

Women are Like Flowers.

Healthy and strong they blossom and bloom. Sickly, they wither and die. Every woman ought to look well and feel well. It's her right and duty, but she might as well try to put out a fire with oil as to be healthy and attractive with disease corroding the organs that make her a woman. Upon their health depends her health. If there is inflammation or weakening of any part of the body, it must be removed, and it must be removed at once. Don't delay. You're one step nearer the grave every day you put it off. Women can stand a great deal, but they cannot live forever with disease dragging at the most delicate and vital organs in their body. You may have been deceived in so-called cures. We don't see how you could help it—there is so much worthless stuff on the market. But you won't be disappointed in Bradfield's Female Regulator. We believe it is the one medicine on earth for womanly ills. There is as much difference between it and other so-called remedies as there is between right and wrong. Bradfield's Female Regulator soothes the pain, stops the drains, promotes regularity, strengthens, purifies and cleanses. It does all this quickly and easily and naturally. It is for women alone to decide whether they will be healthy or sick. Bradfield's Regulator lies at hand. $1 per bottle at drug store. Send for our free booklet. THE BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO., Atlanta, Ga.

Nearly All Schoolgirls Study Too Many Hours a Day, Says Ethelinda Hadwen.

There is only a certain amount of vital force in each child's body; if you, by giving too much brain and nerve straining work, oblige all that vital force to concentrate itself on the brain, where is the force which is to form the healthy body to come from? says Ethelinda Hadwen, in Chambers' Journal. You will not produce a noble, large-minded woman if you give the girl-child a puny, half developed body because you are desirous of putting too much music, German and French into her brain in too short a time. Of what use is book learning to a girl who has no health? Moreover, too much nerve-straining brainwork means not merely impaired health, but also impaired personal appearance. A good complexion, good teeth, fine hair, clear, bright eyes, an erect, active figure, are not found in the girl whose brain has been systematically overworked. Six hours of brainwork is the most that should be expected of any schoolgirl in one day; but girls of 15 and 16 are so overloaded with lessons that they work, not six hours, but nine and ten hours a day. Now, an eight hour day of brainwork is considered quite sufficient for a strong man; how is it reasonable to expect that a girl who has not only to expend brain power, but also growing power, and whose nervous system is in such a condition that the labor is far harder in proportion for her, shall work for two hours longer per day than the strong man? The thing is absurd, and the general result is that the girls too often, like senior wranglers, have exhausted their brains and lost all power of original thought before they leave the academic world and enter the world of action. "Girls should not go to school until they are seven years of age, and then should not have more than three hours of lesson work daily. At the age of nine they may study four hours, and at 12 the hours may be increased to five. At 14 years a girl should be taken from school for a year. That year will be most usefully spent in building up a reserve stock of strength and in learning housewifely tasks. At the age of 18 or 19 a girl is apt to become impatient over the routine of household tasks, whereas the girl of 14 or 15 is deeply interested and quite ready to learn. After a year's interval she will go back to school with zest, and her mind, having had a rest, is so invigorated that she more than makes up in quickness of comprehension and power for the time which has been otherwise spent. During this year of change of work the girl may profitably read standard romances, histories and other forms of good literature.

PAWNED HIS DENTAL NUGGET.

Victim of Untoward Circumstances Parts with the Only Remnant of Former Prosperity.

There was one vacant stool left at the lunch counter, and, as he took it, he sighed and let his glance roam idly over the long shelves of pie and cream puffs and sandwiches and many things good to look upon when one's capital is a dime, says the Chicago Record-Herald.

"Ham," he said, wearily, to the negro waiter, "and mince pie. I found out long ago," he went on, turning to the man on the next stool, who had red-hots and potato salad, "that there is more nourishment in the mince than in others. It is likewise filling. One learns life's lessons easily under pressure of circumstances. Take the illusive lemon pie, for instance—are you fond of lemon pie, by the way?"

"Aw, back up, back up," murmured his neighbor, and he sighed again and reached for the toothpicks.

