

A MOURNING CITY

Funeral Services for President McKinley.

MANY STRONG MEN SOB IN SORROW

The Funeral Train to Leave for His Canton Home Tuesday Night—Preparations are Being Made for a Guard of Honor—Other News.

Sunday morning a simple service took place at the residence in Buffalo where McKinley died. The scene there was pathetic in the extreme. Then the body was borne out to the waiting cortege on the brawny shoulders of eight sailors and soldiers of the republic. The cortege passed through solid walls of living humanity, bereaved and grief-stricken, to the city hall, where the body lay in state during the afternoon.

Mrs. McKinley bore up bravely during the service at the Milburn residence, and Dr. Rixey, her physician, thinks she will be able to support her trying part in the state funeral at Washington.

Arrangements had been made to allow the public to view the body from the time it arrived, but the people were wedged into the streets for blocks. Two lines were formed. They extended literally for miles. When 5 o'clock came forty thousand people had already passed, and the crowds waiting below in the streets seemed unending. It was decided to extend the time until midnight. Then for hours longer the streets were dense with people and a constant stream flowed up the steps of the broad entrance into the hall and passed the bier. When the doors were closed at midnight it was estimated that eighty thousand people had viewed the remains, but thousands of disappointed ones were still in the streets.

The body of the late president will lie in state in the rotunda for the remainder of Tuesday and will be escorted to the railroad station Tuesday evening. The funeral train will leave Washington at or about 8 o'clock Tuesday evening and thus will arrive at Canton during the day Wednesday. (Signed)

TORRENCE FOR COMMANDER

Grand Army Veteran Select Him as Their Chief.

A Cleveland, O., September 13 dispatch says: General Nickles has withdrawn as a candidate for commander-in-chief of the G. A. R. The fight was left between Torrence and Stewart.

Judge Torrence of Minneapolis was elected commander-in-chief of the G. A. R. by the unanimous vote of the convention.

The balloting stood 230 to 476 in favor of Torrence when Comrade Wagner, who had the Stewart interest in hand, moved to make Torrence's election unanimous. The election of officers was the only business before the convention.

Killed in Railroad Yards.

Edwin O. Arnold, a car inspector in the Burlington railroad yards in Lincoln, Neb., was crushed and mangled beneath a moving switch engine at 2:25 Saturday morning. Mr. Arnold had left the lower rooms in the yard office to walk across the tracks when the accident happened. He walked directly in front of engine 218 which was passing the office, running north. The machine struck him, threw him to the tracks and passed over him, crushing and mangle the lower part of his body and his legs. He was picked up and carried to the yard office where he expired at 3:55, an hour and thirty minutes after the accident.

Killed Himself While Insane.

The remains of Frank Goff, who committed suicide at Wichita, Kan., by cutting his throat with a piece of tin while temporarily insane, arrived at Nebraska City and were interred. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Goff, pioneer settlers of Nebraska City. He had been down to Lawson and was on his way home when he became insane.

Wreck On Great Northern.

A disastrous freight wreck occurred today on the Great Northern railroad near the Cascade tunnel, in Washington, September 12. The engineer, while making the western decline in the tunnel, lost control in the air-brakes and the train attained such a high rate of speed that when a slight curve was reached the cars jumped the track and piled up in a confused heap. Fire ensued and thirty-one cars loaded with merchandise were totally destroyed. The engineer, and fireman, a section hand and tramp were killed.

TAKES THE OATH

Present Cabinet Members Asked to Remain.

Theodore Roosevelt, who was tragically elevated to the chief magistracy of the American republic by the death of President McKinley, entered Buffalo Saturday afternoon, after a remarkable and perilous journey from the heart of the north woods. He had been president under the constitution and laws of the land since the minute the martyred president ceased to live.

All the duties and powers of the office had devolved upon him, but he was as powerless as the humblest citizen to exercise one of them until he had complied with the constitutional provision requiring him to take a prescribed oath to support the constitution of the United States. He took the oath at 3:30 Saturday in the library of the residence of Ansley Wilcock, a personal friend with whom he stopped earlier in the week when the physicians thought McKinley would recover from the wound inflicted by the assassin.

BURNS ALL HIS PROPERTY

Insane Act of a Farmer Near Marquette, Michigan.

Armed with a shotgun and declaring he would shoot the first person who attempted interference, a farmer named Lupton, living near Germfask, Mich., held at bay a crowd of neighbors while the bulk of his property went up in smoke. Lupton hauled practically everything of value he possessed to his barn, which contained about one hundred tons of hay, besides vehicles, etc., and after the horses and cattle were also locked up, applied a match, next setting fire to his dwelling house. When the barn and house had been practically consumed, Lupton fled to the woods and was later found by a searching party, concealed in a hay stack in a nearby field. Lupton has a wife and family.

