The republican candidates for regent of the university are elected. Their majorities may not be far different from that gained by Judge Sedgwick. Complete unofficial returns from every district of greater New York give Seth Low, fusionist candidate for mayor, 294,092, and Edward M. Shephard, democratic candidate, 265,229, making Low's plurality 29,864.

Unofficial returns from every election district in New York county give William Travers Jerome, fusionist, a lead of 15,880 over Harry W. Unger, democrat, in the race for the district attorneyship. The vote of the two follows: Jerome, 163,938; Unger, 148,079.

A revised recapitulation of the vote on president of the board of aldermen, with every district represented, shows that Charles W. Fornes, fusionist, has George M. Van Hoesen, democrat, beaten by a plurality of 31,384.

Eugene E. Schmitz, the union labor candidate for mayor of San Francisco, has been elected by a plurality of 2,500; Asa E. Wells, republican, running second and S. S. Tobin third in the race. Mr. Schmitz is the leader of the orchestra in a theatre there, and is also the secretary and manager of a machine shop. Of the other candidates on the municipal ticket, the republicans elect the auditor, sheriff, tax collector, treasurer, county clerk, public administrator and six supervisors. The democrats will have the city attorney, district attorney, recorder, coroner, two public judges and nine supervisors. Besides the mayor, the union labor elected three supervisors.

There are two walls partly completed and the remainder of the site of the building is surrounded by a high wooden stockade. Gus Parker of Ardmore, Indian Territory, one of the ringleaders of the mutiny, under pretense of necessity, walked to the corner of the stockade, where the revolvers were concealed, and under cover of some weeds secured them without being detected.

It was announced that Thompson's shortage was $60,000 instead of $57,000.
