WASHINGTON NOTES.

The senate having marched up the hill has now started to march down. After frightening President Cleveland and Secretary Olney in the belief that the arbitration treaty was to be hung up if not actually rejected, the senate committee on foreign relations has made a favorable report on the treaty and amended it to meet the objections, and in due time the treaty will be ratified, and there is no reason to suppose that England will raise any objection to the amendments. Although members of the committee have publicly said that they would not be hurried by public clamor, there isn't the slightest doubt that they have been hurried by the great pressure of public opinion in favor of prompt and favorable action on the treaty, which has been brought to bear upon them. It is very well for senators to talk about defying public opinion, but as a matter of fact, few of them ever do.

Speaker Reed is still inexorable on the public building question, and the men who want the public building bills acted upon, although they are numerous enough to override the speaker of the house, are apparently afraid to openly rebel.

Another treaty with Great Britain has been sent to the senate. It provides for a settlement of the long dispute over a portion of the boundary line between Alaska and the British possessions, and already the question is being asked, why the whole Alaskan boundary was not included? Perhaps Secretary Olney will answer this question when the senate committee on foreign relations get ready to take up the new treaty. It is quite certain that he will be asked to do so.

Openly none of the republicans in congress have anything but words of praise for the selection of Mr. Lyman J. Gage to be secretary of the treasury in the McKinley cabinet, but among themselves, those who think that no man should be honored who cannot stand the test of party fealty, do not hesitate to say that the selection of Mr. Gage was bad politics on the part of Maj. McKinley. They do not deny Mr. Gage's fitness from a strictly business point of view to administer the affairs of the treasury department, but they think that the same tariff opinions which caused Mr. Gage to vote for Cleveland, will influence him when he comes to administer the tariff law which the republicans expect to put upon the statute books at the coming extra session of congress, and that the result will not be satisfactory to those who believe in protection before everything else in tariff matters. The men who believe in silver as well as those who hope to see the financial question handled conservatively by the coming administration, regard the selection of Mr. Gage with some suspicion, and some of them do not hesitate to say that although Mr. Gage lives in Chicago, his connection with Wall street is as close as that of any New York banker.

Senator Allen has introduced a bill which would unquestionably make a good and useful law, if properly enforced, but which wouldn't have one chance in a thousand, even if there were a year instead of a month remaining of the present session of congress. The title of the bill is "To Prevent the Over Capitalization of Corporations," and it provides that all interstate railroad, steamboat and telegraph companies shall file a correct schedule of their assets with the commissioners of railroads, together with written evidence to show that their capital stock does not exceed the actual value of their assets.

Representative Watson, of Ohio, has introduced a bill providing for a new member of the cabinet, a secretary of labor. It is not a new idea, nor will it become a law just yet, although it probably will some day.

The U. S. supreme court will now have a go at the case of the Three Friends, one of the alleged Cuban filibustering vessels, the attorney general having at the instance of the secretary of state, applied for a writ of certiorari in every day English (so the case is before the supreme court—because the latter official isn't satisfied with the ruling of Judge Locke, of the southern district, of Florida, in proceedings brought against the vessel.

The most popular member of McKinley's cabinet yet named, is Gen. A. Alger, of Michigan, who is to be secretary of war. When Senator Sherman was elected as secretary of state, it was supposed that Gen. Alger would no longer be considered as a cabinet possibility because it was known that the two men had not been on friendly terms since the publication of Sherman's book, but it seems that they have agreed to let bygones be bygones, and to be friends. At any rate they are to serve in the cabinet together. Gen. Alger is personally one of the most genial and approachable men to be found in a day's search, and his experience ought to make him a good executive officer.

INVALE.

The backbone of winter is broken but plenty of ice has been stacked for summer use.

Mr. A. Jones of Franklin, a property owner in this city, was doing business here last Saturday.

Two notable weddings in high society are to be pulled off next month at Inavale, so it is stated.

Corn is on the way to market in immense quantities now, the cold dry weather having fixed it for shipping.

The Inavale cheese factory finished putting up one thousand tons of pure hard ice for use this summer, last Friday.

Chas. Hunter is building cribs for 20,000 bushels more of ear corn. He expects to sell it out next fall for 35cts per bushel.

Dr. Ot Pope, a traveling man from Red Cloud, was a pleasant caller in our city last week. He is selling call weaners for bicycles.

Mr. Charley Depew Miller is putting his summer cottage in town in repair and will move down again soon and take the firemanship of the cheese factory.

