MISSING LESSONS.—All music teachers are more or less annoyed on account of their pupils missing lessons. Perhaps nothing is so conducive of irregularity in music lessons as the understanding on the part of the pupil that by merely "sending word" to the teacher the lesson can be canceled at pleasure, without expense. Trifling ailments, interruptions, neglect of practice or the weather are magnified into warrantable excuses. To the teacher such a system entails a serious loss. The stated hours which he reserved for pupils each week are frequently left on his hands unused, and yet are of no value in which to accomplish other work. The teacher is busy one hour and idle the next, waiting for the following pupil. Probably one-half of the hours engaged by pupils are not occupied by them, yet the teacher is compelled to keep them regularly in reserve, on the presumption that the pupil may take a lesson the following week. Consequently whenever a lesson is missed the teacher practically spends the time required to give two lessons and receives for but one. Not only so but the pupil is also the loser, for satisfactory progress is absolutely impossible under such circumstances. Parents as well as pupils are often too thoughtless on this point. Do not miss lessons.

There will be a meeting of the republican county central committee at this place Saturday, June 23d, in the afternoon, at the hall of the republican club over State bank. Please try and be present.—R. McNitt, Sec'y.
Rev. G. W. Hummel had an immense grove meeting at Smith's lake last Sunday. He baptized 20 and administered communion to 100. Over 1000 people were estimated to have been present. He was assisted by Revs. Hancock and Blackwell.
Mrs. Bradford, daughter of Mrs. Talbot, while on her trip to California, was just in time to strike the Pueblo flood and was detained there three days and nights, only able to leave the cars on the last day as the flood receded. They were compelled to depend on the ranchers for eatables.
Sargent Cole of broom fame, a resident of Bloomington was visiting friends in Red Cloud this week. The old brother claims to have received 400 (?) wounds on his body while fighting yellow jackets at the battle of "Windy Point" or some such place. The Sargent is one of the jolliest men that ever ate hardtack or carried a canon.
Mrs. G. E. McKeeby was called to Jamestown, Kansas, this week by telegram, announcing the serious illness of her mother, Mrs. F. T. S. Ansell, who died before she reached there. Mrs. McKeeby had just returned from a visit with her mother and the news of her serious condition was a great surprise. She has the sympathy of her many friends in Red Cloud in her great bereavement. Her mother was 71 years of age.
A GOOD SHOWING.—The Modern Woodman of America, of which Red Cloud has a most prosperous camp is doing nicely these days. At a regular meeting on last Wednesday night they initiated four candidates, and had 17 applications to act on, making now 115 members. After the ceremonies had been completed the members present had a fine banquet served by C. M. Calmes. The neighbors felt jubilant over the success of Red Cloud Camp No. 608, and feel that the society is passing all records as far as new members are concerned. It is among the best mutual benefit societies in existence, and THE CHIEF wishes the neighbors success and that they may continue to saw wood rapidly.
SOCIAL EVENT.—On Wednesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Morhart, gave a very interesting social event to the young folks of Red Cloud in honor of their nephew, Mr. Will Morhart of Holden, Mo. It was a progressive Crokonole party and something new on the list. At a seasonable hour a most delicious repast was served, consisting of all the delicacies of the season, and was highly enjoyed by all present. Owing to the great interest in the game and the pleasure occasioned thereby, the young folks held forth until the wee sma' hours. The following young folks were present: The Misses Nellie West, Blanche Sellars, Blanch Sherman, Trix Mizer, Bertha Talbot, Myrtle Jones, Lois Pope, Grace Fort, Messrs Dell Abel, Alva Sellars, Thad McNitt, George Overing, Walter Warren, George Morhart, Samuel Miller, Will Morhart.

