Bunches on His Neck

Twice Lanced by Physician and Cured by Hood's.

There is no form of Scrofula more obstinate or more common than swelling of the glands of the neck. But every form of blood disease yields to the potent powers of Hood's Sarsaparilla. Read the following from a grateful father:

"Our little boy when a little over a year old had three large bunches come on the left side of his neck. A physician lanced the bunches twice. He advised a blood medicine and we commenced giving our boy Hood's Sarsaparilla. He has taken four bottles. The bunches on his neck have disappeared and

The incisions have healed, only scars remaining to show where his neck was lanced. My wife and I think there is nothing to be compared to Hood's Sarsaparilla and we shall always keep it

EDITORIAL NOTES.

SPAIN and Cuba still scrap, and the chances are that the atmosphere will be riotous there for sometime.

The bill of Dr. McKeeby, appropriating $200,000 for relief, is a good one, and substantially meets the requirements of counties needing seed and feed.

The well deserved roast administered to Luther P. Ludden by the sententious Senator McKeeby was a hit for that senator and a well merited rebuke to the impulsive gentleman.

Our great and noble Grover Cleveland has returned to Washington after a pleasant and extensive duck hunt. Unfortunately no accident occurred which would render his return impossible.

The state legislature, in a paroxysm of profound respect for the people have decided and passed a law that the cigarette can not be sold or manufactured in the great state of Nebraska. That is an excellent law.

SAM JONES' revivals at St. Louis still continue with increased interest. He preached last Sunday to 6000 men, and had them stampeded before his discourse was concluded. Men of all classes, railroads, politicians, thugs and gamblers cried and bellowed like penitent children. Surely Jones is a wonder.

It is authoritatively stated that Stephen Bayless, the county coroner, has openly denounced the vagaries of populism and returned to the grand old republican party, his first love, which he solemnly promises to support in the future. The good Lord giveth and he taketh away, he robbeth and provideth, and works great wonders.

ELEVEN days more and the city election will be here with all its old time vigor. The citizens convention having named M. R. Bentley for mayor and the republican convention having named C. H. Potter for the same office we may expect quite an exciting contest as both men have many friends in Red Cloud who will do their best to see that their candidates are elected.

UNDER a heading of "Congressman Andrews has no seeds," the State Journal says that that gentleman has been deluged with hundreds of letters asking for seeds by Nebraskans in this district. The governmental distribution of seeds that are presented to the congressmen for use in their various districts have been sent to the State relief commission.

The Franklin Sentinel has cut out its "patent internals." Until such times as the newspaper men of the country abandoned the patent sides the newspaper business must of necessity be irksome and unprofitable. The patent sides fill up with ads that the home man ought to have and could secure if his sheet was "all home print." The worst monopoly that the printer has to contend with is the patent houses.

In a few days more when Mother Earth is clothed in all her resplendent beauty, with a mantle of glossy green every where to be observed; when we can sing with the poet "I see the little blades of grass just peeping thro' the sod" and all nature is vying to outdo in grandeur the other elements; when the green pinks and the delicate violets are sending forth their rarest perfumes; then will our dreams be realized that spring is here and the good times are once more with us. Glorious consummation devoutly to be wished. Old Sol will then be sending forth his effulgent rays and as they cheer and warm the hearts of the afflicted, the destitute, the weak, the rich, the poor, then in beautiful melody will the earth give forth one vociferous shout of thanksgiving to the Giver of all good.

Our State Institutions

Last week we received through Senator McKeeby the ninth biennial report of the commissioner of public lands and buildings, but lacking both time and space, acknowledgment of the report was deferred until this week.

State institutions are the people's and the people help to support them, but a large majority of the people know little or nothing about the various state institutions, such as asylums, schools for the blind, the state penitentiary, etc. Many people do not know they exist, and few people know how they are managed.

Nebraska has twelve great public institutions, costing in aggregate $2,376,062.06. Among them is the Nebraska Institute for the Deaf and Dumb at Omaha; Nebraska Hospital for the Insane at Lincoln; Nebraska Institute for the Blind at Nebraska City; State Industrial School for Juvenile Delinquents at Kearney; Hospital for Insane at Norfolk; Institute for Feeble Minded Youth at Beatrice; Soldiers' and Sailors' Home at Grand Island; Asylum for the Incurable Insane at Hastings; Girls Industrial school at Geneva; Home for the friendless at Lincoln; and the Nebraska State Penitentiary at Lincoln.

In each and every one of these institutions the best harmony prevails, and the management is so arranged that the minutest details are reported to the commissioner of public lands and buildings biennially. Each asylum has a superintendent, who with the aid of a corps of subordinates, look after the welfare of the institution which he has in charge.

The report of the various superintendents contained in the 9th biennial report are clear and concise, and ample evidence of the great good accomplished by these institutions. From these reports it can be seen that our unfortunate friends are well cared for, and that our state institutions are controlled by people determined to make them valuable. The deaf and dumb are educated more than would seem possible, and the blind are taught to be as scholarly as those blessed with perfect sight.

The industrial schools and the Homes for the friendless are remarkably successful institutions and doubtless have been the means of keeping thousands of children to successful maturity, and started them in successful life.

"Because We Used His Picture"

WELCOME, Minn., March 10, '95.
EDITOR CHIEF:—Now see here Homer if I have done anything to you for which I am sorry I am perfectly willing to be forgiven. But if Blakelee & Kaley have not already killed you, and it becomes my painful duty to come back there and attend to your case. I'll gamble over your insignificant carcass like young goats over a barn roof, and I will do such a good job of it that when your friends do find you you will be "placidiously" sauntering up some back alley in that "lower region" trying to borrow a fan from Grover Cleveland or some other good democrat with which to cool your heated brow while you secure the Rock Island railroad or build another sugar factory for Red Cloud.

