RED CLOUD, NEBRASKA, MARCH 27, 1896.

In combination, proportion and process Hood's Sarsaparilla is peculiar to itself, and unequalled in true merit. No other medicine ever possessed so much curative power, or reached such enormous sales, or made such wonderful cures, as Hood's Sarsaparilla.

It is undoubtedly the best medicine ever made to purify, vitalize and enrich the blood.

That is the secret of its success. Read this statement:

"When my son was 7 years of age, he had rheumatic fever and acute rheumatism, which settled in his left hip. He was so sick that no one thought there was any help for him. Five sores broke out on his thigh, which the doctor said were sores. We had three different doctors. Pieces of bone came out of the sores. The last doctor said the leg would have to be cut up and the bone scraped, before he could get well. Howard became so low that he would eat nothing, and one doctor said there was no chance for him.

"One day, a newspaper recommending Hood's Sarsaparilla was left at our door. We decided to try this medicine. Howard commenced taking it the last of February, after having been sick for a year and a half. He hadn't taken it a week before I saw that his appetite began to improve, and then he gained rapidly. I gave him five bottles, when the sores were all healed and they never broke out again. The crutches he had used for four years were laid aside, as he had no further use for them. I give all the credit to Hood's Sarsaparilla." Mrs. ADA L. MOODY, Fay Street, Lynn, Mass.

This and many similar cures prove that

Weather Forecasts.

RED CLOUD, NEB., March 20 1896

The following is the weather forecast for the next 24 hours:

Partly cloudy tonight and Saturday. Warmer south-east position tonight, colder Saturday.

E. W. COWDEN, Local Manager.

NOTE—These forecasts will be displayed daily in every postoffice in Web-county.

Invants.

Folks are getting ready for spring work.

We had a warm fire here Tuesday morning about 8:40. The alarm of fire was sounded and every one turned out and found the store of Mr. Vance to be in flames. Every one worked faithfully and saved the stores of Mr. Knight and Mr. Sawyer, by putting wet carpets on the drug store. Mr. Vance's store was almost a total loss, except what belonged to the postoffice. He had $1,000 insurance on his stock and store.

Mr. Irons has got a new riding lister and his son William will farm this summer.

A number from here are attending the Sunday school convention this week.

Geo. Hummel is painting his buggy.

Miss Florence Sawyer is spending a week's vacation at home this week.

Mr. VanDyke and wife went to Franklin Tuesday to visit her brother whose wife is very sick.

Howard Reynolds took the train for Beatrice Monday, where he is going to work this summer.

Tom Jones and A. E. Wolcott are going to farm Mr. Richardson's land near the river this summer.

H. G. Sawyer is shelling out his corn this week.

The post office is now running in Mr. Irons office.

From Our Traveller.

BELOIT, WIS., March 25, 1896.

One of our reporters going through Wisconsin to visit the "old folks," stopped off at Beloit, where he had to change cars. Having a few hours to while away, he commenced strolling around to see the city. The first thing to strike him as peculiar was the crooked streets, and, naturally wondering why they should be so crooked, he stepped up to a middle-aged man standing in front of a hotel, and asked him to explain the matter. "Certainly, sir," and went on to give the desired information. Finally the stranger offered to show him around, and our reporter gladly accepted. "You won't have time to see everything," said the guide, "so I will show you what makes Beloit so widely and favorably known."

Walking east and a little north, they soon came in sight of the College Campus, which is covered with blue grass, and places here and there they saw Indian mounds among the scattered trees. "This ground is just as the Indians left it, with a few of the trees cut out," began the stranger, "and this place here is known as Turtle mound; you see it represents very well the back of a turtle. I will take you to the old buildings first, and give you an idea of how things used to be carried on. This building here is old Middle College (red brick, you see), built in 1847-48, at a cost of about $10,000, and was refitted in '79 at a cost of $4,000. Until '93 it was the principal building for instruction of the college proper.

