HE GOT THE SUGAR.
 How a Monkey Reasoned Out a Very Knotty Problem.
 The following anecdote of a tame monkey, to which was given a corked bottle with a lump of sugar inside, indicates that the animal, though unable to invent, could imitate. A phrenologist would say that the monkey had "perception" but not "casuality." How to get at the sugar was a problem that bade fair to drive him crazy. Sometimes, in an impulse of disgust, he would throw the bottle out of his reach, and then be distracted until it was given back to him. At other times he would sit with a countenance of intense dejection, contemplating the bottled sugar, and then, as if pulling himself together for another effort at solution, would sternly take up the problem afresh and gaze at the bottle. He would tilt it one way and try to drink the sugar out of the neck, and then suddenly reversing it, try to catch it as it fell out at the bottom. Under the impression that he could capture the sugar by surprise, he kept rasping his teeth against the glass in futile bites, and warming to the pursuit of the revolving lump, used to tie himself into regular knots round the bottle. Fits of the most ludicrous melancholy would alternate with spasms of delight as a new idea seemed to suggest itself followed by a fresh series of experiments. Nothing availed, however, until one day a light was shed upon the problem by a jar containing bananas falling from the table with a crash and the fruit rolling about in all directions. His monkeyship contemplated the catastrophe, and reasoned upon it. Lifting the bottle high in his paws, he brought it down upon the floor with a tremendous noise, smashing the glass to fragments, after which he calmly transferred the sugar to his mouth, and munched it with much satisfaction.

EXTRACTING OF TANNIN.
 It Has Lately Become a Practical and Profitable Industry.
 The extraction of tannin from palmetto leaves has now become a practical industry, and it is claimed that leather tanned with this product can be more economically produced than that which is treated with oak or hemlock bark, while the residue forms a valuable paper stock, which is also utilized. In the process of extraction the leaves and stems are separated, the stems are crushed flat through rollers, while the leaves are finely shredded; this material is then placed in a large wooden tank and covered with water, the mass is brought to the boiling point but not allowed to boil violently—being kept near but below the boiling point for forty-eight hours, the liquid being then ready for the tannery. After the tannin has been extracted, the palmetto is steamed in a chemical solution, which removes the silicate contained in the palmetto and changes the glossy shield to a gummy mass, which can be removed without injury to the fibre; but in making imitation horsehair this gummy mass is allowed to dry, as it adds to the elasticity of the fibre. There are several combinations in which the production of tannin and fibre is said to be practicable and advantageous, so that tanneries situated in the vicinity of paper mills can grind the palmetto in the same manner as bark, and the residue, after bleaching, is in proper shape for the paper mill.

CARNOT MEMORIAL CHAMBER.
 Widow of France's Martyred President Now Has It Completed.
 Mme. Carnot has now completed the memorial chamber dedicated to her martyred husband, and means that it shall be used as a private chapel. The room contains some praying chairs, President Carnot's desk and inkstand, and the souvenirs to which he was attached. On the walls hang the ribbons that tied the wreaths that appeared at his funeral, with the inscriptions turned to view, and the different silver wreaths sent from Russia are placed on easels. Albums filled with the letters of condolence and telegrams received from all the great ones on earth, and photographs of every description relating to the visit to Lyons and to the funeral are disposed in cases especially made for them. At Mme. Carnot's death these family treasures became her son's, but after that they will be given to the state, if then the state is republican and cares to remember the tragic assassination of its president well enough to receive their charge. The age changes so rapidly that one can not predict, even in a matter closely allied to the nation's welfare.

While at Peekskill, N. Y., Mr. J. A. Seriven, a prominent manufacturer of New York City, purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Such good results were obtained from its use that he sent back to the druggist from whom he had obtained it for two more bottles of the same remedy. When you have a cough or cold give this preparation a trial and like Mr. Seriven you will want it when again in need of such a medicine. It is a remedy of great worth and merit. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Deyo & Grice.

DISEASES OF WOMEN.
 Will be Treated Free by Dr. Hartman During the Summer Months.
 "Female diseases" is a term which has come, by constant use, to be applied to all of that very distressing class of affections which are peculiar to the female organism. At least three causes should be recognized. The cause which is perhaps most frequent is displacement of the womb. The second cause is congestion of one or more of the pelvic passages. The third cause is known as inflammation or ulceration. Per-n-ia should be taken in teaspoonful doses before each meal in all varieties and stages of the disease. This dose should be gradually increased after several weeks' use of it two tablespoonfuls. Vaginal injections should be taken three times a day, two or three quarts at each injection.
 Any woman wishing to become a regular patient of Dr. Hartman should send name, address, duration of disease and symptoms at once and specific directions for every detail of her treatment will be promptly sent. The doctor will direct every item of the treatment free of charge. The patient can obtain the necessary medicines at the nearest drug-store, and every patient will be expected to report once a month. This gives every woman in the United States a chance to receive the benefit of the extensive experience of this renowned physician in all forms of female disease.

 BUCK SKIN.

I have two little grand children who are teething this hot summer weather and are troubled with bowels complaint. I gave them Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy and it acts like a charm. I earnestly recommend it for children with bowel troubles. I was myself was taken with cramps and pains in my stomach, one-third of a bottle of this remedy cured me. Within twenty-four hours I was out of bed and doing my house work. Mrs. W. L. Pleasant Prairie.
 Everything looks prosperous for a good crop this year.
 Last Sunday Mr. Albright and some other gentlemen came over from Red Cloud and gave us some fine music and a few short addresses to the children. The people were well pleased.
 There is a large Sunday-school held here every Sunday morning, Mr. Michael the superintendent is doing all he can to make it interesting for the children.
 For the last two years we have had nine months of school each year. Mr. Dan Garber taught the last nine month and gave general satisfaction. School boards should keep a good teacher when they get one.
 This district is in the center between Red Cloud, Riverton, Inavale, Catherson and Blades. People coming from the east are well pleased with the county.