SCHOOL PICNIC.—On last Friday the school districts number 18 and 70 united and gave one of the best picnics, at Smith's pond, ever given in this country. The teachers, Mr. Burt Richardson and Miss Nettie Hummel, are to be highly complimented not only upon their success as teachers but also upon the entertaining program that they prepared for the picnic. After a harmonious and highly appreciated overture rendered by our S. of V. band followed by a melodious quartet, Mr. Ranney McNitt very eloquently addressed the people upon education and the country school house. His pleasant voice, sound sense and pat illustrations won the interest of the eager listeners. One of his finest remarks was to the effect that a child's brain grows continually while a man's brain does not, hence the need of good, instructive public schools. As he finished speaking the band again struck up one of their delightful pieces to which the people could have listened the rest of the day. Then followed songs and recitations rendered by the school children and others, all of which were given in a most appropriate manner, after which they all adjourned to their baskets and filled themselves with the eatable goods of this world. In the afternoon many a delightful boat ride was enjoyed upon the pond. The base ball game was then announced, played between the "Country Hard Hitters" and the "Red Cloud Pick Ups" in which the "Pick Ups" were awarded the crushing defeat of 11 to 21; with this closed the exercises of the day. Surely there should be more picnics of this instructive nature.
Last Monday evening about 8:30 this place was visited by one of the worst wind and dust storms ever experienced in Lawrence. The wind blew a gale that almost had the force and speed of a tornado for about 30 minutes, during which time a great amount of damage was done. In the town many trees were blown down, awnings torn away from front of stores, barns and outbuildings upset and windmills blown down. The new Catholic church was moved about a foot from its foundation. The chimney was blown from the new school house, some damage done to the wood work and considerable glass broken. The windmill and tower of the town well were blown down and ruined. The front of W. J. Estep's store was blown out. A. H. Bowman's mill was blown down and several small buildings wrecked. The large windmill of Shirley & Cole was torn from many stores and considerable glass was broken, and other slight damages were done. From reports we learn that the barn of C Vonhaus was completely demolished. Peter Harting windmill blown down. Joe Egghofer house damaged and windmill blown down. Henry Kiminaw, barn slightly moved from foundation. H. Gergensmeier, barn wrecked. Henry Hoeveks, windmill blown down. Henry Menke, barn moved one foot from foundation. Frank Mazuer, barn demolished. Henry Brockman, chicken house and 10 dozen chickens killed. Alf Schoa, new barn and windmill blown down. Michael Keller and Chas. Flint, windmills blown down. For a time it looked as though a cyclone was sure at hand, many people became frightened and sought shelter in cellars and caves.—Lawrence Locomotive.
CLASS OF '94 PICNIC.—Through the courtesy of Prof. Custer the Class of '94 enjoyed a very pleasant afternoon outing at the Amboy picnic grounds, on last Saturday. You would hardly recognize those with fishpoles in hand or sand-wich in mouth as our former sedate seniors, who toiled so untriflingly over Vergil and Trigonometry. The time was pleasantly spent in boating, fishing and inspecting the mill. At 7 o'clock they sat down in regular camp style and proceeded to devastate the delicate viands set before them by Prof. Custer. These were soon disposed of and the class passed the return drive pleasantly with singing. Altogether it will ever be remembered by the Class of '94 as one of their most enjoyable gatherings.

"An outfit consisting of three wagons and teams with some led horses, and two hacks with about a dozen people passed through town Tuesday. They were from Red Cloud, Nebraska near which place they were farming and running the hack in town, but had abandoned their crops and all else and were hunting a place, they said where it sometimes rains. They had no particular point in view for settlement."—Burr Oak Herald.
The above item is taken from the Burr Oak Herald and comes from Jake Nye and Emery Allen, and is not worthy of credence, inasmuch as they are reported to have sloped between two days leaving some friends here. It is a libel on Red Cloud and its prosperous farming community.
A wagon passed through town Monday with the legend "Coxey's Advance Army" painted on the cover; but the occupant proved to be an honest butcher from Red Cloud to the eastern part of the state.—Burr Oak Herald.
THE CHIEF wonders what man it is that has recently left Red Cloud via the Burr Oak route, that has such a calamitous sign emblazoned on his band wagon?
Last Tuesday while Chris Derra was building fence along the section line of his farm, Wm. Longbottom, whose farm adjoins accosted him and demanded him to stop. Derra refused to do so, saying he had a right to build fence on his own premises, whereupon Longbottom drew a revolver from his pocket and threatened to shoot. Mr. Derra left for his house and on Wednesday morning went to Red Cloud, and had a warrant sworn out for his arrest. Thursday the sheriff came up and took Billy to Red Cloud, where he was given a hearing; taxed a nominal sum for costs and put under a $300 bond to keep the peace.—Lawrence Locomotive.