"This is North College," he said, as they walked toward an oldish-looking two-story building, "which was built in '54 for $8,000; it was long the principal dormitory, and, until the completion of Chapin Hall, the place of the college boarding club. The old chapel over there, now called the Art Hall, was built in '58, for $6,000. For a while it was used as an academy, but it is now devoted to art."

They next approached an old wooden building, which seemed to say: "I have finished my course." "This is South College," the stranger went on, "erected in '68, at the war price of $5,000; it met, for a time, the great need of more dormitory room, and is now used as the music room. This is Memorial Hall, of lime-stone you see, and was erected in '93 at a cost of $26,000. The library was brought to the upper story from Middle College, and the cabinets to the lower. Step in and look around; this is as good a library as you will find in the west."

It was, as he said, a good one. Lighted by electricity, heated by steam, and fitted with all modern conveniences. The books, about 18,000 volumes, nearly all of them could be drawn out by the students for a period of two weeks, the librarian informed him in answer to his questions.

Leaving the library, they approached a small, but fine building of stone: "Smith's Observatory," the guide explains, "dates from '81, costing, with equipment, $22,000. This to the left is Scoville Hall, the gift of J. W. Scoville; it was erected in 1889-90, at a cost of $27,000. It was the first of the four thoroughly modern and notably perfect buildings erected in the past few years for the college."

Going to the extreme north part of the Campus, they came to a four-story red brick building, which the guide said was Chapin Hall, the gift of Dr. D. K. Pearsons, and costing $27,000. It is fitted," he said, "for sixty-eight students, and, on the ground-floor, quarters and equipment for a boarding club of one hundred and twenty-five. Come in and see the rooms," he added, cordially, and then he explained that he was a trustee of the college, and had a perfect right to visit any of the rooms and take with him whomever he pleased. Going on from room to room, our reporter was surprised to see on one of the doors, Cotting and Overing! Knocking on the door, and receiving a loud "Come in," they entered and found the boys with their feet upon the window-sill, industriously studying Bowser's Analytics. We will leave our readers to imagine for themselves the reception, for the boys had not seen anyone from Red Cloud since last September. Many and varied were the questions put and answered, but, wishing to save time, they all went to see the rest of the buildings.

"This," said the trustee, "is our new chapel, built by Mrs. A. E. H. Doyon, and costing, with the organ, about $34,000. It is one of the finest structures of its kind in the west."

"This is Pearsons Hall, dedicated in January, 1893, costing $75,000, besides the equipments. It is the largest and most elaborate of all the college buildings. The departments of physics, geology, botany, and chemistry have suites of rooms in the wings, each occupying two floors. The office of the president and the trustees, and of the scientific association, with the museum above them, make the front. At the center here is the auditorium, seating 300 people. It was a great day for the college when its scientific work emerged from the cramped quarters in Middle College and entered the large, well-lighted, and well-equipped rooms of Pearsons Hall.

"There, you have seen the buildings and know something of the scope of our work. I am sorry you have not time to meet the professors; excellent gentlemen, all of them."

As it was nearing train time, our reporter bade the two Eds a hearty good bye, and, shaking hands with the cordial trustee, he left the campus and made his way to the train.

Seems as if consumption always picks out the brightest and best. Fully one-sixth of all the deaths that occur in the world are caused by consumption. Many things were once considered impossible. It would be strange if medical science did not make some progress. The telegraph and telephone, the phonograph, the electric light—all were once impossible, and once it was impossible to cure consumption. That was before the time of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Taken according to directions, this standard remedy will cure 98 per cent, of all cases of consumption. Consumption is caused and fostered by impurity in the blood. It is cured by purity and richness in the blood—surely, certainly cured by the "Medical Discovery." It builds up solid healthy flesh and vigorous strength. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a 1008 page medical work, profusely illustrated, will be sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to cover postage only. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, New York.

Cowles.

