New York's Latest Modes.

If there is any possible device left unemployed to vary the styles in win er costumes it must figure among new inventions, for every old time idea is certainly in commission! Smocking, plaiting, puffs, shirrs and ruffles all play a part in the composition of milady's fascinating outfit, while short medium length trim frocks are fashionable as ever for women who prefer gowns of more severe order.

And here and now let me commend the woman who chooses the latter style if her wardrobe allowance is to limited to furnish her many gowns Great is the variety of woolens suitable for the "general weare" frock, and of braids, embroidery and applique bands there seem to be no end, sou tache braids being particular y popular. Braids toim braids, and braid pendants abound in all possible shapes. And such a number of capes are worn! Made of cloth, velvet, fur and every conceivable material The old fashioned shoulder cape is in favor again, rivaling the poin ed and peler-

An exceptionally stunning model of the trig tailor-made variety was made for a young matron prominent in New ish mixed Scotch cheviot, and smartly trimmed with a scroll like design in brown silk braid, it shows admirably the most practical type of gown for various occasions

For afternoon wear nothing could be more suitable than the peau de crepe gown I have illustrated for you Daintily lace trimmed it makes a charming theatre cos ume

Another excellent design for general wear is shown of black broadcloth with panels of the same ex ending nearly to the bottom of the stirt, and edged with a very natty appearing black and white mixed braid. With it is worn a dainty blouse of the shirtwaist family, but with a hint of the dress waist in the elaboration of the Late models in odd blouse waists run more to elaborate collars than to other trimmings, but the general character of the garment bids fair to remain the same, notwi he anding the return to the bodice of multi-darts boned into long waisted effect.

As yet, there is no indication of such Office 119 an event, and she who has her gown cut with a long sloping shoulder, waist bloused slightly over a C B a la Spirite model corset, her skirt cut close about the hips, with plenty of frou frou at the bottom, and avoids all outre or unusual effects in her gown for general wear may feel assured that she is for more "classy" than her sister of the inappropriate frills ank furbelows

ELAINE ROZE A mest striking recent development in guns and in speaking of guns we usually include the gun carriage or gun-mount-is the effort now universal to throw the accurate and quick control of the gun into the hands of the people firing it. It may well be wondered that this has not always been a controlling idea in laying out gons and their mounts, but at the present time it is in this direction that the greatest effort is being made. The found just the remedy you need. It has proof of this is to be seen by a comseen tested in so many ways, in hospital parison of the guns and mounts made work and in private practice, and has ten or fifteen years ago with those proved so successful in every case that a now being made. The latter are ar ranged much more conveniently and not already tried it, may have a sample consequently their rate of fire is much bottle sent free by mail, also a book tell- faster. Modern 6-inch guns are being ing more about Swamp-Root, and how to fired from ships eight or ten times in findoutif you have kidney or bladder trought and targets about the size of a a minute at targets about the size of a ship and a mile distant, and hitting the target at each shot. Of course, doing this from a stable platform on shore would be comparatively easy. The projectile of these guns weighs 100 pounds, the powder charge about 40 to 50 pounds, and the weight of the gun, including all the turning parts, is 25,000 pounds. This weight must be moved, to keep the sights on the target, by one man, and will be seen that it is of the greatest importance to lay out all the shafting and gearing with minium of friction and lost motion.

W. V. BENNETT, 801 New York Life Bidg., Omaha, Neb.

222 South Peoria St., Ситсадо, ILL., Oct. 7, 1902. Eight months ago I was so ill that I was compelled to lie or sit down nearly all the time. My stomach was so weak and upset that I could keep nothing on it and I vomited frequently. I and I vomited frequently. I could not urinate without great pain and I coughed so much that my throat and lungs were raw and sore. The doctors pronounced it Bright's disease and others said it was consumption. It mattered little to me what they called it and I had no desire to live. A sister visited me sire to live. A sister visited me I from St. Louis and asked me if I had ever tried Wine of Cardui. I told her I had not and she bought a bottle. I believe that it saved my life. I believe many women could save much suffer-ing if they but knew of its value. Devega Dunker Don't you want freedom from pain? Take Wine of Cardui and make one supreme effort to be well. You do not need to be a weak, helpless sufferer. You can have a woman's health and do a woman's work in life. Why not secure a bottle of Wine of Cardui from your druggist to-
