Are gaining favor rapidly. Business men and travelers carry them in their pockets, ladies carry them in their purses, housekeepers keep them in their medicine chests, friends recommend them to friends.

AMERICAN AND SPANISH.

The government has expended $1,000,000 for army routes.

It has been definitely stated that the third Nebraska regiment will probably go to the Philippines.

In all the sea coast cities there is a great demand for insurance against loss by bombardment.

Havana defenses are said to be very formidable and the Spanish army of 120,000 very strong.

The London Westminster Gazette urges speedy action looking to a British-American understanding.

The government has accepted the offer of a battery by John Jacob Astor, of New York. It will be equipped for mountain service.

France is disturbed by the misguided attack of Paris newspapers upon the United States and by fears of an Anglo-American alliance.

Preparations have been made at Honolulu to give the American soldiers a rousing reception on their arrival there en route to Manila.

The first part of the expedition to Santiago de Cuba are reported to have left Thursday. Transports for the second division are waiting off Key West.

The British government has purchased in the United States for delivery at Kingston, Jamaica, 120,000 barrels of flour for the army and navy stores.

Horse meat has become a staple article of food at Manila. None but the wealthy can afford to buy beef, which now sells for $2 per pound. Potatoes are sold by weight at 50c per pound.

Senor de Castro, of Tampa, Florida, just from Matanzas, says that if the United States does not aid the Cuban reconcentrados within three weeks nearly all of them will die of starvation.

Lieut. Davis, of the Oregon, says the race from San Francisco was a most exciting one, especially after the ship left Bahia, for then the probability of a battle with the Spanish fleet was greatly increased.

Gen. Lee said to the crowd at the depot at Greensboro, N. C., last Tuesday, when his train was stopped en route south, "I spent two years in Cuba and was run out. Now I am going back to run somebody else out."

It is said in Washington that Porto Rico will be attacked next, according to the president's plan. It is believed that Sampson will bombard San Juan a second time, and that 20,000 troops will be landed soon afterwards.

The insurgents in the Philippines have received a large quantity of ammunition and several thousand rifles, and the men are assembling for an attack on the Spaniards. All attempts to win them over to the Spanish cause have failed.

Some of the makers of American flags are already putting on forty-six stars. They say that while there are but forty-five states at present, they have customers who are so certain of the annexation of Cuba that they want to have their flags ready for that event.

Governor Leedy of Kansas, refuses to authorize Jerry Simpson to raise a regiment for the war. He says he thinks Jerry can do more good where he is down in congress, than fighting the Spaniards. The governor may be right. As a colonel it isn't likely that Jerry would cut much of a figure, owing to his tendency to inextinguishable eloquence. No great soldier was ever much of an orator.

The frequent reports from Spain through other countries to the effect that a formidable fleet is being prepared at Cadiz to sail for West Indian waters, in aid of Cervera, cause little apprehension here. Naval officers, through private means on communication, have pretty well satisfied themselves that the Cadiz fleet is a paper fleet. In other words, its offensive power is altogether illusory.

The government has begun preliminary work on the largest program of naval construction ever attempted by this country. The naval board has reached an agreement on every salient feature of designs and bids will be immediately invited and contracts awarded for the construction of three first-class battle-ships, four harbor defense monitors and thirty torpedo boats, to be begun just as soon as ship builders are willing to undertake the work.

The following is an extract from an article published in the El Progreso, a Havana newspaper: "A month has gone since the cowardly Yankees proclaimed war, and yet not one dastardly Yankee has set foot on Cuban soil. Wherever the ships of the enemy have approached our shores they have been driven back either with disastrous loss or destruction. They have tried to starve us, but on the contrary food is cheaper here than in New York. Free soup houses are open in all American cities to feed the starving, and many continue to die of starvation. Already our fleet has bombarded Boston, and driven the inhabitants to the interior. Next week we move on New York. The Yankee ships dare not attack us, knowing their inability to cope with our formidable Spanish navy. There is tumult and insurrection among the Yankees. A military guard of 1,000 troops guard the palace of the president, who never goes out for fear of assassination. We expect news of his death daily."

The latest news from Cuba is that Admiral Sampson arrived off Santiago Wednesday and assumed command of the entire naval forces and assigned Schley to the command of the division comprising the ships formerly attached to the flying squadron. Fifteen warships are now at Sampson's disposal to pit against the six men of war within the harbor flying the Spanish flag. Naval experts who heretofore contended that Cervera had a fighting chance to escape now concede that his position is hopeless. Sampson will use his own discretion as to proceeding against the Spanish forts and ships, but it is believed he will wait for troops to reach Santiago before doing anything but blockade the port and prevent Cervera escaping. Gen. Shafter and from fifteen to twenty thousand men are expected to reach Santiago early next week and as soon as they can be landed they will be placed in a position to institute active operations against Santiago, the plans providing for the capture of the city.
