STUNNER.

Inavale.

The late dry, hot weather has very effectually "sured" the late corn.

Early corn is pretty generally good and the late drouth has not affected it.

The vicinity of Inavale is perhaps the most favored of any in the county in regard to corn, at least so they all say.

Mr. Woolford, a much respected citizen of Walnut creek township leaves this week with his family for Missouri, there to make his future home.

A number of other families in that vicinity are contemplating taking the same trip. Mr. Hickory moves onto the farm vacated by Mr. Woolford.

Neighbor Elders Guy Carter, former depot agent here but now stationed at Naponee, was a pleasant visitor at Inavale last Sunday. Everyone was glad to see him.

Mr. Walter Washburn our sociable R. R. agent hid himself to Republican one day last week and returned with an accomplished and handsome bride. Inavale extends an open handed welcome to them. "May they live long and prosper."

Our genial lumberman, Wm. Irons, while on a trip to Red Cloud one day last week left his wallet containing nearly $100 on the stamp window in the post office at that place. He thought for a while that "it was a goner" but it "came back" all right.

Nicholas Erastus Ladd, one of Inavale heavy men, has been taking in the sights at the National reunion at Louisville last week and is at present associating with old friends and kindred comrades in Chicago. On his return from that village they will get ready to move into their large and commodious dwelling recently erected.

Mrs. G. W. Knight will attend the old soldiers' and settlers' reunion at Republican this week. She is on the program for the address in answer to the address of welcome.
