Memorial Day.

Another Memorial Day is drawing near, another opportunity for a free and loving people to give expressions of their feelings of love, honor and reverence to the memory of the heroes who offered upon the altar of our beloved country all they held dear in life, home ties, bright prospects of success in the various avenues of progress, and many of them life itself, in order that our nation might live and our free institutions be sustained as an incentive of hope among the toiling millions. The noble dead should receive no less than their just amount of praise. We shall honor ourselves by honoring them. The survivors of the strife of that time, that which tried men's souls, can receive no higher reward than the consciousness of the duty done and a realization of the approbation and respect of the people who are thankful for the blessings and benefits secured from the sacrifice. Let the loyal people of Red Cloud and vicinity, mindful of the debt of gratitude they owe, assist in some way to observe the day set apart for the memory of the nation's dead, who answered their country's call in a time of need. Below will be found the programme as will be presented in this city next Sunday and Monday, May 30th and 31st by the G. A. R. and W. R. C.

Sunday School Convention.
BLADES, NEB., May 24th, 1897.

The eighth annual convention of the Webster County Sunday School Association held at the Baptist church in this city last Wednesday, Thursday and Friday was perhaps the largest gathering of that character ever held in Webster county, representatives being present from all parts of the county. The program was a very interesting and instructive one and was well presented, each participant endeavoring to create a new interest in the work before them. The musical part of the program, conducted by C. L. Cotting, of Red Cloud, convention choir, entered into with a will by Mr. Cotting and before the close of the session several could be seen participating who formerly were afraid to make an attempt to sing. The convention was called to order Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock and continued until Friday without an incident to mar the pleasure of the occasion. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President—L. P. Albright.
Vice-President—Mrs. E. J. McClaren.
Secretary—D. M. Hunter.
Treasurer—Mrs. L. C. S. Brakefield.
L. A. Huesong, pastor of the Christian Church at Red Cloud, was chosen chairman of committee on program for 1897-98.

There were reported seventy-nine schools in the county, and no precinct in the county at present without a school in it; number of teachers reported as a little over 400. Number of pupils attending between 4,250 and 4,500. The next meeting will probably take the form of a jubilee convention. An effort will be made the ensuing year to establish schools in all districts where at present the young people have none to attend. This is certainly a good showing as compared with a couple of years ago, when there were very few schools outside of the different towns of the county, and certainly speaks well for the efficacy of the past officers of the convention. May the association do as good work in the future as in the past, until every locality in the county has a school and every inhabitant has a chance to attend is the best wish of Death of E. B. Robinson.

The following clipping from Hastings daily papers give the particulars in regard to the illness and subsequent death of E. B. Robinson, father of our deputy treasurer C. D. Robinson:

"E. B. Robinson yet holds to that thread of life which keeps the soul from flying to its rest and peace beyond the river. Sixteen days have passed since he has taken a morsel of food or stimulants, and nothing has passed his lips but ice water. We were allowed to look at him this morning and he said perfectly plain and distinct that he should not want anything till Monday morning. He is a sight to behold being reduced to a mere skeleton."

"Edward Benjamin Robinson, after a lingering illness, died at the family home, at 8:30 Sunday morning, aged 63 years. Mr. Robinson has been in poor health for several years. A complicated liver and kidney trouble laid hold of him last fall. He took to his bed last April and steadily grew worse. The funeral took place from the residence at three o'clock this afternoon. Deceased leaves a wife and three children, two sons and one daughter. The daughter, Mrs. Gage, lives in Chicago. One son, Noble, resides in this city. The other son is a resident of Red Cloud."

If you eat what you like, and digest it, you will surely be strong and healthy.

But if you don't digest it, you might almost as well not eat, for what good can your food do you if it doesn't nourish you?

If you find that you can't digest it, there is a simple help for your stomach.

It is Shaker Digestive Cordial, made by the Shakers of Mount Lebanon. It has never failed to cure the worst case of indigestion.

Strength and health come from the food you eat, after it has been digested and has gone into the blood.

The best tonic is digested food. The best aid to digestion, Shaker Digestive Cordial.

When you have acid eructations, nausea, headache, wind, dizziness, offensive breath, or any other symptoms of dyspepsia, Shaker Digestive Cordial will cure you.

At druggists. Trial bottle 10 cents.

Not only piles of the very worst kind can be cured by DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, but eczema, scalds, burns, bruises, boils, ulcers and all other skin troubles can be instantly relieved by the same remedy. C. L. Cotting.

AMONG THE EXCHANGES.

We have read of Maud on a summer day, who raked, barefooted, the new mown hay; we have read of the maid in the early morn, who milked the cow with the crumpled horn; and we've read the lays that the poets sing, of the rustling corn and the flowers of spring; but of all the lays of tongue or pen, there's naught like the lay of a Kansas hen. Long, long before Maud rakes her hay, the Kansas hen has begun to lay, and ere the milkmaid stirs a peg, the hen is up and has dropped her egg; the corn must rustle and flowers spring if they hold their own with the baryard ring. If Maud is needing a hat and gown, she doesn't hustle her hay to town; she goes to the store and obtains her suit with a basket full of her fresh hen fruit; if the milkmaid's bean makes a Sunday call, she doesn't feed him on milk at all, but works up eggs in a custard pie and stuffs him full of chicken fry; and when the old man wants a horn, does he take the druggist a load of corn? Not much! He simply robs a nest and to town he goes—you know the rest. He lingers there and he talks, perchance, of true reform and correct fence, while his poor wife stays at home and scowls, but is saved from want by those self-same fowls; for, while her husband lingers there, she watches the cackling hen with care and gathers eggs, and the eggs she'll hide 'till she saves enough to stem the tide. Then hail, all hail, to the Kansas hen, the greatest blessing of all to men! Throw up your hats and make some howl for the persevering baryard fowl! Corn may be king, but its plainly seen the Kansas hen is the Kansas Queen.