Col. W. N. Richardson and Elmer Simons have dissolved partnership in the ranch business. Mr. Richardson will retain the ranch while Elmer will take span of mules and the road.

Mr. Prentiss, and family, formerly residents of this community but now of Denver, are billed to return to their large ranch south of town about the first of March, where they expect to settle a down to peaceful farm life again.

Mrs. Dr. Wilkins of Oskaloosa, Iowa, is visiting with her daughter Mrs. Walter. Her stay is rather indefinite, she being wholly guided by circumstances. During her visit she will probably make inquiries into the moral character of George Hummel with a view to taking him into the family.

Col. Henry Bockner Simons has rented the Vandyke property on Prospect Hill, and will make his residence there the coming year as commander of a chicken farm—a chicken's home. He did not have to be appointed by the governor to the position, consequently he got there easily. He intends to appoint Col. Ladd as his adjutant.

STATE CREEK.

Considerable sickness in this part at present.

Little Suda Scrivner is considerable better of her throat trouble.

John Davis has located in Nebraska for this year near Pleasant Dale.

Diphtheria scare has closed the Mt. Hope and Fairview school for two weeks.

Edd Mountford has been real sick for several days under the care of Dr. McKeely.

Mr. Edd Cosper has been under the treatment of his family physician, Dr. Rhodes for some time though is better at this writing.

Shelled corn is offered on this creek at eight cents per bushel. Mark that down and we will set up the cigars if it is that low under President McKinley's administration.

Last week we had mud now it is very cold weather and roads rough, and with such a winter as we are having we may expect a good crop this year and better prices under the republican administration.

The attention of hunters is called to the fact that they should not kill the little innocent quail that one only pays for the ammunition but doesn't benefit in any other way, but they are a great help to farmers and those interested in farming to help destroy the chintz bugs. Over south of us Tom Williams killed one that had 127 of the little insects in his craw. So how many would one flock destroy in one day.

Poor old Kansas only think of it, a few years ago she was at war with Missouri. One reliable old man, and by the way a preacher, who lived in the eastern part of the state, said that Missourians came over there and took all of his stock and drove it off breaking him up and now he has forgotten it and votes with them. Yes, Kansas and Missouri are now touching elbows in their demopocraic views.

OCCASIONAL.

Dreadful Rheumatism.

No disease has puzzled the doctors so completely as rheumatism—that deplorable condition of the blood which so often renders the strongest man as helpless as a babe. Their mercurial and potash remedies may in some cases impart temporary relief, but are sure to ultimately result in wrecking the entire system.

Rheumatism is a deep-seated blood disease and only a real blood remedy will have any effect whatever upon it. Most of the so-called blood remedies are at best only tonics and cannot reach an obstinate blood trouble. One of the most frequent symptoms of rheumatism is a tingling sensation of the parts affected, generally brought about from a lack of free circulation of the blood through the very small blood conductors. This trouble is always eliminated by the use of S. S. S.; it thins the blood, gives it a free and forcible circulation, destroys the poisonous microbes and restores the circulation to its normal condition.

Mr. Robert H. King, a prominent and influential citizen of West Point, Va., writes of his experience with this dread disease:

"About five years ago I was a great sufferer from rheumatism. I was treated by all the leading physicians in the state, but without relief. In fact, my sufferings grew worse daily, until I despaired of ever being cured. "I had been in this wretched condition for many months and was almost a complete wreck, when I first read the advertisement of S. S. S. Having tried a dozen or more 'rheumatic cures' and 'blood remedies' with no success, I was almost hopeless, but decided to give your medicine a trial. I did so, and in a few weeks it had made a permanent cure of me. I was soon a well man and have never had a touch of rheumatism to this day. S. S. S. is indeed a wonderful medicine, and I shall ever recommend it to all sufferers from this worst of blood diseases."

S. S. S. stands out distinctly to itself as a real blood remedy, and for half a century has been curing obstinate and deep-seated blood diseases which other medicines fail to reach. S. S. S. is not a drug store preparation and no druggist can offer a substitute for it. It is guaranteed purely vegetable, and contains not a particle of potash, mercury, or any other product of the chemist's shop.

S. S. S. never fails to cure Rheumatism, Eczema, Cancer, Scrofula, or any other disease of the blood, it matters not what other treatment has failed. Our books on blood and skin diseases will be mailed free to any address. Swift Specific Company, Atlanta, Ga.
