their sympathy to the bereaved mother and family for the loss of one so near and dear to their hearts. From a nine months association with Harry in this office we can safely say that if ever there was a boy worthy of good words, he was that boy. We shall always hold his memory in profound regard.

On motion it was ordered that balance of lumber on hand from Guide Rock bridge be retained for other bridges.

Board then adjourned to Tuesday, January 23d.

A cup of Parks' Tea at night moves the bowels in the morning without pain or discomfort.

Eli Perkins, the noted lecturer, will hold forth in Red Cloud at the opera house Thursday night Jan. 25th. Subject: "Philosophy of Wit". You should not fail to hear him.

Mrs. N. Meyere, the Genesee county treasurer of the W. C. T. U. and a very influential worker in the cause of women says: "I have used Parks' Tea and find it is the best remedy I have ever tried for constipation. It requires smaller doses and is more thorough. I shall use nothing else in future."

Go and see Wright's. They have the finest line of heating stoves that have ever been brought to Red Cloud before. See them before buying.

W. I. Church, of Staunton Post, G. A. R., says: "I have tried nearly every cough remedy but found nothing to compare with Parks' Cough Syrup. I have suffered ever since my discharge from the army and Parks' Cough Syrup is the only remedy that has ever helped me."
