THE CHIEF

A. C. HOSMER, Editor.
LABOY TAYLOR, Asst. Local Editor.

"On to Washington" is the cry of the commonwealers.

The national republican club will meet in Denver, June 26. It will be one of the greatest love feasts on record.

A large number of democrats have requested that the Hon. Thos. J. Ward, of this city, be a candidate for congress in this district.

Kelly's army after much serious trouble in Council Bluffs, Iowa, have finally, like "John Brown's soul's gone marching on" to Washington.

The republicans of this city should by all means reorganize the republican club. The city central committee should see to it that a call is made at once.

Hon. A. K. Goudy was in the city this week. Mr. Goudy would like to succeed himself as state superintendent of public instruction. We have no objection. He has made a good officer.

SENATOR PADDOCK, was shown THE CHIEF's endorsement of his candidacy for governor, the other day in Washington and a telegraphic report from the latter city to the State Journal, says that he is not a candidate for any office.

Hon. James McNery of Red Cloud, the home of McKelghan, is an aspirant for congressional honors via the republican route. The Red Cloud CHIEF has no doubt of his ability to defeat McKelghan if nominated.—Beaver Valley Tribune.

There was an aggregation of democrats in Red Cloud this week. Our political editor while meandering throughout the highways and byways made up his mind that the unfettered would put up a full democratic ticket in the field this fall for congress.

Judge Scott certainly ought to be impeached for his unwarranted action in the Rosewater case. He sentenced Rosewater of the Bee to 30 days in jail and assessed a fine of $500 for an article that one of the reporters furnished for the Bee company about the judge. In trying to maintain the dignity of his court he has fallen short and made it a farce. The press of this country cannot be muzzleed by such methods.

The number of candidates in the field for nomination on the republican ticket in this congressional district, and the lack of enthusiasm among the politicians of the two other parties, is an indication of the difference in sentiment now and four and two years ago. Then it was quite different. A republican who would accept the nomination was hard to find and aspirants there were none.—Beaver Valley Tribune.

At the very pleasant photograph social at J. A. Tulley's last Friday evening given by the members of the Epworth League. Miss Mabel McMillan drew a handsome hand painted picture as first prize and Prof. Caster drew THE CHIEF for one year. It was a very pleasant social and largely attended. The Epworth League knows how to get up an interesting social. Many of the pictures presented for inspection looked as if they had come in contact with a cyclone in their younger days, and caused great mirth among those present.

SPLENDID.—The hog market is still on the increase. Miner Bros. are surely to be credited for having brought about a revival in the hog market in Red Cloud. For the last few weeks this city has been the Mecca to which all hog owners have been coming, the cause of which has been the favorable and higher prices paid for hogs than usual. The firm has already paid out about $10,000 for hogs which has given the market here a new incentive, and hogs have been brought here from north of Red Cloud as far as the county line and as far south as Esbon, Kansas, by people who have not brought stock here for some years, for what reasons we do not know. The stimulus in the market is certainly encouraging to our people and due praise should be extended to those who have caused the result.

TO NEW FIELDS.—Rev. Melvin Putman has severed his connection as pastor of the Christian church of Red Cloud, where he has faithfully worked for the last three years, and goes to Ogden, Utah, where he has a call to fill a pastorate in that city. Elder Putman is a fluent and eloquent expounder of the gospel and has built the local church membership up to several hundred. As an evangelist he stands second to none in his church, and that too, as a comparatively young man. He has wonderful powers of speech and we believe will be a renowned minister of the gospel before he lays down the good work which he has espoused. He will leave many admiring friends, not only in his own flock, but among the other churches of the city. THE CHIEF hopes he may reap a rich reward in his new field.

THE BAND.—The Red Cloud S. of V. band is fast becoming one of the finest bands in the state. They are constantly practicing, and have been for two years, under the excellent leadership of Prof. Hendricks, and are now very proficient in their work as their playing each Saturday evening indicates to the trained ear. THE CHIEF expects to see the S. of V. band become state renowned if they continue to prosper and progress as rapidly as they have done in the last year. We hope they will be diligent and persevere to the last to conquer, and finally reach the goal of perfection.

On last Sunday while Frank Quigley, wife and mother-in-law were driving down a steep hill between this city and Inavale, the harness on the horses gave way, letting the tongue drop, which was driven into the ground with such force as to throw them from the buggy and break the tongue in two. Mrs. Cummings was fortunate to escape with a few slight scratches and bruises and Mrs. Quigley had her back seriously sprained, otherwise they were not much hurt, besides a good shaking up. The injured ones were brought to town by Bert Tennant.

William Liver and Charles Catter, two wealthy Bostonians, were burned to death in the former's cottage at Squantum Beach.

The Santa San Rafael del Vale, Bahacomun and Nogales de Elias land grant cases have been decided in favor of the settlers.

UNION PACIFIC WAGE HEARING.

General Manager Dickinson on the Stand.

OMAHA, April 26.—The hearing of the Union Pacific wage schedule controversy was continued Monday with General Manager Dickinson on the stand. He recited the history of the Gallagher circular, issued in 1891, in which the management of the road was notified that if it did not comply with the demands of the men the whole system would be tied up. He contended that the management had been compelled by these strikes and threats to pay higher wages than was just. Then Chairman Vroman of the engineers took the stand again and denied that the company had paid the scale under duress. He swore that the Gallagher circular was issued without the knowledge of the men, and that it met with their disapproval. Chairman Clark, of the conductors, was the next witness. He presented a tabulated statement to show that the Union Pacific paid less wages than the average paid by all the other roads in the country. Judge Caldwell propounded to Mr. Clark the same questions in regard to striking that he asked Mr. Vroman Saturday. Mr. Clark was positive that the conductors would abide by the decision of the court and that in no case would they strike.

"All right," said the fairy, "but your partner will get two barrels on that wish." "Stop a little," said the first. "Perhaps you'd better not give me a barrel of money.