"That's all right, but there was a time—well, never mind; let it pass." He took his ham sandwich and mince pie and ate in silence. All at once there was a brief struggle over the ham, and when he had finally taken the bite he hesitated and cautiously reached for his mouth with a seared look on his face. When he drew his hand away it held a gold tooth.

"Great dying Moses," he gasped, "look at that. I give you my solemn word, sir, it's the only thing of value I owned that was saved from the wreck of matter and the crush of worlds—otherwise that wasn't soaked, soaked deeply and irretrievably. But now—"

He placed the gold tooth carefully away in his inside pocket and rose from the stool.

"Where are you going?" asked the other man, with a faint show of interest.

"To a better and a fairer land," replied the stranger, as he buttoned his coat collar up closer about his throat and smiled. "I go to mine uncle to present him with a dental nugget, and then," he paused, with a side-long look of scorn at the half-eaten sandwich and the mince pie. "Then I shall feast on locusts and wild honey, on pan roasts and California fruits and lozenges and tutti-frutti ice cream. Farewell."

And the other man grinned as he turned to his red-hots and said, softly: "Whoa, Bill!"

Joyful Anticipation.

We marvelled much. The great Indian chief was slowly ebbing away with the calm smile of one who knows the great beyond.

"but," we interposed, "are you sure that you will like the 'happy hunting grounds'?"

"Ugh, yes!" responded the great chief; "no get taken for deer and shot by pale brother. No game wardens." We said no more. Slowly we joined the sad procession.—Chicago Daily News.

No Noxious Doses No Weakening of the Nerves A Pleasant and Positive Cure for the Liquor Habit.

It is now generally known and understood that Drunkenness is a disease and not weakness. The faithful use according to directions of this wonderful discovery is positively guaranteed to cure the most obstinate case, no matter how hard a drinker. Our records show the marvelous transformation of thousands of Drunkards into sober, industrious and upright men.

Wives cure your husbands!! Children cure your fathers!! This remedy is in no sense a nostrum but is a specific for this disease only, and is so skillfully devised and prepared that it is thoroughly soluble and pleasant to the taste, so that it can be given in a cup of tea or coffee without the knowledge of the person taking it. Thousands of Drunkards have cured themselves with this priceless remedy, and as many more have been cured and made temperate men by having the "Cure" administered by loving friends and relatives without their knowledge in coffee or tea, and believe today that they discontinued drinking of their own free will. Do not wait. Do not be deluded by apparent and misleading "improvement." Drive out the disease at once and for all time. "The Home Gold Cure" is sold at the extremely low price of One Dollar, thus placing within reach of everybody a treatment more effective than others costing $25 to $50. MAYDOLE'S HAMMER.

(Benson's Plaster is Pain's Master.)

When Maydole was told that he made "a pretty good hammer," he said, "No, I don't make a 'pretty good hammer,' I make the best hammer that ever was made."

Every carpenter who saw a Maydole hammer wanted one. It was of the best material, perfectly balanced, and the head never flew off. Hammers were divided into two classes—1st, Maydole's; 2d, all the rest.

Plasters are separated by the same line of cleavage; 1st, Benson's Porous Plaster; 2d, all the rest. When, for rheumatic pain, a cold, a cough, kidney trouble or any other disease or ailment that may be treated externally, you ask for a plaster, any honest, reputable druggist will give you a Benson's. He knows it is incomparably the best, and he assumes that you know it too. As the name of Maydole stood for hammers the name of Benson stands for plasters—the "real thing." All the medicinal potencies that are valuable in a plaster are in Benson's. Capsicum, Strengthening and Belladonna plasters are out of date.

An army of physicians and druggists, and millions of the people, have written of Benson's Plasters as a remedy to be trusted. Benson's Plasters have fifty-five highest awards. Accept no substitute. For sale by all druggists, or we will prepay postage on any number ordered in the United States, on receipt of 25c. each. Seabury & Johnson, Mfg. Chemists, N. Y.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys are your blood purifiers; they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood. If they are sick or do their work, they fail to do their work.

Faint, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail. Home of Swamp-Root, free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.
