FAIL TO COME

Friends of Keating, the Webster County Convict, Do Not Appear for Hearing.

Notwithstanding the fact that arrangements had been made to hold a formal hearing on the application of Frank Keating for a commutation of a ten years' sentence in the penitentiary, none of the attorneys appeared at the executive office this morning. Keating was convicted of highway robbery in Webster county. His victim was John Rose, a prominent farmer and the founder of Rosemont. The announcement that Keating had made application for a commutation aroused the strongest protestation from Webster county people and a large attendance was promised for the hearing.

Keating's attorney is former State Senator William P. Warner of Dakota City. Aside from the brutality of the assault of the holdup, the heavy expense to which the county was put for the trial led to public resentment. Keating lost an ear in some former affair and his counsel, fearing that loss would be regarded as evidence against him, subpoenaed several witnesses from Dakota county to rebut that view. In all, it is claimed that more than fifty witnesses were summoned from Dakota county to Red Cloud. The distance made the expense very heavy and the county had to bear it. Keating belongs to a well to do family and every effort was made to keep him out of prison. It is charged that he served time in other penitentiaries. A peculiar feature of the case is the fact the governor had practically promised to issue a commutation, accepting the representations of the man's lawyers and friends. The report of the pending action was prematurely published, and the storm of resentment in Webster county led the governor to reconsider his determination in order that the friends and foes of the man might have a formal hearing. The failure to appear today is regarded as an indication that Keating's attorneys regard a hearing at this time, when the Webster county public is aroused, as inopportune.—Lincoln Evening News.

Newsy Notes From Neighboring Towns

GATHERED FROM OUR EXCHANGES

FRANKLIN

(From the Sentinel.)

A son born to Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Caitwood Tuesday.

Banker Cross and family of Ragan were down in their automobile last Saturday.

Jas Conkling made a business trip to Hastings this week going by the automobile route.

The rural delivery department played h— in establishing a route out of Riverton which reaches within two miles of Franklin.

Co. Attorney Byrum and Sheriff Wairath were in the city yesterday collecting evidence against the Franklin post office robbers.

Carl Nelson, the popular cashier of the Macon State Bank, is spending a few days with Beatrice friends. Mrs. Hildreth has charge of the bank.

C. W. Way, Franklin's modern architect, is furnishing the plans for the $4000 school building which Naponee will erect this summer.

A. R. Whitmarsh of Bloomington has bought the T. R. Blank stock of general merchandise at Macon and will move his family to that place.

G. W. Townsend writes to friends in this city that they arrived safely at Belle Fourche, S. D., and that they are well pleased with the country.

Jean Francisco returned last week from Douglass, Wyo., where he had been several weeks. He is thoroughly disgusted with that disagreeable climate where he says it snows, rains and freezes every day.

S. G. McMaster writes from Long Beach, Calif., that the more he sees of the country the better he likes it and while he would like to see his old friends he has no desire to return to Franklin to live.

The lady who lost or forgot a part of her wearing apparel on the stairway of the Bernhard block last Sunday night can recover the same by calling on the barbers up stairs and proving property. No questions will be asked.

The world's record for target practice by naval ships was broken at Manila recently. The U. S. S. Wisconsin, Geo. W. Laws, commanding, fired 53 shots from the forward 13-inch gun without a miss. The shooting was done while the ship was in motion. Mr. Laws is a brother of Mrs. J. W. Robinson.

Miss Bertha Maser, who has been visiting here the past week or ten days, leaves tonight for her home in St. Louis. She will be accompanied by her youngest sister, Miss Gretchen, who goes to make her home. She is the last of four daughters to leave home and her many friends in this city are deeply grieved at her decision to quit the place of her birth.

LEBANON.

(From the Times.)

Mrs. Chas. Lull and son returned from their Red Cloud visit Friday evening.

A few of our Lebanon boys still remember that there was a show at Smith Center last Thursday.

Will Weesner of Salem county, had a fine two-year-old Hambletonian colt ruined in a wire fence last Thursday.

Geo. Ducker is putting in a gasoline engine in his restaurant today with which he will run his ice cream freezer.

A. P. Adams presented his granddaughters, Carmen and Gladys, with gold watches and chains, Monday.

The Lebanon band boys are going to show the people here that they are good fellows by commencing their evening concerts tonight.

Will Weesner of Salem vicinity came to Lebanon, Thursday, to pay Henry Gordon $950 for a forty acre tract of land adjoining his farm, which increases his number of acres to 320.

Will came to this country a few years ago with almost nothing, but if you should undertake to buy him out now, you would have to have several thousands of those pieces which caused Judas to betray Christ.

Grandma Snippet, who has been visiting a daughter in Lincoln and a daughter and son in Auburn, Neb., since the holidays returned to her home in Lebanon yesterday.

A very beautiful wedding occurred on Thursday evening, May 18, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. Weaver, when their daughter, Carrie, was united in marriage to Mr. Roy Snow.

Tuesday morning when Fred Cordson got up he found that the lock on his smoke house door had been broken and about 150 pounds of nice home cured hams and side meat had disappeared.

