Severe Attack of Dyspepsia Cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla - A Skin Disease From Childhood.

"Since we came to North Dakota we have never had occasion to call a physician. We take Hood's Sarsaparilla for all our ailments. About three years ago my husband had the misfortune to strain his stomach by heavy lifting. This brought on dyspepsia and he suffered very much, especially at night, and he could not sleep. He decided to take Hood's Sarsaparilla and after using two bottles he was completely cured. He was also gratified to find that Hood's Sarsaparilla relieved him of a roughness of the skin which he had been troubled from childhood." Mrs. JOHN ABRAMS, Pembina, N.D.

WASHINGTON NOTES

Members of the diplomatic corps, under special instructions from their governments, are keeping a close watch upon the relations between the United States and Spain concerning Cuba, and one of them consented to express his views, provided his name was not used. He said: "I don't think that either the American people or their press, with all their shrewdness, understand the moves that are being made in this Cuban business. The general impression is that this country is working to bring about the independence of Cuba, with a view to its ultimate annexation. In my opinion, and in the opinion of many of my fellow diplomats, that is entirely wrong. I have reason to believe that the proposition made by the United States to Spain, which I believe to have the moral support of Great Britain, does not go further than bringing peace to Cuba, in order that the commerce of this country and England with the island may be restored to its former size. In other words, it is a question of dollars and cents and not of favoritism or sentiment. I believe further, that the new Spanish cabinet will be favorably inclined to this proposition, but that do not mean that it will be or can be carried out. There are two obstacles—serious ones. First the Cubans have lost no opportunity of proclaiming to the world that they will listen to no offer that does not grant them absolute independence, and lastly, the strength of public opinion in this country in favor of independence for Cuba. If Spain offers Cuba peace at home rule with a government—something like England gives its colonies, and the Cubans refuse it, what will this country do? A majority of your people appear to be with the Cubans, but I am satisfied that your government is not, and your government is right. Cuba could not maintain its independence if it had it. I consider its native population unfitted for self government, and equally unfitted to become a part of the United States even if your government wished to annex the island, which I do not believe. From a diplomatic point of view, it is an alarming position, but I confess that I see no solution in sight."

The other side of the Cuban question might have been heard at a public meeting held in a Washington church, Sunday afternoon, which was the first of a series to be held in Washington and elsewhere during the fall and winter, under the management of the Woman's National Cuban League. Among the speakers were a number of prominent men and women and several Washington preachers, and the text from which they all spoke and demanded action on the part of this government was "Free Cuba."

The star among President McKinley's numerous political visitors since his return to Washington was Senator Foraker, of Ohio. He was preceded by the story that he had left Ohio in a huff because of some disagreement with Senator Hanna and his lieutenant, Col. Dick, over the management of the campaign, and did not intend to return. This may or may not have been true, but after several conferences with President McKinley, Senator Foraker left Washington today for Ohio and said he would at once resume his campaign work, which he had only left temporarily on account of pressing private business. The politicians believe there was foundation for the disagreeing story, and that President McKinley, who has a record as a peace maker among Ohio republican factions, in some way brought about a truce and persuaded Senator Foraker to again enter the campaign. Anyway he is going into the campaign again this week.

No czar or emperor is more autocratic than a political boss, and all parties are afflicted with the boss. A story bearing on this assertion is now going the rounds of the friends of Representative Amos Cummings of New York. It shows why the talk of nominating Mr. Cummings as the Tammany candidate for mayor of greater New York was so suddenly hushed, although it was generally admitted that he would have been many thousand votes stronger than the man nominated, because of his popularity with old soldiers, letter carriers, printers, and organized labor generally. His nomination was prevented by Mr. Richard Croker, whose nod is as potent as it ever was with Tammany, although he claims to have given up the leadership, on the ground that Cummings was too independent, and not to be trusted to obey orders when they clashed with his own opinion. The particular refusal to obey orders that angered Mr. Croker was when Cummings refused to vote for the Pacific railroad funding bill in the house at the last session of congress. And the declaration of Mr. Cummings that he believed the bill to be a job added to Mr. Croker's enmity.

Now Hear the Town Bull Bellow.

Last week we sent out 2,500 papers or one to nearly every voter in Webster county, and among that whole list there was one man in the county who was too "ornary" to take it out of the postoffice.—Nation.

We did not think that the Nation would be so honest as to admit that out of 2,500 papers sent out only one "ornary" cuss would take it out of the office. From the number which were thrown back in the office at this place it is evident that decent people do not care to read his crank vapourings.

CHRONIC MALARIA.

I thank you a thousand times for your trouble. I now feel all right, and so far am entirely well. All who know me are wondering about it. We will not let Peruna out of our reach. I am ready every hour to recommend your medicine to all who ask about it. Had my brother known about Peruna he would not be dead, for he died with the same sickness I had. I thank you a thousand times, and inclose my photograph. One physician said that I had weak nerves and indigestion; another said my head and stomach were affected; another said my stomach and kidneys were affected; another said my liver did not work; another said I had la grippe, and still another said I had Bright's disease. He said I could be cured, but that it would take a long time. But I continued to get worse. I was not able to walk up the steps; could not sleep; in the morning when I got up I was obliged to sit down for an hour before I could do any work. I would often remark to my husband that I wished that I was dead, because then I would have rest. I had cold hands and feet, could not sleep, had a sour stomach, and felt heaviness after eating. I belched up and had chills and fever, and my flesh was flabby, dry and cold.

Commissioners Proceedings.

