The weekly family prayer meeting was held last Friday night at the home of J. C. Taylor.

Mrs. Emma Smith was quite ill with a cold the first of the week but is better.

There was a good attendance at the Wednesday evening prayer meeting at the M. E. church. Mr. Henry Parsons led the exercises. The word selected for the next Scripture text was "Truth."

The Dangling Veil.

Have you noticed the way women are wearing their veils now-a-days, and how, as a feature designed to cover the face, they have lost their significance?

Years ago, the veil meant something. It meant a filmy texture of some kind, worn as a protection from wind and cold.

There were veils and veils, but they were all worn as a covering for the face.

But now one is obliged to ask the conundrum: When is a veil not a veil? and the answer comes back: When it is a drapery.

A year or so ago, some bright, keen-thoughted woman discovered a little while before the end of the season, that her hat was getting uncommonly shabby, and to hide the ravages made upon it by the summer suns and rains, she covered it up with a veil, and let the ends float out at the back, and that is the way the fashion originated.

The hat and the veil today are simply wonderful.

The veil, from its first use of being simply twined around the hat, has grown into the most voluminous proportions.

As seen on the hat of the up-to-date girl today, it is the paramount feature of that most alluring adornment of fair women, and to see a lot of them tripping down Petticoat Lane with their veils streaming out in the air makes one think of a clothes line filled with clothes drying in a brisk breeze.

These dainty tissues are put upon the hat in every conceivable manner, but the very latest takes the cake.

In some dexterous manner it is so arranged that it falls in a straight line down the direct sides of the face, and somehow, insensibly, brings to the mind, dismal thoughts of weeping willows, and tombstones with wide winged angels depicted thereon, and all sorts of uncomfortable, chilly feelings.

Fashionable woman has decreed that the veil is the thing, and any one of them, who can not rake up a bit of something, from a Brussels net down to the draggled end of a lace curtain, might as well keep off the street, for they can not hope to be in it or of it if they have not some sort of a dangling curtain to enhance (?) the charm of sparkling eyes and piquant features.

...Eye and Eye Glass Care...

LET us pilot you out of the misery and danger of overworked and improperly treated eyesight into the rest and satisfaction of restored vision. We understand Eyes and Eye Glasses—our business to fit the one to the other. We know the Eye and its needs—we know the dangers that follow in the wake of defective Eyes and strained vision. Our knowledge of the Eye and practical experience in the fitting of Glasses is at your service. We examine your eyes thoroughly, scientifically; tell you their exact condition, advise you what to do and grant you the privilege of doing as you please.

EYE CARE.

Waiting and hoping never better ailing vision—procrastination is the thief of good eyesight. The change which comes to the eye are beyond the power of the individual to remedy. Neglect to give eyes proper and timely care is responsible for much of the present day eye trouble.

A very little strain upon this delicate structure soon exhausts its delicate nerve force. When the eye first troubles, the man of sense knows there is need of help, and straightway gets it.

Let us aid you to better vision or the preservation of what remains.

EYES EXAMINED.

EYE GLASS CARE.

A little way from right is a great way wrong with eye glasses and spectacles. We make a study of individual needs and fit frames and lenses with exactness. Every appliance science has devised is at our command.

Every pair of glasses must precisely suit the wearer and us. Each lens, each frame, is thoroughly inspected. If there is flaw or blemish it is discarded. Your eye glasses are as important as your eyesight is important. Here the skill, the will and the facilities to make them so.

Dr. Koehler received a telegram from Lincoln stating that his brother was not expected to live.

J. C. Hartman went to Hastings Saturday, returning Monday. B. E. Bowles had charge of his store during his absence.

Dr. Wegmann went to Kansas City last Saturday on business. He expects to be gone about a week.

Wayne Reed and family were visiting at the home of J. W. Davis last Sunday.

Mr. Moore moved into his property which he purchased of Mrs. Cramer.

GUIDE ROCK.

Robert Garrison has returned from Illinois, where he was called by the serious illness of his sister, who was injured in a runaway. He reports her recovering.

Dr. Fisk has been sick, but is some better.

W. H. Barcus still has some apples to sell.

County Clerk E. S. Garber was down from the county seat the first of the week looking after the fence on his farm. This time his political fences needed no fixing.

Parties from Franklin, Neb., and from Bartley, Neb., were here looking at farms with I. B. Colvin last week.

Lots 11 to 16, Roberts' addition, and lot 16, blk 1, Vance's addition, have changed ownership this week. There is quite a movement in residence property here.

A Mr. Baker from Iowa is here on business with I. B. Colvin in regard to the purchase of a farm.

C. T. Sherbacher is getting his new building up on his lots, north of the Christian church, which he purchased recently.

S. B. Newmeyer is on the sick list.

THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE

What Were Songs of the Plains.

What were the words and the music to them, in which the creators of the west, between 1850 and 1880 sung their hopes and fears, their fun and jokes, their joys and sorrows, their loves and hates?

What were the songs of the early pioneers of the Argonauts of '49, of the gold seekers of "Pike's peak or bust," of the sheep herders, the cowboys, the rangers, the cattlemen and horsemen, of the Indians and the half breeds, of the frontier settlers, their women and children?

If you know any of these old songs, either words or music or both, please send same to me, in part if you can't remember them all. No matter how trivial the snatch, rhyme or ditty, joke, story or wit, let me have it. Photographs, pictures or prints of those old times are also desired, especially folks in their working clothes instead of Sunday best; also stories and experiences of those days, clippings from local papers of old settler's experiences, etc. Everything carefully returned if requested. Anything unique in the way of songs among guides and cowboys at present or during the past 10 years, will also be welcomed. Let us work together in collecting the folk lore and music of a period unique in history that has gone never to return. Please address immediately, Herbert Myrick, Editor Orange Judd Farmer, Chicago.

Land Buyers' Excursion.

When you have been a guest so long that the hostess quits apologizing for the spots in the table cloth, your welcome is worn out.

Dr. Boyle, pastor of the Presbyterian church, says he is afraid to take off his clothes and go to bed at night; his wife is making a rag carpet, and he caught her looking closely at his everyday suit.—Acheson Globe.

We are headquarters for job printing of all kinds.

Dragging Pains

2825 Keeley St.,
CHICAGO, ILL., Oct., 2, 1903.

I suffered with falling and congestion of the womb, with severe pains through the groins. I suffered terribly at the time of menstruation, had blinding headaches and rushing of blood to the brain. What to try I knew not, for it seemed that I had tried all and failed, but I had never tried Wine of Cardui, that blessed remedy for sick women. I found it pleasant to take and soon knew that I had the right medicine. New blood seemed to course through my veins and after using eleven bottles I was a well woman.

Maudie Bush

Mrs. Bush is now in perfect health because she took Wine of Cardui for menstrual disorders, bearing down pains and blinding headaches when all other remedies failed to bring her relief. Any sufferer may secure health by taking Wine of Cardui in her home. The first bottle convinces the patient she is on the road to health.

For advice in cases requiring special directions, address, giving symptoms, "The Ladies' Advisory Department," The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.
