We still see some farmers planting corn, and we wonder if they will plant corn all summer. Mountford had his wheat cut last week.

The following was accidentally omitted last week:

There's a pair of little hands Laid to rest for ever more There's two pearly dimpled cheeks That rich blessing is o'er Death has sealed two little eyes That will no more smile or weep, Tiny windows of the soul Little Beulah's gone to sleep, There's another bud removed Ere it fell the blite of sin, Through the door the angels made Darling Beulah has passed in, Far beyond the azure skies, Where the tiny star eyes peep From all earth's sad doubts and fears Little Beulah's gone to sleep, The dainty garments wrought with care, Through happy hours for love's sake are laid away for one more fair, Than mother's hands can make; How could we bear this heavy cross The loneliness, the cruel pain, Did we not know our earthly loss Is her eternal gain, She will wake in fairer lands Where the angels' voices ring, There the flowerlets shall expand There shall love's perfection bring, She has reached the golden shore Through the river cold and deep Angels bare her safely there, Little Beulah's gone to sleep. KILLED INSTANTLY BY A MOB.

John Nebo Shot While Trying to Escape From an Idaho Mob.

WALLACE, Ida., July 6.—Seventy-five masked men from Burko entered the town of Gem and seized and bound Superintendent Neil and Foreman Summers of the Gem mine, and Frank Higgins and West, nonunion miners. The mob started for the blacksmith shop where John Nebo was working. Nebo saw them coming and sprang through the back window. The mob fired, killing him instantly, and his body rolled down the hill.

The leaders of the mob held a short consultation and gave a signal to close in around the prisoners, who were then marched over the range toward Montana. When word reached Wallace many deputies were sworn in and citizens joined their organization. They are now in pursuit of the mob. The trouble is a revival of the fight of 1892. Union men have made frequent threats to drive out all nonunion miners, and a few weeks ago fixed June 17 as the date nonunion men must leave the Coeur d'Alene region.
