CITY NEWS.

Be mine, fair one, the lover sighed,
Her glance his blood did freeze,
"I love no man," the maiden cried
"Whose pants bag at the knees."
When Freymark & Co., fit you out
Your troubles then will cease.
A new pair of pants will win her heart.
Come in sir if you please.

There is, what is left of a crosswalk between the State Bank and Grice's drug store and it would be a blessing to pedestrians if some one would come along some dark night and pull it up and either burn it or hide it where it could not be found and put back.

The north well at the water works pumping station was pumped dry last Tuesday for the purpose of repairing and cleaning the well preparatory for use. The water from the well was turned down Elm street in such quantities as to nearly flood the street.

Some of our popocratic friends says the Blue Earth City (Minn.) Post, felt awful because sugar has gone up one-twelfth of a cent. Surely that's awful. And wheat's gone up, and cotton's gone up, and corn has gone up, and hides have gone up, and the price of labor is going up, and calamity howlers are going up. Everything is up. Shut up.—Ex.

Don't use bill heads or statements in which you have to write your own name. Get them printed in an up-to-date style. There is nothing which will make your customers think you are of the disposition to be penurious so much as this. If you are stingy in one way what reason is there to believe that you won't be in other ways. Get your printing done right at the CHIEF office.

The fools are not all dead yet, as was noticed by several residents of our city last Sunday morning when a worn and weary traveler of the prairie schooner order stopped in front of the state bank and tried to get water out of the fire hydrant to water his team and remarked, "How do you get water out of this durned pump." Some one informed him that the handle was misplaced and he would have to go to the livery barn to get water.

Through an oversight last week we failed to mention the marriage of Miss Jennie L. Morrison of this county to Robert Lynn of Wausa, this state, which happy event took place on Thursday, August 5th. The bride is the daughter of Mr. David Morrison living north of the city and is an estimable young lady. The groom was formerly editor of the Enterprise at Wausa, Nebraska. The CHIEF extends best wishes.

John Stallar bought 80 acres of land near McCool, York county, paying a small amount down and giving a mortgage for $1,500. He has just threshed his wheat and has 2,300 bushels, worth $1,320 at 60 cents a bushel, nearly enough to pay the mortgage. Many of his neighbors have done equally as well. Still some of the pops say farming in Nebraska don't pay.—Seward Blade.

Rev. J. M. Darby, wife and daughter Blanche, departed last Saturday for a few days recreation at the camp meeting at Dewese, Nebraska, the church having granted him a well earned two week's vacation. Mr. Darby has accomplished much for the Methodist cause since his advent to this city and it is to be hoped that the next M. E. conference will decide to let him remain with us.

Turn on the Light.

On Thursday evening when No. 15 B. & M. passenger train was pulling into the station here a fatal accident was averted by the prompt action of a brakeman on the incoming train. The train pulled in slowly and had apparently stopped, when the brakes were released and it slowly pulled further up the platform toward the ticket office. At this juncture a man attempted to get from the train in the wrong manner, facing the rear of the train instead of the front, not having observed that the train had again started forward. The consequence was that he fell on the edge of the platform and would have rolled under the wheels if the brakeman had not grabbed him and pulled him from his dangerous position. A lady also tried to alight in the same way but was observed in time by the trainmen who saved her from falling and perhaps being thrown under the wheels.

This paper has several times advocated the placing of a light or lights sufficient to light up the platform in order that people alighting from incoming trains could do so without injury, but up to date our efforts in this line have been all in vain. Since the burning of the depot this deplorable state of affairs is worse than ever and parties coming out of the well lighted cars are absolutely bewildered by the darkness. It seems to us that Red Cloud is an important enough point to receive a little better attention in such matters and in so doing it would mitigate the feeling here that Red Cloud is on the B. & M. blacklist, which there is no doubt prevails at the present time. We hope that in the advent of building a new depot this light question will receive due attention and even before that time if possible. When we talk of light we mean light and not a make-pretend as has been here in the past. We do not wish to censure the employes at the depot by this article because we have as gentlemen and attentive a set of fellows there as can be wished for. We do not believe they are at fault in the matter.

There is a general kick, all over the country, from small merchants, against the department stores, which capture nearly all of the trade. Futile efforts have been made to legislate against them. The merchants who do the kicking ought to try department store methods for a change, and perhaps they would have a big run of trade themselves. The first thing that a department store does is to advertise; the next thing is to advertise; and it keeps advertising right along, and that is what fetches the people.—Beatrice Express.

A Kansas farmer who simply could not get harvest hands put this sign upon his fence: "Harvest hands wanted. Hired girl blond and genial. Cabinet organ music in the evening. Pie three times a day. Three spoons of sugar with every cup of coffee. Hammocks, feather beds or leather divans at your option for sleeping. Rising at 9 o'clock in the morning. Three hours rest at noon. Come one, come all."—Ex.

Losing Flesh

You naturally lose flesh in the summer and running down is so easy. You get a little weaker each day without hardly noticing it. There is loss of appetite, headache, weakness of the muscles, disturbed sleep, weakness of memory, and these are the beginning of nervous prostration. Iron and tonics and bitters may afford some temporary relief, but what you need is a food for body, brain and nerves.

Scott's Emulsion

of Cod-liver Oil with the Hypophosphites, furnishes just the nourishment needed for those who are run down and pale and thin and weak. If you lose flesh in summer take Scott's Emulsion now. Don't wait till fall or winter before beginning.
