

Ivy Poison

Child Suffered for Three Years Without Relief - Terrible Itching and Burning Skin Disease.

When three months old our boy was poisoned with ivy. He suffered for three years without getting relief. I saw one of the advertisements of Hood's Sarsaparilla, consisting of a testimonial where a child was cured of ivy poisoning. My faith was very weak at first, but I told my husband I would like to try a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. Doctor's medicine had failed to help him in the least. We concluded to buy five bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and the child began taking it. Before he had finished all that we had purchased he was cured. I have also been cured of skin disease by Hood's Sarsaparilla. I was in such a condition that I could hardly endure the itching and burning. I felt that I must give Hood's Sarsaparilla a fair trial, which I did. I took four bottles and it cured me." CHRISTINA GREENE, Canastota, S. D.

WASHINGTON NOTES.

The responsibility for the failure of the senate to pass the tariff bill last week belongs to the republican senators. Had they been able to agree on several proposed amendments to the bill, the measure would today have been returned to the house according to expectations. The republican senators agreed at the last minute to press an amendment giving a bounty to beet sugar, but as soon as it was brought before the senate, Senators Jones, of Ark., and Teller of Colo., informed them that the senate would remain in session all the summer before that amendment would be allowed to pass, and the republicans were compelled to withdraw it, but it was then renewed by Senator Allen and is still pending. Nothing now stands in the way of the final vote on the bill, but an agreement among the republicans, and that will probably be reached within two or three days.

Judging from expressions in Washington, the tariff amendment taxing transfers of stock and bonds promises to be a popular one with the people. It will be paid by the speculators who deal in stocks and bonds, who, as a rule, do not pay their share of taxation.

A member of the administration says that President McKinley has almost decided to send a special message to congress, asking that legislation authorizing a currency commission be passed. It was supposed that representation made to the president by senators had caused him to drop this idea, because of the impossibility of getting such legislation to a vote, even supposing that a quorum could be kept in Washington after the tariff bill is out of the way and that a majority could be depended upon; but other influences have been working to bring about the sending of the message to congress, regardless of the probability of its being acted upon at this session. This was not known until the president's departure for Canton, and as soon as he gets back to Washington, tomorrow, he will hear from the senators of his party who wish the currency question left alone for the present.

There is more or less growling among republican senators because a caucus turned down the anti-trust amendment to the tariff bill, prepared by Senators Thurston, Davis and Spooner, upon lines suggested by Senator Nelson, and the amendment has been introduced as a bill by Senator Thurston. The bill makes every person engaged in conducting a combine or trust guilty of misdemeanor, and provides for their punishment, on conviction, by both fine and imprisonment at hard labor. Although it was stated by the opponents of this amendment in the caucus that it was not the matter itself they opposed, but incorporating it in the tariff bill, nobody has any idea that the matter will be allowed to get through the senate as an independent bill.

Senator Wellington, of Maryland, is going through what appears to be uninterested folk to be a case of biting his own nose off to spite his face, and his face isn't pretty even at its best. He seems to have made the mistake of accepting as literally true, the fiction that senators in sympathy with the administration, are allowed to dictate all the federal patronage given to citizens of their states, and to have been led as a consequence, to give a foolish imitation of Ajax defying the lightning, on the floor of the senate, which amused more men than it frightened. Mr. Wellington ought to know that even such influential party leaders as Senators Platt, of N. Y., and Culbom, of Ills., have been compelled to content themselves with endorsing men for positions after the president had decided, without consulting the senators, to appoint them. In this particular case, Senator Wellington endorsed a man for one consulate and is objecting to a nomination being confirmed for a consulate of lesser importance. Under all the circumstances, it is not surprising that Mr. Wellington should be charged with having endorsed a man for a position which he thought from its importance to be entirely out of his reach.

There is nothing new officially concerning the Cuban question, but the ordering of Consul General Lee to Washington to confer with Minister Woodford, and the intimation given to the two officers who have been chosen as military and naval attaches, respectively, of the U. S. legation at Madrid, not to carry their families with them, has furnished grist for the gossips, who say that the last makes it clear that the administration regards trouble with Spain over its Cuban policy and so likely that it doesn't wish the attaches of the legation to be hampered by the presence of their families at Madrid.

Wearing Veils.
This custom of the fair sex has some things in its favor. The complexion is protected against the sun and wind, which bring freckles and tan. Also the coarse dust is strained out of the air that is breathed. But there are things against this custom also, the most important being the loss of free circulating air. The same air is breathed over and over again. Women ought always to breathe the pure air. Good ventilation, open air, outdoor exercise, are what most women are suffering for. Some women are invalids, and are necessarily deprived of these blessings. Such women should write Dr. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio. Answers free.

Per-una is the greatest remedy known for the ills of women. Mrs. A. T. Lewis, of Tallmadge, Ala., says: "Per-una is the best medicine I ever used for pains. I recommend it to suffering women." All those who desire Dr. Hartman's latest book on this interesting subject can obtain one for a short time free by addressing The Per-una Drug Manufacturing Company, Columbus, Ohio.

Sorry for Him.
An exchange truthfully remarks that simply because you don't see an advertisement of a clothing store in the paper is no sign that there is none in the town or that people don't wear clothes; because you don't see a dry goods store advertisement is no sign there is none and the women don't wear dresses, etc., or because you see no advertisement of a bakery is no sign there is none and that the people live on hay or fresh air and prairie landscape, but that the merchants running these places of business do not believe in advertising or have more business than they can attend to without advertising for more.

Cancer of the Face.

Mrs. Laura E. Mims, of Dawson, Ga., says: "A small pimple of a strawberry color appeared on my cheek; it soon began to grow rapidly, notwithstanding all efforts to check it. My eye became terribly inflamed, and was so swollen that for quite a while I could not see. The doctors said I had Cancer of the most malignant type, and after exhausting their efforts without doing me any good, they gave up as hopeless. When informed that my father had died from the same disease, they said I must die, as hereditary Cancer was incurable. At this crisis, I was advised to try S.S.S., and in a short while the Cancer began to discharge and continued to do so for three months, then it began to heal. I continued the medicine a while longer until the Cancer disappeared entirely. This was several years ago and there has been no return of the disease."

MONTHLY SUFFERING.

Thousands of women are troubled at monthly intervals with pains in the head, back, breasts, shoulders, sides hips and limbs. But they need not suffer.

These pains are symptoms of dangerous derangements that can be corrected. The menstrual function should operate painlessly.

McEree's Wine of Cardui

makes menstruation painless, and regular. It puts the delicate menstrual organs in condition to do their work properly. And that stops all this pain. Why will any woman suffer month after month when Wine of Cardui will relieve her? It costs $1.00 at the drug store. Why don't you get a bottle to-day?

For advice, in cases requiring special directions, address, giving symptoms, "The Ladies' Advisory Department," The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

Mrs. BEZEMA LEWIS, of Bonaville, Texas, says: "I was troubled at monthly intervals with terrible pains in my head and back, but have been entirely relieved by Wine of Cardui."