M. C. Fulton appeared and represented to the board that Walnut creek is in need of a new bridge across the creek near section 8-1-12, and asks the board to build a steel bridge across said creek and that if the county will build a steel bridge across said creek the citizens of Walnut creek will agree to take the old lumber on the old bridge and repair the other bridges on said creek without any further expense to the county. The matter was taken under advisement.

Frank Stroble appeared and asks the board what they intended to do regarding the road between sections 25-2-11 and section 2-2-11 and represents to the board that he would take $75 for the road as surveyed by W. E. Thorne, the county surveyor, about August 1st, 1897, and asks the county board to take some action in the matter as he wishes to fence his farm and in order to fence he would like the county to decide whether they wanted the land or not. The matter was laid over for consideration.

In the matter of erroneous assessment of lot 22, block 31 in Red Cloud, Nebraska, assessed for the year 1896 at $600 and tax amounting to $43.98, said taxes having been paid under protest by W. N. Boynton and asks the board to refund the amount of $9 as erroneous tax on said lot. The county treasurer was ordered to return the sum of $9 as erroneously assessed.

E. J. Solomon was appointed road overseer of road district No. 47 and his official bond was approved.

In the matter of the road petition of E. Beitler and others asking for a consent road commencing at the northwest corner of section 13 and southeast corner section 14, and northeast corner section 25, and northwest corner section 24, town 3, range 11 and running east between section 13 and 24 and terminating at range line.

It appearing to the board that all parties interested and owning land through which road runs have waived all claims for damages for right of way of said road it was therefore ordered that the road be opened and established as prayed for and the clerk is hereby ordered to record and plat the same as a county road.

The report of L. H. Fort was presented and approved.

The report of D. M. Hunter was presented and approved.

The Great Railway Detective Tells What Dr. Miles' Remedies Have Done For Himself and Wife.

DETECTIVE work requires constant vigilance, steady nerves, a clear head and active brain. "A year ago," writes Capt. Duffey, of 81 Orchard St., Toledo, Ohio, "I overworked myself, was in such a condition sleep was impossible. I was so nervous I could not lie in bed; my arms and limbs twitched and my system seemed completely exhausted. I began using Dr. Miles' Nervine and the fourth bottle restored me to health. Mrs. Duffey had suffered for eighteen years with heart disease, had tried every remedy without avail until she took Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure two years ago. For the past year she has been free from the trouble."

Dr. Miles' Remedies are sold by all druggists under a positive guarantee, first bottle benefits or money refunded. Book on Heart and Nerves sent free to all applicants.

DR. PRICE'S CREAM BAKING POWDER

World's Fair Highest Award

Heard in Nebraska.

It's only 'bout a year ago or so, it seems to me, that we were all for silver "unlimited and free." Old neighbor Houchin used to come and sit on that there fence, and say that durned gold standard was abhorred by men of sense. He used to say the farmers was all robbed by Wall street banks, and that yet those very robbers called us western farmers cranks for cryin' and protestin' gainst the woes of honest toil, when the vile gold standard chenepped all the products of our soil. "So long as silver's robbed of all the value it had," says neighbor Houchin, "just so long will times be bad," but I notice I haven't seen a sight of his old phiz, since silver's dropped most out of sight and wheat has riz!

By jinks, the way he used to talk, my blood would almost boil against the greedy capitalists who robbed the sons of toil. He figured it all plain and clear, that they kep' silver down because they held the mortgages on all the country 'round. "They buy their wheat in India with silver that is cheap, and we men sit an' stand such things as meek as any sheep." He showed the crime of '73, when congress was all bought to strike the silver standard down, before the people thought. "Your wheat," he says, "you'll have to burn; your stock ain't worth its feed. Demonetized is silver and you're sufferin' for that deed. Your crops, you'll find, will sell as cheap as silver ever is." But now the rule don't seem to work, since wheat has riz.

Now silver's down, the papers say, the lowest ever yet, but I don't find that wheat is down, or other crops, you bet! Why, corn is up, and barley's up, and dollar wheat's in sight, and steers are selling better, and my sheep ain't cheap a mite. If I don't like the price of corn I feed it to my pigs, for bacon's up and pork is up to prices that look big. Yet while these prices still go up, just what I want to know is how such things can really be when silver is so low? Now Neighbor Houchin might explain, or Bryan might clear how these things can be reconciled with what they said last year, but Neighbor Houchin's lost his voice and Bryan's lost his, since silver's dropped most out of sight and wheat has riz!

Well, Well! we all must make mistakes to learn the truth at last. The silver craze has had its day, now that times have passed. We've found the world is willing now to buy our crops with gold, and we can get good prices too, on everything that's sold. We needn't fret our souls about the crime of '73. The fact that we have dollar wheat is good enough for me. A man ain't got much gumption if he calculates to stop and dig up ancient history when it's time to sell a crop. No democrat or populist can now make me believe, that with such crops and prospects that I shud stand still and grieve. With Wall street and Lombard street I've got no quarrel; gee, whiz, they're payin' off my mortgages now that wheat has riz!

A few weeks ago the editor was taken with a severe cold that caused him to be in a miserable condition. It was undoubtedly a bad case of la grippe and recognizing it as dangerous he took immediate steps to bring about a speedy cure. From the advertisement of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the many good recommendations included therein, we concluded to make a first trial of the medicine. To say that it was satisfactory in its results, is putting it very mildly, indeed. It acted like magic and the result was a speedy and permanent cure. We have no hesitancy in recommending this excellent Cough Remedy to any one afflicted with a cough or cold in any form.—The Banner of Liberty, Libertytown, Maryland.
