EDITORIAL NOTES.

REMEMBER that a vote for the republican party means the return of prosperity as soon as that party comes into control of the government.

REMEMBER that voting the republican ticket is voting for prosperity. That people of Webster county, is what we need more than any one other thing. Prosperity can only be brought about by voting the republican party into power.

VOTE for McNeny and thereby save Webster county thousands of dollars that it is obliged to pay out for reversed cases that are sent back to the county because they were not decided according to law and evidence. We want a judge who understands the law sufficiently to decide a case so that it will not entail further expense upon the county after being once tried. McNeny has the ability to do so.

On last Saturday J. D. Stoddard, of Republican City, filed his certificate as a prohibition candidate for judge of the district court of the tenth judicial district. Mr. Stoddard is an excellent gentleman, and we have no doubt but that he will carry the vote of his party in this campaign. He is perhaps better known as the father of Miss Daisy Stoddard, who is quite well known in this city as an elocutionist.

In the year 1866 the republicans had in the treasury $37,223,303.07, and the balance in the treasury has been from that amount up to $145,543,810.71, and never in that period had they less than two million and a half in the treasury. How about the democratic party? In 1894 they run in debt $69,803,290.58, and in the first six months of '95 they followed their remarkable deficiency by $42,825,049.23, making a grand total of $112,628,339.87. If they can run the country in debt over a hundred million in a year and a half, what will they do in four years?

Tax candidates on the head of the republican ticket are among the best men in the state. Judge Norval has gained a wide reputation as a jurist, and his career on the supreme bench of Nebraska has won for him a splendid reputation along that line. He has been fair and honorable in all his dealings with the people, and they will see to it that he is returned to the supreme bench. For regents of the state university the state convention wisely nominated two men who fully understand the urgent needs of Nebraska's greatest institution. Their names are C. H. Morrill and H. L. Gould. See that you vote for them.

THE TAX PAYERS' BURDEN.

What Judge Beall's Incompetency Costs the People of the Tenth District.

In a recent issue, THE CHIEF made the statement that the supreme court had, so far, reached fourteen of the cases tried before Judge Beall and had reversed ten of them, on account of errors committed by Judge Beall on the trial of the cases. The Adams County Democrat seems to doubt the truthfulness of this statement, and last week's issue of the Democrat contained the following editorial:

"COST OF LITIGATION. The Red Cloud CHIEF, a republican paper published at the home of Hon. James McNeny, makes some very startling disclosures in last week's issue. The Democrat hopes that the campaign will be conducted with due regard for the truth, and, while we cannot dispute the statements made by THE CHIEF, they do appear improbable. It says: 'The published decisions of the supreme court to date show that fourteen cases from Judge Beall's court have been decided, out of which ten have been reversed. In other words, the judge has guessed correctly just about one third of the time; the balance of the time, costs have accumulated for tax payers to pay.' We say it seems improbable that, out of fourteen of Judge Beall's cases decided, ten should be reversed by the supreme court. If it is untrue, it is a reflection upon Judge Beall which should not go undisputed."

In order to convince the Democrat that the statement made by THE CHIEF was correct, and also for the benefit of the tax payers and litigants of this judicial district, we below publish a list of the cases and the county in which they were tried:

- Vennum vs Huston, Webster county, reversed.
Nebraska Loan and Trust Co. vs Hamer, Phelps county, reversed.
Bartell vs The State, Harlan county, reversed.
Clark vs The State, Webster county, reversed.
Blaine vs Poyer, Webster county, reversed.
Snyder vs Dangier, Adams county, reversed.
City of Hastings vs Hansen, Adams county, reversed.
Ball vs Wicks, Harlan county, reversed.
C. B. & Q. R. R. vs Howard, Adams county, reversed.
City of Hastings vs Foxworthy, Kearney county, reversed.
The following cases were affirmed:
Warrick vs Latta, Adams county, affirmed.
Ball vs Nelson, Harlan county, affirmed.
Powers vs Body, Adams county, affirmed.
Peterson vs Skjelver, Webster county, affirmed.

We think that this ought to convince the Democrat that our statement was correct.

And we wish to further state that, not only were the ten cases out of the fourteen reversed on account of Beall's errors, but the supreme court says that there was error in the four that were affirmed, but not such error as was sufficient to reverse the case, so that there was error on Judge Beall's part in every one of the cases tried. All of these cases were reversed because of error committed by Judge Beall upon the trial of the case, either in his instructions to the jury or in the admissibility of evidence. Such a record for incompetency is unparalleled in the history of the judiciary.

One hundred and twenty-eight cases tried before Judge Beall during the first three years of his term have been appealed to the supreme court. Out of this number, the supreme court has reached the fourteen above. If the cases are reversed in the same ratio as the fourteen above, there will be ninety-eight cases reversed, which means an expense to the people of this judicial district of at least $9,000—that is, it will cost this district $9,000 to try these cases which have been reversed and sent back for new trials. It will take from one to two days to try each one of these cases, at an expense to the county in which the case is tried of from $75 to $100 per day for the jurors and other court expenses. Few people are aware of the fact that the county can only collect from litigants the sum of $5 for the use of the jury for trying the case.

