

Ducker's Cash Dry Goods House.

Of our New Cloaks, Jackets and Capes, Monday, Aug. 16th,

And continuing all the week. THE RELATIONS BETWEEN THE MERCHANT AND CONSUMER should be cemented by the goods sold. A merchant should have confidence in all goods which he purchases. The customer to whom he sells will, in turn, have reliance on the merchant, provided the goods which she buys prove satisfactory. We had this thought in our mind when we purchased our garments. Now we are ready to prove it to you.
