THE CHEAPEST GOODS you can buy, THE LOWEST PRICES you can get, are not all that is necessary in purchasing Boots and Shoes. Many of you have tried the above plan and it has not always given you the satisfaction you desired. You may have spent more than the difference that it would have cost for a better quality of goods at a little higher price in repairs made not once but many times until you threw them aside in disgust. Don't allow yourself to be fooled ALL THE TIME. We take pleasure in dealing in SATISFACTION as well as in BOOTS and SHOES, and the complaints we have are few and far between, and are instantly made satisfactory to you when made. Will you not try us this year and save a portion of your shoe bill by dealing with us? We await your decision.

BRIEF MENTION.

Jos. Sparks was on our streets Saturday. Chas. Mahagan was in the city this week. Prof. Caster returned from Lincoln Friday evening. Wm. Irons of Inavale is visiting his parents in Iowa. Mr. Luce and wife of Republican City were visiting D. F. McFarland and family Sunday. Mr. Wm. Josslyn and children of Orleans were the guests of Miss P. D. Yeiser Sunday. Mrs. Geo. Rogers and children and Mrs. L. H. Fort visited in Guide Rock Wednesday. O. J. and C. E. Sattley living on the Gates farm, have finished planting 250 acres of corn. A display of arms occurred on the street Saturday between two farmers. No blood spilled. Fred Maurer came home from Lincoln Monday evening, where he has been attending school. O. C. Bell looks like—well the mischief since he got his whiskers amputated, so the boys say. Rev. Hummel and Rev. Maxfield attended the district ministerial association in Superior this week. A little girl in town when asked why she had stuffed nails down the pump replied that they were only old rusty ones. The band stand that our Red Cloud band has erected on wheels, is just the thing and will be much more convenient when playing on the street. Lew Hummel and his father have set out 3,000 sweet potato plants and will as fast as possible put out 15,000 more. They are going to see what can be done in this country in that line. Mrs. D. F. Parker, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. T. C. Hacker and wife, has returned to her home in Utah, and from there Mr. Parker and wife will take up their residence in California. L. D. Oatman's son Roy was out in his buckboard driving the family horse Saturday, when the nag got frightened and throwing the boy out came up Webster street rapidly. Neither boy or rig was injured. Cake walk at Bentley's hall Thursday evening, May 10th, for benefit of the Congregational church. Admission 10c. All are cordially invited. This will be a very interesting event as it is something new and something that has never occurred in this city. Go and see the "cake walk." After three years of steady labor as music teacher in this city, Miss Josie Igou departed last Saturday for Washington, Iowa, where she was hastily summoned by her sister. She will probably be gone two or three weeks, returning in time to take up her work at the close of the school. (The following parties attended the ball game at Blue Hill Tuesday: Homer Sherwood, Walter Sherwood, W. W. Wright, Chas. Robinson, Ed Smith, W. M. Campbell, D. C. Jenkins and Frank Cowden on bicycles. Nobe Robinson, Robt. Martin, Ernest Moranville, T. W. Thornburg, Nate Platt, Douglas Cather by carriage.)

BREVITIES.

Who is this John Wilcox, pa. That people call a poet. Who fills a column full each week. That makes us sick to go it. Or does he use the mighty shears. And taste pot for his rhymes. And the st. jokes he always has. Away behind the times? Oh, no, my son, it is not that. It's just the way he feels. And any time he wants a rhyme. He simply starts the wheels. The wheels are in his head, my son. But him they never tire. They make such music nice and soft. They sound just like a "tyre." —The New Devil.