Section 28 on page 593, of Wheeler's statutes of Nebraska, says: There shall be paid by the party against whom a verdict is rendered, in the district court, a jury fee of five dollars, to be taxed in the bill of costs, and, when collected, to be paid into the county treasury.

Therefore, the tax payers of this judicial district will be compelled, on account of Judge Beall's ignorance of the law, to pay out about $9,000 and receive from the litigants only $490. This does not include what it will cost the litigants to try the cases, but only what the district is obliged to pay for jurors, etc.

THE CHIEF thinks that, in the face of such a record for incompetency as this, Judge Beall ought not to attempt to thrust himself upon the honest litigants and tax payers of this judicial district.

The doctors tell us, now-a-days, that disease germs are everywhere; in the air, in the water, in our food, clothes, money; that they get into our bodies, live there, thrive and grow, if they find anything to thrive on. Consumption is the destruction of lung-tissue by germs where the lung is too weak to conquer them. The remedy is strength—vital force.

Scott's Emulsion, with hypophosphites, means the adjustment of lung strength to overcome germ-life. It is fighting the germ with the odds in our favor. These tiny little drops of fat-food make their way into the system and re-fresh and re-invigorate it. Whether you succeed with it or not depends on how good a start the germs had, and how carefully you can live. The shortest way to health is the patient one. The gain is often slow.

LITIGATION in this district is practically just where it was when Judge Beall went on the bench.

EVERY criminal case tried before Judge Beall has been reversed by the supreme court. Not a single criminal case tried before him has been affirmed.

THE Council Bluffs Nonpareil, one of the staunchest as well as one of the sprightliest republican dailies, comes to our office. The Nonpareil has established an Omaha office and is serving Nebraskans with true republicanism. Republicans can take the Nonpareil and be sure of getting republican news.

THE county republican ticket is composed of good men such as you can vote for, knowing that they will do their duty in every case and alike to every one. We want good men and the republicans have them. Remember that republican success this year means republican victory in '96, and we opine that condition of affairs will bring about prosperity, and that is what we want and want it badly. Then vote the republican ticket.

FROM 1865 to 1893, under republican rule, there was not a year under the blessed effects of protection that there was not a balance of trade in favor of the United States. The minute that the democratic party got control of the government, the conditions changed and the trade balance has been going against us. Not only that, but the government has been running into debt and borrowing money to run for the first time since the war. Do we want that kind of business any more? Well, we guess not, if the people have their senses about them and we think they have. Such an overturning as was never heard of will take place this and next year, when the democrats will be turned out of office to make room for the grand old republican party.

It is generally understood among the lawyers practicing before Judge Beall that he cannot himself write instructions for the jury, consequently the lawyers write their own instructions, and of course they are conflicting, but Judge Beall is not well enough posted in the law to distinguish the difference in the instructions and invariably gives instructions on both sides of the case. The supreme court in the case of Snyder vs Dangier, tried before Judge Beall in the district court of Adams county, says in reference to instructions given by Judge Beall to the jury: "The court (Beall) nowhere distinguished the rules in regard to the burden of proof as depending on the facts of possession, and the instructions, when taken as a whole, instead of helping one another out and comprising a correct statement of the law, were confusing and misleading. The case illustrates the fact that the trial judge should assume the duty of himself preparing instructions covering the law of the case, and not depend entirely upon instruction requested by the parties, which will seldom alone afford systematic and logical statements of the law." Do the people of this judicial district want a man for district judge who is incompetent to write an instruction to a jury? THE CHIEF thinks not.

The French say "it is the impossible that happens." This has proved to be the case with the Mount Lebanon Shakers. The whole scientific world has been laboring to cure dyspepsia, but every effort seemed to meet with defeat. The suffering from stomach troubles has become almost universal. Multitudes have no desire for food and that which they do eat causes them pain and distress. Sleepless nights are the rule and not the exception and thousands of sufferers have become discouraged. Obituary.

Christian Jensen, deceased, was born in Lunden-Holstein, Germania, February 14th, 1828, and died October 17th, 1895, at the home of his son, John Jensen, Red Cloud, Nebraska. He leaves four sons to mourn his death.

He served in the Revolutionary war of 1818-51 in Germania, in which the Province of Schleswig-Holstein was severed from Denmark and again united with the balance of the German-speaking people under the king of Prussia. He was wounded in that war three times; had one bullet to pierce his helmet and had boiling water poured on him from the top of a house in Colding, Denmark, but was in the hospital but twice, his wounds being all slight flesh wounds. He was awarded the Trow Cross in token of his bravery, which he afterwards lost, and which loss he always deplored. Finally, he was discharged at the close of the war and lived a farmer's life in the country. Coming to the United States in 1881, he settled in Lincoln, Neb., where he buried his wife, after being in this country but 38 days. She died with typhoid fever, contracted on the journey to this country. He soon after lost his second oldest son, August, the same year, at the age of twenty-five years, the oldest son having died in Germany at the age of eleven years; the youngest son died at the age of two years in Germania, leaving four sons now living.