KENTUCKY LYNCHING.

Three Negroes Strung up by Mob of Colored Race.

News has been received at Cairo, Ill., to the effect that a mob of negroes broke into the jail at Wickliffe, Ky., and lynched three negroes, Frank Howard, Sam Reed and Ernest Harrison. They hanged the men to a cross-beam in John McAuley's mill.

The crime for which the men were hanged was the murder of a respected negro, Wash Thomas. Recently in the night they waylaid Thomas on the railroad track, hit him with a club and killed him, and then robbed the dead body.

The murders confessed their crime before the mob.

Watching the Anarchists.

A Marseilles dispatch announces the arrest there of eight anarchists, Italians and Spaniards, including Prudenti one of the chief anarchists of the Mafia and a friend of Bresci and Caserio. Several anarchists are said to have been arrested on the arriving at Rheims. They will be kept in custody until the Russian Emperor has departed.

Warships arrived at Dunkirk today and took up stations in the roadstead. The town is already filling with visitors. The Martin says it learns that the Emperor Nicholas has finally decided not to visit Paris.

Identify a Dead Man.

It is now known that the intoxicated man who was run over by a Burlington freight train between Deadwood, S. D., and Pluma, was C. B. Clark, whose home was at Gettysburg, S. D. He came to Rapid City first from Pierre, and was looking for work as a cook. He had written a letter to his wife, saying that he had sobered up and would never drink again. He was cut to pieces and died in two hours. It was supposed that he was only a tramp.

President Left a Will.

President McKinley has left a will. The instrument was executed some time before the shooting, and at no time during his final suffering was there any wish or codicil. It leaves the bulk of his property to Mrs. McKinley. How much the estate is worth cannot be stated with exactness by those most familiar with the president's business affairs, but it is believed to be a goodly sum, although not amounting to a large fortune.

Must Destroy Peach Trees.

Fully 10,000 peach trees will have to be destroyed in the vicinity of Athens, Ohio, as the result of an order of the Ohio agricultural department, the trees being afflicted with San Jose scale. The department is now conducting an inspection and has already condemned thousands of trees. Many orchards will have to be entirely destroyed. This is one of the largest peach districts in the state.

CZOLGOSZ INDICTED

Buffalo Grand Jury Hands in Its Opinion.

THE PRISONER IS TAKEN INTO COURT

Refuses to Answer Questions Put to Him—Pressed Hard by the Crowd, but Well Protected—Counsel Appointed—Other News.

Leon F. Czolgosz alias Fred Nieman, was indicted Monday by the grand jury for the crime of murder in the first degree in fatally shooting President William McKinley at the Temple of Music in the Pan-American exposition grounds at 4:15 o'clock on the afternoon of September 6.

When arraigned before the Judge Edward Emery in the county court, the prisoner stubbornly refused to answer questions repeatedly asked of him by District Attorney Penney as to whether he had counsel or wanted counsel. The district attorney then suggested that, inasmuch as the defendant refused to answer, counsel should be assigned. Judge Emery assigned Hon. Lorain L. Lewis and Hon. Robert C. Titus, formerly supreme court justices of this city, whose names had been suggested by the Erie bar association.

The secret indictment was presented to Judge Emery in the county court. Then ensued a wait of an hour, but the rumor that the murderer was to be arraigned spread, and in a short time the court room was crowded. Great secrecy was maintained as to the place of confinement of the prisoner, but it is believed he was locked up in the temporary jail at the Erie county penitentiary, where prisoners have been kept while the jail has been undergoing repairs. After the indictment was reported the prisoner was driven from the penitentiary, a mile from the city hall, to the jail across the street from the hall. Czolgosz was then taken, under strong guard, from the jail through the tunnel under Delaware avenue to the basement of the city hall and up the stairs to the court room on the second floor.

The prisoner was shackled to a detective, and another detective held his other arm. Assistant Superintendent Cusack marching on the front and a number of patrolmen behind. When the prisoner was taken before the bench the crowd in the court room surged about him on all sides. They were compelled to resume their seats. Czolgosz is of medium height, of fairly good build and has light curly hair, but a ten days growth of beard on his face gave him a unkempt appearance. Apparently he feigned insanity, not stupidity, and his glance roamed about, but his eyes were always down cast. Not once did he look the county prosecutor or the judge in the face.

Judge Emery assigned Lorain L. Davis and Robert C. Titus as counsel, after which the prisoner was led away.

The bullets fired at the president are under pathological examination as to poison, but it will be perhaps a week before any opinion can be given. Efforts to connect the Chicago anarchists with the plot to assassinate President McKinley will be abandoned and the prisoners will be released soon.

