Newsy Notes From Neighboring Towns

GATHERED FROM OUR EXCHANGES

BLOOMINGTON

(From the Advocate.)

On Monday morning of this week John Wagener shipped a special of 24 car loads of cattle.

Dan Lemmert was the first farmer in the vicinity to report having finished stacking his wheat.

Miss Beulah Harman of Inavale, was up one night this week to visit her sister, Mrs. C. H. Waldo.

Reports are that Lee Cook's barn burned to the ground one day this week. No particulars learned.

J. B. McGrew of this place has been granted permission by the comptroller of the currency to organize the First National Bank of Bloomington with a capital stock of $25,000.

At the session of the supervisors held this week a contract was made with the H. T. Ward Bridge Co., to build two new steel bridges across the Republican, one at Naponee and one at Franklin.

"Put" Fuller, who has been chief of police for the past ten or fifteen years at Riverton, putting men of misbehavior in jail, had a taste of his own medicine while at the county seat last week as he spent one night in the county bastille but is out now under $500 bond until the next term of court.

The nine months' old baby of Mr. and Mrs. Will Houz died very suddenly Wednesday afternoon. It seems that the mother was obliged to leave the house for a short time and took the precaution to tightly fasten the bed coverlet over the little one to prevent its rolling off the bed. Nevertheless it worked off and returning shortly she found its lifeless little body tangled somehow in the coverings.

SMITH CENTER.

(From the Messenger)

E. B. Gift, son of John Gift, of this city has sailed for Europe for his vacation. Smith Center now has several explorers in the old world.

County Surveyor David Wishart, fell from a scaffold while working on his barn yesterday morning, and broke his right leg just below the hip joint, and seriously injured his back.

Jim Newell, of Lebanon, was in Smith Center Tuesday looking at property. He built six houses in Lebanon and sold each one and now thinks he will try Smith Center for a change.

Last Thursday evening, the driver on route six, C. F. Winchell, created some stir around town by reporting that he had seen Bart Turner, a few miles north of town, near the Shannon farm. An investigation soon discovered that Charlie's man wasn't Turner, and so a dozen or more men had a drive up there for the fun of it. Turner, the last heard of him was going down the Missouri Pacific toward Atchison, still showing a fondness for cashing checks.

RIVERTON

(From the Review.)

Last Saturday evening Miss Hazel Whaley was severely bitten by a dog.

W. H. Clopper has purchased the residence property from Lou Moore and will take possession soon.

Fred Hunter and Carl Fulton returned from Kansas City Wednesday, where they had been on the market with stock.

Geo. Enos started for Montana Monday evening after another bunch of western horses. Bert Harwood accompanied him.

The train crew and passengers enjoyed themselves greatly Friday morning when a keg of beer was accidentally broken open while unloading it from the car. A cup was soon procured and every one took his turn, for none of them could stand to see such good stuff go to waste.

J. A. Brown shipped two cars of stock Sunday. He intended to ship four cars, but one of the cars had no door and was not loaded, so the train pulled out and left two cars here that were in the yards waiting for fit cars to load them in. He got no car Monday or Tuesday, so he made a door Wednesday and loaded his stock. That morning the train rushed past Riverton and left him again. He threatened to sue the company and they sent an engine back from Red Cloud to take his cars and one of J. W. Eldet's.

LEBANON.

(From the Times.)

Alex McDonald has bought the H. H. Koenig farm near Cora for $30 per acre.

Will Compton cultivated 155 acres of corn in seven and one half days, and batched in the bargain.

The fair association will begin the erection of additional hog sheds at the fair grounds the latter part of this week.

The little two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grant McCullough living near Stuart died of whooping cough Tuesday evening.

David Weaver has purchased the old school building from H. N. Danton and will use the lumber in building a 36x40 addition to his hotel.

Billy Kimsey, who has for the past five months been working on the Stock Yards Journal in St. Joe, Mo., is visiting home folks in Lebanon this week.

W. L. Rogers of White Rock township brought to our office Tuesday thirty-one beardless barley heads which weighed three and one fourth ounces.

Monday morning, Manning Schemmerhorn ran up against the hind part of a mule, and as a result is carrying his right arm in a sling and also complaining of inward pains.

Both wheels of a wagon ran over the right arm of the five-year-old son of A. E. Brown, who lives about four miles north east of Lebanon, thereby breaking the arm in two different places.

BLUE HILL

(From the Leader.)

There is a splendid opening here for a brick yard.

The small boys have organized a band and are practicing.

We are glad to note that Mrs. J. F. Grimes is steadily improving.

Ben Prentice and wife are the proud parents of a new boy baby born on Sunday last.

E. S. Lohr, former B. & M. operator here, is now agent at Cowles, to which point he moved last Sunday.

A. F. Sebrass has his new shops almost completed and is now getting the machinery in shape for business.

The Farmers Elevator company will commence today to build a scoop pit near the city scales so that they can load cars until they can get their elevator up and ready for business.

It has been called to our attention that some person or persons have recently visited the cemetery and stolen and spoiled most of the flowers and plants planted there this spring. It is certainly a shame and disgrace to steal from the dead.

FRANKLIN

(From the Sentinel.)

E. Arnold, Thos. Blank and Herman Hummel started for Portland last night.

Mrs. Fred Brunow died at their home in this city last night at 11 o'clock, as the result of an operation for tumor performed Wednesday afternoon.

W. J. Clapp is building a large barn on his residence lots south of the Franklin house.

Franklin will have a new bridge in a short time, in fact we hope to have a temporary bridge in passable shape by the latter part of next week.

Miss Jessie Davis returned Tuesday from Omaha, where she had been in a hospital for three weeks and where she underwent an operation for appendicitis.

Mrs. A. V. Miller and son, Bert, left Monday evening for Baggs, Wyoming, in response to a message that Mrs. Miller's only brother, a cattleman of that region, was drowned.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Howard have moved up from Red Cloud and will erect a dwelling on Lincoln avenue north of E. A. Peery's. Mr. Howard expects to run a dray line.

D. G. Ruby, who went to Europe about two months ago has returned with forty-seven head of English Shire, Belgian and Percheron stallions which he unloaded at Kearney. He has located there and is building a large sale barn. Mr. Ruby was very favorably impressed with England, France and Belgium and assures us that he saw less pauperism in the great cities of those countries than in our own New York.