Mr. Jensen moved to Webster county in the spring of 1885, on a farm on Walnut creek, which now belongs to his estate. He was a firm believer in the Christian faith, and belonged to the Lutheran church to his end. His age was 67 years, 8 months, 3 days.

Owing to a considerable sickness in the city it would not be unwise for the people to clean up their premises, burn the rubbish, and disinfect out-houses, etc. It may save several cases of sickness.

A Letter From Lincoln, at the State University.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

In a ten minute talk to the students on Wednesday, before Chapel exercises began, Prof. Nicholson gave some important facts and suggestions relative to sugar beet culture in Nebraska. The following is his address in substance: "Our state is well adapted, both in climate and soil, to the culture of the sugar beet; we possess the means for an exceedingly paying industry. When we remember that, of the seventy million pounds of sugar consumed annually by the people of Nebraska, only about six million pounds are produced in the state; and that, of the $4,000,000 paid out by us annually for the necessity, about $3,000,000 goes out of the state, we are forced to conclude that we are not living up to the measure of our possibilities. There is no plausible excuse for not keeping at home this $3,000,000, and no reason for not drawing a like amount from our less fortunate neighboring states. In addition to good climate and good soil, careful selection of seed and intelligent cultivation are necessary to the successful cultivation of beets. Beet-farming is to ordinary farming what post-graduate work is to preparatory work—it is a kind of post-graduate course in farming. It is necessary that the ground be stirred to the depth of about one foot, and that the seed be put in the ground at the right time. But the culture of the sugar beet pays for this extra care and knowledge. An average crop will yield fifteen tons per acre, and bring five dollars per ton. The cost of production being from $25 to $35 per acre, a large profit is yielded. A crop so little affected by the drouth should be eagerly sought by the farmers, especially when the demand for it is so great.

"With the increase of beet culture, factories will come among us," the professor said, "and that means more work for our laborers; not only for unskilled laborers, but for those educated—graduates of the university—for these must have experts, machinists and chemists. This industry will yet be the principal one in the state, for it not only offers employment with good remuneration to farmers and factory laborers, but it will keep within the state the many millions of dollars annually sent abroad for sugar, as well as draw to us the money expended for the same article by our neighboring states."

Prof. Nicholson emphasized the importance of the university students' keeping the people of their respective communities awake to the bulletins published from time to time by the University Experiment Station.

These bulletins give the results of experiments in such matters as the culture of the sugar beet, alfalfa, etc., the preservation of moisture, and the habits and ravages of various insects, with methods for destroying them. They may be had free on application. J. F. BOOMER.

SLEEPS SOUNDLY AND PEACEFULLY EVERY NIGHT HE LIVES.

Sleep is one of the things that cannot be put off from night to night. The punishment for sleeplessness is worse than pain. It means a shattered mind.

It often happens that a sudden stress of work or anxiety robs one of the night's rest. The effect is soon apparent in the languor, headaches and listlessness that ensue.

If rapid and abundant means are employed to repair the exhausted parts the nerves regain their elasticity. But if an unnatural privation of sleep is carried beyond the stretching power of the brain the whole nervous system becomes undone, and prostration results.

little difficulty in convincing their friends of the remarkable power of Paine's celery compound to restore their energy, renew their vigor, and make them strong and well.

Here is a letter from Mr. Max Burghelm the well known president and manager of the Cincinnati Freie Presse Company. Mr. Burghelm writes:

"The following statement may be of interest. I have been suffering from sleeplessness, insomnia, for many years, and although I have tried almost everything to get cured, consulted the best physicians, and even going several times to Europe, everything was in vain.

"I did not have a night's rest for almost six years, that is to say, I could not sleep for two hours in succession in a single night; you can easily imagine what the effect on me had been.

"After spending a fortune in trying for relief I had given up almost all hope, and when I first read about Paine's celery compound I did not have much faith in anything. But after having used so many remedies and consulted so many physicians in this county and abroad I felt like giving the compound a trial. The result was truly wonderful.

"The very first night about six months ago that I tried Paine's celery compound you can imagine my joy when I found that I had slept six hours in succession, a thing that I had not been blessed with for so many years. I continued the use for over three months with the same happy result and although I was fearful lest the malady would come back on me, I can now say that although I have not taken the compound for months I do sleep every night peacefully and without interruption.

"You can easily imagine what this means for a man who works fourteen hours every day in the year and has charge of two large newspapers. I consider my case a most remarkable one and I should be glad if this statement should be the means of helping others who have suffered like I have. I have not a word to say for this reason I give you full permission to make use of this statement in any way you choose."