May Clear up a Mystery.

With the finding of in the water at the foot of Peck court at Chicago the body of M. G. Van Der Berg, a wealthy resident of the Netherlands, an associate of American capitalists and a guest at the auditorium Annex, the mysterious death of Stella Cook recently is cleared. Miss Cook was not murdered according to the present belief of the police, but lost her life with Mr. Van Der Berg by the over turning of a boat in which they were rowing. The discovery of the Hollander's body not only cleared up the "murder mystery" but dispelled the cloud of suspicion that has settled about Harry Thurston Cook on the steamer City of Traverse, and a companion of the dead girl.

Unless unexpected evidence develops at the coroner's inquest, Thurston, who is being held at Mackinac Island on a warrant charging him with having guilty knowledge of the girl's disappearance, will be set free.

Bridge is in Danger.

News from Trenton, Neb., says: It began to rain here last Sunday, Sept. 8, at 4 o'clock in the afternoon and continued all night. It is the hardest rain ever known to fall here, the precipitation being four and one-half inches. It was a perfect downpour. The Cannons were overflowing their banks and the country roads are washed out so that they are impassable. The Republican river is very high, and fears are entertained for the safety of the bridge. Rain has fallen nearly every day for over a week. This has stopped the threshing and checked the progress of the broomcorn harvest. A great deal of fall grain will be planted as a result of this wet spell.

Cigarettes in School.

Have school boards the right to prohibit the use of cigarettes on the school grounds? State Superintendent Fowler says they have. A school board may go further. It may prohibit the use of cigarettes by school boys going to and from school. Then if that is not sufficient the board may enforce the anti-cigarette law and prosecute persons who sell or give cigarettes to minors. All this is expressed by the state superintendent as the result of trouble arising at the town of Arlington over the use of cigarettes by school boys.

AT THE WHITE HOUSE

Body of the Dead President Lies in State at Washington.

The remains of President McKinley were taken from Buffalo to Washington Monday.

The sad farewell given by Buffalo was impressive and the streets were thronged with a mourning multitude. The funeral train was preceded by fifteen minutes to keep the tracks clear. The train reached Washington at 8:35 p. m. Monday.

The remains were taken to the White House to lie in state Tuesday.

The following is the order of arrangements for the obsequies at Washington for William McKinley, late president of the United States, as revised to meet the wishes of Mrs. McKinley:

In the evening the remains will be born to the station of the Pennsylvania railroad, escorted by a squadron of United States cavalry and then conveyed to their final resting place at Canton, O.

FOUND DEAD WITH WEAPON.

Early Settler of Superior, Nebr., Commits Suicide.

C. L. Patterson, an early settler in Superior, committed suicide. He had been ill for a great many years, and was just able to be around again after a serious attack. His nurse not being well had left the room and on returning said Mr. Patterson took a drugged tablet and went back to lie on the couch. The nurse stepped into another room and while he was gone Mr. Patterson slipped out. The nurse returning and not finding him notified his wife and each went in opposite direction to find him. Failing in this, they gave a general alarm. A small boy said he saw him go into the basement of the store in which they lived. Keys were gotten and Mr. Patterson was found in the rear of the basement with a bullet hole in his forehead. He had used a .38 calibre revolver. After pulling the trigger his hand, still holding the weapon, had dropped on his breast. Death is supposed to have been instantaneous.

Threat Against Roosevelt.

In a saloon on St. Clair street Idings is reported to have said: "I belong to a society that will pay $50,000 to any man who will kill President Roosevelt."

Idings at his hearing did not deny that he made the statement. He was remanded to jail and will be given a hearing soon. In the meantime the police will try to learn all about the prisoner.

HE RETAINS CABINET

President Roosevelt Desires the Old Members.

HE MAKES THEM A FORMAL TENDER.

Urges Acquiescence and Opposes Resignation—First Meeting of Official Family Held and Policy Outlined—Notes.

President Roosevelt convened his first cabinet meeting at Washington Tuesday afternoon. At this meeting the president asked the members of Mr. McKinley's cabinet to retain their respective portfolios through his term and announced that his administration would follow the policy outlined by President McKinley in his Buffalo speech.

After the obsequies over the late president the cabinet, at President Roosevelt's request, assembled at the residence of Commander Cowles, where the president is staying until after the funeral, principally for the purpose of informing their new chief of the state of affairs in their respective departments. The president desired to learn if there were any matters of moment requiring his attention before his departure for Canton. He was assured that there was nothing of pressing importance. The president then addressed his advisers collectively, as he had previously done individually, requesting them all to retain their respective positions in his cabinet.

