We would like to look into the pleasant face of some one who has never had any derangement of the digestive organs. We see the drawn unhappy faces of dyspeptics in every walk of life. It is our national disease, and nearly all complaints spring from this source. Remove the stomach difficulty and the work is done. Dyspeptics and pale thin people are literally starving, because the don't digest their food. Consumption never develops in people of robust and normal digestion. Correct the wasting and loss of flesh and we cure the disease. Do this with food. The Shaker Digestive Cordial contains already digested food and is a digester of food at the same time. Its effects are felt at once. Get a pamphlet of your druggist and learn about it.

LAXOL is Castor oil made as sweet as honey by a new process. Children like it.

In Memoriam.
Respectfully dedicated to the memory of Frank Street by Leona Turner.
A loved one from our midst has gone
Up to the azure dome,
His spirit from the earth has flown,
To its eternal home.
His death into our hearts inflicts
A wound both deep and sore,
And unto us such sorrow brings
As was ne'er felt before.
His life was one of noblest worth
And hosts of friends had he,
Who, in our sad bereavement lend
Their heartfelt sympathy.
Throughout his life his friends
Were precious in his sight,
Of them he thought till on death's wing
His soul from earth took flight.
He died with manly willingness
Without regret or sigh,
For angel forms did beckon him
And closed his dying eyes.
Within the heartstone of our home
He leaves a vacant place,
But through faiths light we hope at death
In heaven to see his face.
Dear friend Frank if from the sky
You look on us below,
You know our sorrow and despair
Our grief our mortal woe.
Perhaps you wonder at our grief
If on us you look down,
The time is short when we with you
Shall wear the immortal crown.

Kenneth Bazemore had the good fortune to receive a small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy when three of his family were sick with dysentery. This one small bottle cured them all and he had some left, which he gave to Geo. W. Baker, a prominent merchant of the place, Lewiston, N. C., and it cured him of the same complaint. When troubled with dysentery, diarrhoea, colic or cholera morbus, give this remedy a trial and you will be more than pleased with the result. The praise that naturally follows its introduction and use has made it very popular. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Deyo & Gries, druggists.

P. W. Shea Sends the Great Family Weekly a Very Interesting Sketch of his Trip in the Far West.
ROCKWOOD, Wyo., Aug. 8.
EDITOR CHIEF:—We made the start at 7:10 yesterday a. m. as I had written you and arrived in camp at 4 p. m. after a drive and a walk of 28 miles up the mountains. I had to walk with Mr. Farrell as we were the only members of the party who could stand the hard strain. As I have stated we arrived at home or at camp at 4 a. m. tired and hungry, notwithstanding we had a lunch at noon; found most of the party well and it was very much like meeting a lot of friendly Indians. The women were dressed in their mountain costumes which added that peculiar spectacle referred to, as going into an Indian village. Take it all in all the trip up was grand and worth the trip over the 400 miles of almost a barren desert, viz: from Alliance, Nebraska. I met with only one mishap, if it might be so called, by forgetting my rifle at Ranchester, and as there is not a gun in camp of its calibre I am unable to use my ammunition, but there are plenty of arms in camp. The party has killed one bear weighing 500, and one deer. Grouse and speckled trout until you cannot rest. I was out a while last night with Mr. Young of Orleans and bagged 14 grouse, so you can judge from our success that they are a very tame bird, but for the trout I cannot say as much. The party has not been very successful with the line, but a cowboy came into camp yesterday and they started him for Tongue river at 2 o'clock, he was back by five with thirty-four as fine trout as an epicure ever gazed upon. By the way, we are camped in the Tongue river canyon about a thousand feet above its waters. The location is delightful in the extreme. A party of nine, including myself, walked up the great flumes owned and operated by J. H. McShane & Co. of Omaha for the purpose of transmitting or running lumber and railroad ties from their mills and camp on the Tongue river down to the railroad station, and it is worth going miles to see. The flume is nine miles long, running down the canyon, at times through tunnels and at other over great trussels, ranging in height from eight to one hundred feet above terra firma and at some points 2000 feet above the river bed. This flume conducts a great stream of water which runs at a great rate and every second a railroad tie, providing you are on the lookout, can be seen flying past. All the product of the mill is conducted down to the station in a like manner. Of all my mountain travels I have never seen anything quite its equal. The laying out of this flume is undoubtedly the grandest piece of engineering skill in the world, or at least I cannot conceive anything that will or could surpass its bold daring. The engineer who carried this project to completion is under twenty-eight years of age and is a member of our party as I write. Modern engineering is undoubtedly marvelous. It is impossible for mortal man to properly describe the work on this Tongue river; it must be seen to be appreciated. It is this flume that supplies the greatest part of the ties used annually by the B. & M. railroad company. The McShane company is under contract to furnish them 3,000,000. But I must refer to one more thing that I apprehend would be of interest to you and to the people of Red Cloud and vicinity, and that is the price obtained for staple groceries. I made inquiry this a. m. at the store at Redwood. It is a retail concern but one would think it wholesale when first viewing the stock. But to the point. Common tomatoes are sold at 25c. per can, Arbuckle's coffee at 35c. per pound, Horseshoe tobacco 65c. per pound, Battle-ax 50c. per pound, but Yeast Foam can be had for 5c. per package. The price printed on each package, I am informed by a clerk, is the only reason it is not sold for 15c. so it seems. Our party is the only one in this country after health. We leave for home about 4 p. m.—a walk down the flume. My wife did not accompany the party as I did not care to risk the trip for her until I had first explored it to my entire satisfaction. I send this letter in care of a freighter this p. m., hence I must close.
Yours truly,
P. W. SHEA.

She has crossed the lonely river
And her sufferings now are o'er,
She has gone to dwell forever
On that fair and peaceful shore.
Gone beyond the vale of shadows
With the angels to abide,
In that home of wondrous beauty
Just beyond the surging tide.

I have been a midwife for many years, and in each case where "MOTHERS' FRIEND" was used it accomplished wonders and shortened labor and lessened pain. It is the best remedy for RISING OF THE BREAST known, and worth the price for that alone.
