A peculiar freak of nature was that of a rabbit shot by C. H. Wiggins and exhibited to us this week. On the right side of its head a short distance from the nose protruded a horn about one inch in length and about a half inch through at the base.
Tramps have been numerous in the city of late. We understand that some of them took a lunch from the waiting room at the depot belonging to a youth who was going west. They must think Red Cloud is an easy place to lay over at now. There was a time when they all had a danger flag out against this place.
During the windy weather which always occurs during this month it behooves people to be careful in setting out fires or leaving coal ashes with fire in them in the streets and alleys. This month and next are generally the times when fires occur. Don't burn down your own and your neighbor's property by a little carelessness.
Don't use bill heads or statements in which you have to write your own name. Get them printed in an up-to-date style. There is nothing which will make your customers think you are of the disposition to be penurious so much as this. If you are staid in one way what reason is there to believe that you won't be in other ways. Get your printing done right at the CHIEF office.
I have been afflicted with rheumatism for fourteen years and nothing seemed to give any relief. I was able to be around all the time, and constantly suffering. I am happy to say that it has not since returned.—JOSH. EDGAR, Germantown, Cal. For sale by H. E. Grice.
A very successful ghost school was given at the poor farm school house last Friday night to raise funds to buy a library for the school. Ten of Webster county's best looking ladies were sold at auction by the teacher, Mr. Otto Pope, for the snug sum of $14.35. A cake baked by Mrs. E. W. Copelan was voted to the prettiest girl for $7.50, making the total receipts $21.85. Miss Eva Matkins was voted the prettiest girl in the house. A grand time was enjoyed by all present. The ladies sold as high as $2 each. There is a tariff on our poor house women.

The Wilsonville Review says: "We newspaper men are suckers, no question about that. Just think of it, we will, at all times, sit down and write a half column editorial cautioning the farmer from dealing with some shark representing a grocery house, and advising them to stand by the local merchant and then in return for our work we find that the local merchant is sending to some of the cities for his job printing. Oh, we have an excellent opportunity to cultivate Christian forbearance and we ought to become good, real good, soon." Yes, and often some merchants are not advertising a penny's worth, yet we go ahead just the same and fight their battles.

Stolen from the Iola Sentinel: Many people are not aware that printers have a language of their own unintelligible to the uninitiated. The following "up-to-date" orders give an idea of printers lingo on a country newspaper. "Bully, put Gen. Weyler in the galley and finish up that murder you commenced yesterday. Set up the ruins of Port Arthur and distribute the yellow fever. Look up Lon Stevens and slide Bradley into the hell box. Put the ladies form to press, and go to the devil and put him to work on Deacon Fogg's article on Eternal Punishment."

W R C Memorial.
James A. Garfield W. R. C. at their last meeting held last Saturday, February 26th, held a memorial service for their deceased member, Lizzie J. Willis. She became a member of this corps in 1890, and was elected senior vice president in the year 1892, and served acceptably. When in good health she was promptly in her place in the corps room and ready to do her part. She was always ready to assist in any work, but more especially in literary entertainments, in which she delighted. She was a good friend to the veterans. Since her health failed she had not been able to attend the corps meetings but few times, but she was always careful to keep her dues paid so that she could be a member in good standing. We sorely miss her face from amongst us, knowing we shall see it no more on this side of the river, but are comforted by the thought that "What is our loss is her gain."