Having been absent so long, and scarcely ever seeing any items from Cowles, I thought I would send in a few, lest leap year should go by and I be left an old bach again.

Farmers are busy now in the fields. Since the snow is gone ground is in good condition.

The dance at Mt. Hope was a grand success, although some went home before it was over.

Floy Boren has been sick the past two or three weeks but is much better now.

Crooked Creek.

The farmers are prophesying a good crop this season, and we hope they are right.

Hank Maurer will have no ice to put around his apple trees this spring.

So Smuggler took a cigar. Well, we are surprised! He usually takes a bottle of champagne.

Hank says there is another pound on again, and unless Joe makes him and Oliver get in line, things will have to go different next fall.

Oliver Hedge is thinking of spending the summer in Indiana. O, don't go, Oliver; she'll be back again.

George Winton is still cutting wood. Leonard Smith wants to draw straws, but George prefers having a duel.

The entertainment in Dist. 75 last Thursday night was a success. Mrs. S. Cox closed her school in that district last Saturday.

Steve Morrison thinks those steers of Mr. Reiber's are ready to ship.

Smuggler, do give the people of Crooked Creek a rest, and open up a correspondence with Richard Croker, as the time will soon be here.

TRIX.

Amboy.

Fine Weather.

Mr. Rasmussen arrived here Sunday evening.

Frank Frisbie and wife spent Sunday in Red Cloud.

G. C. Mann was home Sunday.

Misses Susie and Alta Baker were attending the Sunday school convention this week.

Joe Saladen was on our streets last Monday.

C. H. Frisbie and wife were visiting in Guide Rock Sunday.

We think the editor will have to put on an extra sheet for the Amboy correspondent.

Low Beal expects to go home to board about the 28th.

Mrs. Miller will lead the Endeavor meeting Sunday evening. Don't forget that it is consecration night, and be prepared.

Judson.

Fine weather and the ground is in good condition for spring.

School closes in Dists. 90 and 78 next Wednesday, after a 7 month's term.

Miss Mary Mountford spent a few days in Red Cloud visiting Mrs. Strohm.

The Mt. Hope Epworth League is largely attended. It is the best thing we have ever seen for young people.

Mr. Corbett led last Sunday evening. Mrs. Mountford will lead next.

Miss Lena Stoner is quite sick but we hope she will soon be around again.

Miss Lizzie Barrett is having a pleasant visit with us again.

A number of young folks met at Mrs. Davis's Sunday and had a good time.

Listen for the wedding bells soon to ring.

Mr. Albert Rubins got tired of Missouri and of course came back to Kansas.

Wes Starr and Rev. Horton are running a series of meetings at Beardsley school house, also at Penny creek by Rev. Wells. JAY HAWKER.

It's just as easy to try One Minute Cough Cure as anything else. It's easier to cure a severe cough or cold with it. Let your next purchase for a cough be One Minute Cough Cure, Better medicine; better result; better try it. C. L. Cotting.

Bladen.

Miss Ida Williams left Tuesday en route to St. Joe, where she expects to spend the summer with Mrs. A. Williams.

Mr. C. E. Budlong and baby, of Campbell, were the guests of Mrs. J. R. Horn Monday of this week.

Mrs. D. P. Kimmel is visiting Grandma Monroe in Kansas.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Spence rejoice over the event of a daughter being born into their family Monday. Earnest will not be able to shave any this week.

Daggett Bros., of Riverton, were canvassing the city the fore part of this week.

W. M. Grannis left Monday morning on a commercial trip. We can tell you how good his cigars are, and don't you forget it.

Our doctor has been kept busy during the past week, attending to the sick in this vicinity.

Nellie Thorne, who has been attending the state university, dropped in on his friends Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Grandstaff are preparing to move onto the farm vacated by H. D. Mitchell.

J. E. Yost spent last week in Swanton.

Mr. L. B. Thorne, wife, and children arrived Thursday evening from Michigan.

Dave Byrne was a passenger to Holdrege last Thursday evening, returning Friday morning.