Mr. Roosevelt expressed the hope and expectation that every member would serve throughout his term, for he said, he had just been elected to the presidency and was forming an original cabinet. The president said, however, there was one difference between the present tender and that of an original offer, namely, under the present circumstances they were not a liberty to decline. Upon being asked by a member if resignations should be formally presented in the usual way, the president answered that his action at this meeting had precluded the necessity of presenting resignations. The discussion turned upon the policy of the administration, and Mr. Roosevelt announced that he regarded the speech of the late president at the Buffalo pan-American exposition, the day previous to the tragic shooting, as outlining the policies to be followed by the administration.

It cannot be learned at this time whether or not all the members will be willing to serve the full term.

PLACE SHIP IN COMMISSION

Illinois Turned Over to the Navy Department.

The United States battleship Illinois has been placed in commission. The warrant and petty officers and all of the crew are now aboard. With the officers, men and band lined up on the quarter deck, General Superintendent Post turned the ship over to Captain Converse as the representative of the navy department. Captain Converse read his orders from Secretary Long to command the ship. The flag was raised at "The Star Spangled Banner." Captain Converse then read orders from Secretary Long relative to the death of President McKinley and the flag was immediately half masted and a one-pounder fired as a salute. The firing of the gun continued all day at intervals of half an hour.

ANARCHISTS UP IN CANADA

Anxiety for the Safety of the Duke of York and the Royal Party.

The trip of the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York, is said now, will not extend beyond Quebec. A hurried meeting of the federal cabinet was held on board one of the federal cruisers in port, and it is presumed on good authority, that it was in relation to the future movements of the royal party. For some days several Canadian newspapers have said the movements of some well known anarchists were watched by American and Canadian detectives and it is stated that an Italian anarchist of New York is under arrest at Montreal. The arrest has been kept very quiet.

GOVERNOR HUNT IN OFFICE

Private Inauguration Celebrated at San Juan.

Governor Hunt was inaugurated privately at his residence in San Juan in the presence of the members of the council, the justices of the supreme court and others. The ceremony was very impressive. Chief Quinones administered the oath, and Bishop Bleuk offered prayer. Governor Hunt did not deliver an inaugural address, but referred feelingly to the great national sorrow. Extensive preparations for the event had been made, but all were cancelled immediately upon the announcement of the death of President McKinley.

While the grand entry of Pawnee Bill's show was in progress at Hastings, Neb., one of the cowboys was accidentally thrown with his horse and seriously injured. It is doubtful if he will survive. The accident was caused by one of the horses catching a shoe of a horse in front of it. Both rider and horse were thrown to the ground in a heap and before the man could be rescued the horse had rolled over the man's body and in so doing crushed his chest.

HOLLENBECK IS CHOSEN.

Fusion Conventions Agree on the Man from Fremont.

For Judge, Conrad Hollenbeck of Fremont, Dodge County.

The above is the ticket selected by the fusion conventions in the sessions which ended Wednesday morning shortly after midnight.

Both conventions were scheduled to meet at 2 p. m. but as soon as the temporary organization was effected they adjourned out of respect for the dead president until evening when the real work commenced.

After organization was effected the usual business was proceeded with with some friction here and there, but the convention finally agreed upon the ticket named above. The platforms adopted were mainly along the old lines of faith. A plank was incorporated touching some portions of the republican platform.

Judge Conrad Hollenbeck is fifty two years of age. He is a native of Pennsylvania and a veteran of the civil war. He enlisted when but sixteen years of age. At twenty-one he was elected to the legislature of Pennsylvania after he had spent but a few years in the study of law. Case of Miss Eastwick of Philadelphia Remanded in London.

Marie Josephine Eastwick of Philadelphia, who is charged with forging a railroad certificate to the value of $500,000, was again remanded at the Guild Hall police court, London Eng. The evidence presented was not important.

Miss Eastwick appeared extremely ill and was evidently in pain. Although formally remanded until September 23, the prisoner will probably not reappear in court until October, when the preliminary inquiry will be completed.

Miss Eastwick raised a certificate of railroad stock from $5,000 to $5 million dollars. She is a wealthy woman. Her defense is insanity.

Given Tar and Feathers.

Joseph A. Wildman, a United Brethren minister, was tarred and feathered by a crowd of one hundred at Huntington, Ind., and turned loose to wander back home because on Sunday he rose in one of the city churches and said:

"I suppose there have been more lies told from the pulpit and sacred desk today than was ever known before. While I want to give all honor that is due Mr. McKinley, still when he was living he was nothing but a political demagogue." Wildman has no regular charge.

When a boy knows what is in his mother's parlor, it is evident that he has no sisters, or they wouldn't let him go in there.