Trusting this will find you suffering from a severe attack of neuralgia, brought on by your recent exposure of cheek I remain,
Yours with a grievance,
OSCAR PATMOR.
In explanation we will inform our readers that we used Oscar's picture to emblazon Blakelee & Kaley's advertisement a few weeks ago, and now an "unwelcome(?)" letter comes from Welcome Minnesota, notifying us of certain death if we do so again. Well, Oscar, we shall "Pot-mor" people on the back in the golden streets of the New Jerusalem than some of our adversaries will in the lower regions. Editors are billed for higher quarters than those gratuitously assigned us by our young friend, because it is a matter of importance that good men are well taken care of after leaving this vale of tears, and you know the rest, Oscar.

A Strike.

One day this week the graduating class of our public schools struck against the study of German and the teacher's order. When the class was called they obstinately clung to their desks and refused to obey the principal. Her authority being set aside Supt. Caster was ushered into their presence, and he gave the order that the class should go to the recitation room, but not a move did the belligerents make toward obeying the orders of the higher court, as the lawyers would say. On their refusal to obey, the board of education was notified of their insurrection, and they were immediately ordered to appear before that body, which had convened to hear their grievances. After hearing testimony pro and con from the scholars and teachers, the board ordered that the class return to school and continue the study of German and on refusing should not be allowed to graduate. The matter develops itself into the position, that the scholars have decided to take the running of the school into their own hands, which action was summarily set down upon by the board. Pupils should obey the rules of the school, and especially those who are old enough to know what is expected of them. The efforts of the superintendent and teachers to keep good discipline should be backed solidly by the board. The board should mete out justice with impartiality and firmness in such cases and in fact with all matters pertaining to school discipline.

Everyone Admires 'Em

We want to impress upon you, dear readers of THE CHIEF, that no paper in the valley ever offered such fine books and beautiful pictures, at such recklessly extravagant rates as we now offer with THE CHIEF. Just think of it! For $1.00 in cash, you get The Red Cloud CHIEF, with eight pages and all printed in our own office; a handsome $-mo cloth bound book; and for $1.15 you may secure THE CHIEF, the book, and the "Dream City," a beautiful and elegant volume of views from life scenes at the world's fair. Understand this, Dream City is something simply superb and is worth $1.00 alone. Its pictures are 11x13 1/4 in size, and so natural and life-like that one feels like he is really seeing the sights at the great world's fair at Chicago. Could anyone offer more for $1.15 than these three articles? We think not, and this offer should serve, not only to induce delinquent subscribers to pay up and renew, but also for people who don't take the paper to come in and pay up. We have just received another batch of books, over 100, containing reading on every subject imaginable. We can, in fact, suit you in most anything. You may have THE CHIEF, the book, the "Dream City," the State Journal, the Globe-Democrat, New York Tribune, Chicago Inter-Ocean, in fact, most anything you want by calling at our office and making your wants known. Especially those who are not subscribers to THE CHIEF should avail themselves of this golden opportunity. Come early and avoid the rush.

SCHOOL NOTES.

Friday the superintendent listened to the German class.

Susie Rife conducted the recitation in arithmetic Tuesday.

Thursday's examination in geometry making way for Robinson's trigonometry. We understand that Dora Henderson expects to take charge of her room next term as usual.

The class in Virgil is one month ahead of the one last year. This gives them an easier time of it.

Next week is the last of this term, leaving a balance of two months for the completion of the year.

Miss Caroline Johnson was visiting her former schoolmates and viewing the places she was wont to occupy last year.

Not so many travel the way into the office of late. Is this a calm before the storm, or that a new leaf has been turned over.

A part of the chemistry class have determined to manufacture nitroglycerine and succeeded to a certain extent last Monday.

Chemistry now recites every day instead of once a week as before. The lessons are not as long but will cover more ground in the week.

Geo. Overing filled to place of teacher in the general history and physics classes Friday afternoon. The teacher was suffering from a severe hoarseness in the throat.

Alvin Pope's room succeeded in winning the banner this week. If the fifth room cannot boast of that honor she can brag of being the nearest to it any way, which is not saying very much.

If etiquette and ethics were taught in the school we think some would have room for improvement. Some scholars act as if they were in a ethnical nation where such things are not known.

Miss Lilly has enrolled herself this week as one of the scholars. Contrary to the usual state of affairs our school is increasing in numbers instead of falling short as is generally the case toward the last of the term.

One young man was surprised to quite an extent when he beheld the superintendent at his side after making a disturbance. He had just come into the room and noticing one of the scholars in charge, supposed the way was clear. The rod was administered with zeal upon this young man's frame a few minutes after.

It has been almost four years since the death angel has visited any of the schools, but last Monday it arrived without scarcely any warning, taking one of the scholars of the third room, Chester Young. His room did honor to their schoolmate by attending the funeral in a body; also a number from other rooms.

In behalf of the schools we extend our deepest sympathies to his mother and he as a schoolmate has left a tender place in our hearts.

The German class is the topic of the day at present. Thursday they handed in a petition to be excused from the study, they however recited the next day, but on Monday when called to the recitation room refused to obey. Consequently were expelled, cited to appear before the school board that evening. Their objections were overruled and they were compelled to return under the old dispensation. The sleeve pinches but must be worn. An outbreak of this kind is something very unusual, the first known in the school. The scholars were slow in returning and for a time it was thought the once quiet and peaceable graduating class would fall and die.