Wall paper at Taylor's. The nicest line of curtains at Taylor's. Miss Mable Day Sundayed in Guide Rock. Miss Lottie Reigle is home from Hebron. Call and see Taylor's carpets before buying. Several new awnings have been put up this week. Farmers are very busy getting in their crops these times. The hardest rain of the season fell Sunday afternoon. H. L. Davidson, son-in-law of J. A. Tulleys is in the city. W. B. Roby & Son are agents for the Champion machines. Attorney Chaffin and wife were visiting in Guide Rock Sunday. John Fulton of Riverton was treading Red Cloud soil last Saturday. A good house and lots in Red Cloud to trade for land.—C. W. Kaley. Miss Maud Newburg is visiting at the home of Mrs. T. W. Thornburg. Mel Sherman was in the eastern part of the state on business last week. You ought to get next to a G. W. Childs' cigar. They are out of sight. The thermometer has been out of sight for several days this week at both ends. Miss Mabel Saunders expects to leave on the 20th for an extended visit in Minnesota. A very large number of gentlemen have applied for the superintendency of our public schools. A heavy shower of rain Sunday gladdened the hearts of the people with its refreshing moisture. Base ball fever is raging here as bad as usual. No telling when that and the bicycle fever will stop. The property holders should paint their houses and improve the appearance of things generally. W. B. Roby has two cars of choice corn for feed or seed for 53 cents per bushel by the wagon load. Lloyd Crabbill, the street car magnate, is painting his house and fixing up his residence otherwise in nice style. Mrs. A. H. Hadell and sister, Mable Nye, expect to leave this week for an extended visit in the old "Bay State." Charley Turner has been helping out at the light house this week while Electrician Street has been on the sick list. The city council meetings are as largely attended these days as are the sessions of the legislative bodies of the state. Will Jay, the talented ex-editor of the Nance County Journal, was in the city this week in the interests of the State Journal. Public prosperity is no doubt certain now as traveling men are becoming thicker and thicker in Red Cloud. A good sign. Take your wagon work to Stapleton. He forges all irons for buggies out of the best Norway iron, uses no malleable iron in repairing buggies. The fire limit should be established at once. The old rookeries that now adorn our public thoroughfares will soon pass into innocuous desuetude, and stately brick structures should take their places. Grand lecture on Odd Fellowship at the opera house in Red Cloud, Neb., Wednesday evening, May 29, 1895, by Past Grand Master E. J. O'Neil. All are cordially invited. Seats free. By order of committee. Frank Richardson, while riding on the Red Cloud bicycle track, collided with Stewart Albright and completely mashed his wheel last Monday night. All the dream of pomp and glory of the cyclist faded in one brief moment. Mr. Alvin Pope, teacher of the fourth room entertained his pupils with a picnic at Gov. Garber's grove last Saturday. All day the merry laughter of the pupils rang through the woods; games, base ball, swings, etc., were the general order of amusements. We hope the city council will make arrangements to commence the sewer through Webster street soon, as that is an absolute necessity. Substantial improvements of that kind are necessary, and that kind is the only kind that should be made. What are the managers of the Webster County Agricultural society doing about holding a fair this year? It seems to the Great Family Weekly that arrangements ought to be completed at once in that direction. People ought to have a little time to arrange exhibits.

The U. S. Gov't Reports show Royal Baking Powder superior to all others.

Damerell, superintendent of the insane asylum at Hastings, is in the city. "Pap" Rust is in Atwood, Kansas, this week, looking after some of his land interests at that place. Geo. Barker and father-in-law, Mr. Smith, have made arrangements to return to Red Cloud to live. Charley Potter has so far recovered that he occasionally appears on the streets. We are pleased to note his recovery. The young people of the various church societies will meet once in two months jointly for mutual improvement. A good idea. We do not use cotoline or any other kind of linc, but pure and healthful ingredients in our breadstuffs or pastry.—KALEY & CAMPBELL. The A. O. U. W. boys should not forget that next Sunday, the 12th, is A. O. U. W. day, and that Bro. Ely will preach the sermon at the Congregational church in the afternoon. The bicycle track has been fixed up in nice shape and attracts large audiences in the evenings, to see the riders spin round the curves, and possibly watching for the collisions which often occur. Thursday evening the S. of V. band elected the following officers for the ensuing year: H. J. Clark, president; C. C. Cowden, vice president; Chas. Kaley, secretary; O. C. Bell, treasurer and business manager. J. H. Wegmann had his hands severely burned the other day, the result of an accident with his flash light. When turning the flame off, he turned the lever the wrong way, causing the oil to flow so freely as to drop into his hand. Nels Longtin, a celebrated horse trader of Red Cloud; Joe McClelland, a professional bicyclist of Kalamazoo, Michigan; and John Polnicky, a noted physician of Philadelphia were registered at the Gardner house Wednesday. The band boys will celebrate their third anniversary with a grand social Saturday evening in the court house park. Music and other attractions are on the program. Miss Mabelle F. Prutsman, the celebrated elocutionist of the Crete university, will be present and take part. Everybody should be present. Rev. Robt. McIntyre, the celebrated lecturer who is to be here next Tuesday and Wednesday is one of the most eloquent men in the United States, and to listen to him is a treat of a life time. The reserved seats will be 35c for single night and 50c for both nights when the tickets are purchased for both nights at the same time. At the last meeting of the Nebraska Band union held in Lincoln, Mr. O. C. Bell of this city was chosen as vice president. The union consists of thirty-nine bands with a total membership of over 500. Mr. Bell was also placed on the committee for locating the next state reunion, which occurs this fall. He is the right man in the right place and will be a prominent actor in the business of the board of the state officers.

The other day, we are told, that one of our aldermen while coming through the narrow west of the city thought he was going to be held up by the festive road agent. Quickly he drew a trusty derringer and driving with the other hand urged his steed to greater exertion in his hurry to get out of danger, when to his astonishment he discovered the source of his fear to be an owl which was piping his lay "hoot-oot" which our good alderman thought was "stop or I'll shoot." He had two ladies with him and as he emerged from the defile he was quietly seen replacing the revolver, saying in an under voice "who's afraid?" The ladies casually smiled and said but very little except in relation to the depressing atmosphere. One of the ladies breathed the joke to a friend and our "noor" was immediately informed.