N. B.—Don't lay this to Walt Mason please; 'twas writ by the poet of the Mail and Breeze.

A card reached this office the other day from Sherwood, Kansas, stating that the Pioneer addressed to one of our ancient subscribers at that place is not taken out, but remains dead in that office, "Reason—none given." Now we do not object to people stopping their Pioneer—although it is a mystery to us how any well-regulated family can keep house properly without it—but as the party mentioned above has been advancing his education by reading the paper regularly until now there is outstanding against him an account of $10.00 for subscription, which to the best of our knowledge and belief is still due and unpaid, we would like to hear the rattle of something more substantial than "Reason—none given," before canceling his name from our books. Mr. A. is a nice man, and we like him, and hope he will raise a big corn crop this year and get rich off the proceeds from his hogs and fat cattle, and that his children will not have the measles, but just for the sake of old friendship, if nothing more, we will be pleased to have him liquidate that $10.00 account before extending to us the marble heart in this frigid manner.—Smith County Pioneer.

Patrons of the Guide Rock schools will learn with regret that Prof. McCrary will sever his connection with the schools at the end of the present term, having recently been elected principal of the Blue Hill schools. His work here has given excellent satisfaction and we are sorry to lose him. Mr. Wm. Sabin started Wednesday morning for Tennessee where he will probably spend the greater part of the summer visiting relatives, taking in the Nashville exposition and otherwise enjoying himself. We are informed that Hon. Geo. B. Chaney will deliver the Decoration Day address in Guide Rock this year. We have not yet been furnished with a program of the day for publication but understand that the exercises are expected to be of more than usual interest.—Guide Rock Signal.

Mr. J. M. Carnahan was in Kansas City the latter part of last week with some Hereford cattle of his own raising. They had been fed seven months on alfalfa hay and shelled corn, and during that time had made an average gain of 570 pounds, some putting on over 800 pounds each. There were 7,000 cattle on the market that day but Mr. Carnahan's cattle brought the highest price of any. This speaks well for Mr. Carnahan's strain of Hereford's and also for alfalfa as rough feed.—Riverton Review.

When the train stopped at Orleans the other day a pretty and modest appearing young country girl stepped off and walked across the platform. At the further end of it were a couple backmen who had their hands stretched out to take her baggage and solicit her patronage. The girl shook hands cordially with each of them. She thought they were students from the college who had come to the depot to welcome her.—Republican City Democrat.

Here is a story (guess it's a true one) on a farmer who recently read an advertisement for a "flea killer." He answered with a dollar bill and received a wooden mallet and a block of wood, numbered 1 and 2 respectively. The directions read: "Place the flea on No. 2 and hit him with No. 1. He will never bite again." It is the farmer, though, who will never bite again.—Smith Centre Pioneer.

A horse shoeing expert in our city claims to hold the record for fast shoeing. He takes the measure of the horse's foot the same as our shoemaker would of ours, returns to the mill, and shapes the shoe from the bar, and shaves the horse. Yesterday he shod a horse on all feet, as above described in nine minutes and five seconds, and the day's work summed up twenty horses.—Hastings News.

According to the newspapers, an Ohio husband became the happy father of seven children not long ago. Of the seven all lived but one. It is to be hoped he laid in a supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, the only sure cure for croup, whooping-cough, colds and coughs, and so insured his children against these diseases. For sale by H. E. Grice, Druggist.

On last Thursday Dr. Fulkerson performed a delicate operation in surgery by removing a large cystic tumor of the sub-maxillary gland from Mr. Fred Frahm, of this city. It was a neat performance and Mr. Frahm is getting all O. K. The doctor is a first class surgeon.—Blue Hill Leader.

W. B. Johnson, Newark, O., says: "One Minute Cough Cure saved my only child from dying by croup." It had saved thousands of others suffering from croup, pneumonia, bronchitis and other serious throat and lung troubles. C. L. Cotting

"Why don't you make a few more bad breaks?" sneered the Mississippi river. "That's all right!" retorted the levee. "My mouth isn't bigger than my head. I'm no populist!"—New York Press.

Omaha has two mayors. Most cities have enough trouble with one, especially when that one is unsatisfactory and what can it be when you have two in a continual fight.—Beaver City Tribune.

Don't neglect a cough because the weather is pleasant; before the next storm rolls around it may develop into a serious difficulty beyond repair. One Minute Cough Cure is easy to take and will do what its names implies. C. L. Cotting.

Consumption

AND ITS CURE
TO THE EDITOR—I have an absolute remedy for Consumption. By its timely use thousands of hopeless cases have been already permanently cured. So proud-positive am I of its power that I consider it my duty to send free bottles first to those of your readers who have Consumption, Throat, Bronchial or Lung Trouble, if they will write me their express and postoffice address.