Kid Bennett is making himself useful in the store of Byrne Bros., tearing off calico by the yard for the pretty young ladies.

Some twelve or fifteen members of the Bladen A. O. U. W. lodge mustered courage enough to attend the Campbell lodge Saturday evening to see several members ride the goat into the ways of a mystic workman. They report the Campbell lodge as being up to date, having all the latest paraphernalia, and are up in the manner of using the same. The lodge is in a good, healthy, thriving condition, and the members are good, genial, accommodating fellows, and words of praise fall from the lips of all who attended, of the hospitality of the Campbell lodge.

On an invitation, the Campbell lodge came down to Bladen Monday evening, bringing their paraphernalia and assisting to take several members into the Bladen lodge, who were very much impressed with the workings of the order. There are many others on the way to unite with the order. The members all seemed to enjoy the visit of the Campbell lodge, and hope that they may soon come again.

Sciatic Rheumatism Cured.

L. Wagner, Wholesale Druggist, Richmond, Va., says: "I had a fearful attack of Sciatic Rheumatism, was laid up almost two months, was fortunate enough to get MYSTIC CURE FOR RHEUMATISM. This cured me after doctor's prescriptions had failed to have any effect. Sold by H. E. Grice druggist, Red Cloud."

Walnut Creek.

Tom Blank received the contract to cord the wood for the school district. He did a good job if he did cast sheep's eyes at the school marm now and then.

Mrs. Jessen is quite sick at present, but is reported better.

The whist club met at Mr. Arne-son's Friday evening. Uncle Joe got left.

Jim Kindscher has moved on the place occupied by Walt Vanderberg last summer.

The boys in district 3 erected a snow fort one day last week, and several teams became frightened at it, somebody was kind enough to upset it and the boys had to build another one.

Mrs. Mary Arneson was visiting at Mr. Vanderburg's Friday.

Squire Jones and Col. Woods were hauling hay last week.

Two more weeks of school and then a long vacation.

To the boys, or young men as they call themselves, who went to the school house the other night for the purpose of having some fun, we would say, you had better be careful and after this think twice before you act so again.

Take a dose of DeWitt's Little Early Risers just for the good they will do you. These little pills are good for indigestion good for headache, good for liver complaint, good for constipation. They are good. C. L. Cotting.

Pyramid Pile Cure Cures Piles Quickly, Painlessly, Without Danger.

People go along for years suffering with piles. Then try this and that and the other thing; from carrying a buckeye to getting treatment from a physician. They obtain temporary relief, maybe, but they are never quite cured. A little strain in lifting, excessive fatigue, a little constipation or a little diarrhoea and the piles come back.

This don't seem to amount to much, but they banish sleep and appetite. No position is comfortable. There is intense local pain and that dreadful feeling of weight in the perineum.

Maybe in the early stages some of the many salves on sale will afford temporary relief. If the case is of long standing there is only one speedy and sure remedy. It is Pyramid Pile Cure. Even in light cases it is the safest thing to use. Other applications may cure and may not. Pyramid Cure is always certain, always reliable, always brings comfort at once. Its prompt use saves months of severe suffering. In extreme cases it will save surgical operations and their attendant dangers and discomforts. It is better than a knife. Will cure easier, quicker and safer. Thousands have used it. Thousands have been cured by it. The cost is trifling compared with what it does. The price is fifty cents. Most anybody would gladly pay ten dollars to be rid of piles.

Druggists sell Pyramid Pile Cure. If yours hasn't it he will get it for you from the Pyramid Drug Co. of Albion, Mich. (sole manufacturers.)

Rheumatism Cured in a Day. "MYSTIC CURE" for Rheumatism and Neuralgia radically cures in 1 to 3 days. Its action upon the system is remarkable and mysterious. It removes at once the cause and the disease immediately disappears. The first dose greatly benefits. 75 cents. Sold by H. E. Grice druggist, Red Cloud.