David Ross died at Dentonia, Sunday, and was buried the next day. He had sold his farm with the intention of taking a trip to Oregon for his health, when he was taken down with his last illness.

Jim Walden went fishing Saturday, and on his return he found that Mrs. Walden had gone to Burr Oak. Jim fearing that he was left for good followed her Monday morning, to persuade her to come home and cook the fish.

SUPERIOR

(From the Express.)

Mrs. Porter and her two sons came up from Webber last Wednesday, and went to Los Angeles, Calif., over the Burlington Thursday.

A very large crowd attended the unveiling and dedication of the Soldiers and Sailors monument in this city Wednesday afternoon.

Ben Gittings is now waiting on trade at the Montgomery Clothing store Co's. Dwight Wilson, the former clerk, has returned to his home in Red Cloud.

B. F. Dennison of Nebraska City, who is a conductor of long and faithful service on the Burlington, is in the city this week, the guests of Thos. Stitts and other friends.

Milton S. Rokey of Indianola, Neb., died on the streets of Hardy Wednesday, from rheumatism, which was supposed to have attacked some vital part. He was traveling with his father to Hot Springs, Ark.

In order to make good and show that he could back up a still larger fish story, Geo. Drew and brother brought up a couple of cats the other day that tipped the scales at 21 pounds.

F. A. Henningsen entertained at seven o'clock dinner the distinguished Grand Army men who were here Wednesday. Those present were Generals Culver, Cole and Lett, Mayor Adams and family and Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Felt.

President Wallace of Omaha and Secretary Albright of Red Cloud and several other members of the executive committee of the State Sunday School Association held a meeting in Superior Monday to arrange for the convention next month.

BLOOMINGTON

(From the Advocate.)

R. A. Whitmarsh and family will join the "boomers" of Macon. Mr. Whitmarsh has the Tom Blank mercantile business.

Jack Davis, formerly B & M agent at this place, was in town last Monday between trains. He is now assistant agent at Phillipsburg, Kansas. Jack is a tip top fellow but begins to look old.

Rapid work is being done on the Heifrich hotel this week. Mr. Heifrich is having part of the building remodeled, adding eight new rooms and a fine bath, supplied with hot and cold water.

S. V. Douglas returned last Tuesday from his business trip to Kearney. He reports that Mrs. J. Y. Douglas, who has been so ill, is now able to be cut much to the gratification of her friends.

The exercises of the Bloomington high school were held at the Methodist church last night. The graduates were: Ella Schegg, Myrtle Betts, Vernon Durlay. The Wesleyan quartette of Lincoln furnished the music which was highly enjoyed by a large audience.

Ezra Carey, who installed a gasoline engine at the McGrew well to furnish water, is having the usual fun in starting it. Our experience with gasoline engine is: when they are in good order they run fine but when they get out of order there is no way of telling what ails them.

Lewis Ryckman had on the streets last Saturday a mule colt that is about the finest we have ever seen. The colt is but thirteen months old and is 13 hands and one inch high and weighs 750 pounds. The sire of the colt is the large Jack owned by Rob't Walker of this city.

RIVERTON

(From the Review.)

Mr. and Mrs. J. Kose departed the first of the week for their new home in the northern part of the state.

E. Hunter's father, from Leavenworth, Kans., arrived Tuesday to visit with relatives here.

The graduating class at this place this year was all young ladies, not a boy in it. This looks bad for the boys.

Mrs. Henry Eggleston died suddenly Monday afternoon. The funeral was held at the house Wednesday at two o'clock.

G. P. Cather of Bladen was under Dr. Townsend's care Tuesday. He had several small operations performed the same day.

There was a great broncho busting in town Wednesday. Oscar Duncan rode a wild horse, but it was not as wild as was expected.

Delbert Hunt, the second son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hunt, has been very sick with typhoid fever last week but is reported to be improving now.

Frank McClintock was home a few days this week visiting his friends. Frank is now working for the Santa Fe at Newton Kansas.

Jake Smith shipped four cars of fat cattle Sunday. Some weighed as heavy as 1700 lbs. The cattle made him a neat profit as he had raised them on his own pasture from young stock.

Red Cloud Visits Smith Center.

Red Cloud rather unexpectedly to most of our people sent down a very gentlemanly lot of base ball players last Friday. They were accompanied by several of Red Cloud's business men headed by deputy county clerk John Garber, who seemed to have his high school ball team in good control both on and off the diamond as they played nine team work for boys, and put our high school team in the second best column by a score of 9 to 5.

The following business men took a vacation and came over with them: J. P. Delaney, Marion Mercer, W. H. Taber, A. H. Keeney, county judge; Floyd Pitney, P. C. Phares, editor Red Cloud Chief; Harry Brown and Roy Phelps.

The game was clean, well played and amicable and a credit to the sport. We don't remember the time in 27 years that the Garbers were not playing ball in Red Cloud and one of them of about the fourth generation who pitched the gam. Friday is a whirlwind on the slab. The drill of the team shows that John Garber hasn't forgotten how it was done. Should our boys go to Red Cloud, we warrant them royal treatment.—Smith Center Messenger.
