

Help! Help! I'm Falling

Thus cried the hair. And a kind neighbor came to the rescue with a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor. The hair was saved! In gratitude, it grew long and heavy, and with all the deep, rich color of early life. Sold in all parts of the world for sixty years.

"About one year ago I lost nearly all of my hair following an attack of measles. I was advised by a friend to use Ayer's Hair Vigor. I did so, and as a result I now have a beautiful head of hair."—Mrs. W. J. BROWN, Menomonee Falls, Wis.

A BIG CIRCUS.

The Enlarged Campbell Bros. Consolidated Shows Beyond Comparison.

The great Campbell Bros consolidated shows, which will exhibit here Tuesday, August 8, has been enlarged on such a scale of liberality as to make it next to impossible to depict its real magnitude. Besides enormous additions to the circus proper, the parade has increased and is now one of the finest ever seen with this meritorious organization. In the arena display are brought together an assembly of the most famous acrobats, gymnasts, riders, equilibrist, contortionists, aerial performers, dancers, funmakers and sensational specialists in the world. Most of these artists made their first appearance in this country with the great Campbell Brothers consolidated shows. Foremost among these celebrities are the "Flying Le Van," "The Mizuno troupe of Japs," Bishop Bros, double somersault leapers; Nellie Ryland, champion bareback rider of the world; Cossack Rough Riders, in daring feats of horsemanship; the great hippodrome races and other highly sensational acts too numerous to mention.

Among the traided animal features are a herd of performing elephants, educated horses and ponies, high jumping dogs and clown mules. The menagerie annex contains the most complete, exclusive and valuable collection of wild animals from all parts of the world.

The street parade will leave the show grounds at 10 o'clock. Performance at 2 and 8 p. m.

Grand Army Disappointed.

The members of the Grand Army and Woman's Relief Corps are very much disappointed with the memorial window which they purchased and had placed in the new Methodist church. The design and lettering on the window is much smaller than the members of these organizations had expected, and it can only be seen from the inside of the church. While it is true that the lettering on the window is of an inferior order, the same complaint can also be made of the lettering on the other memorial windows in the building. It is not customary, in modern architecture, to place designs on memorial windows so they can be seen from the outside, and the tendency is to make the lettering very small, though plain, so as not to have the appearance of being in the nature of an advertisement. While in Smith Center recently the writer inspected the memorial windows in the new Congregational church. The lettering on those windows was smaller even than that on the windows of the new M. E. church in this city. It would undoubtedly mar the beauty of the window to have the design and lettering made larger, and it would also tend to bring ridicule upon the builders of the church as well as the donors of the window. While we do not believe the design is as well executed as it should have been, to make it larger would be a mistake.

An Exciting Day.

There were very exciting times in Red Cloud last Saturday. In the morning the Omaha Commercial club, to the number of 150, with their band and quartet, arrived on schedule time. The members of the club called on the business men, while the band and quartet discoursed music on the street. The Omaha men created a good impression. In the afternoon a local artist gave an exhibition of slack wire walking, which was followed by the appearance of the Christian Volunteers, an organization similar to the Salvation Army. An old bass drum, a dilapidated tambourine and a squeaky violin played to the accompaniment of cracked voices tortured the people who were on the street until they were willing to part with their money to have it stopped.

W. M. Thomas for Treasurer.

Mr. W. H. Thomas, one of the most prosperous farmers in this section, has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for county treasurer. Mr. Thomas is a man of sterling worth and undoubted business ability. He is an Illinoisian by birth, but came to Nebraska in 1873, locating near Aurora. He removed to this county about fourteen years ago, and has since engaged in farming. He has had considerable experience in financial matters, having been township treasurer for four years, treasurer of the school district for six years, and is at present treasurer of the Red Cloud Creamery company, a position which requires financial ability of a high order. Mr. Thomas will undoubtedly have strong support in his candidacy, especially among the farmers and the business men with whom he has had dealings.

Mercer's Orchestra.

While it is not generally known, Red Cloud has a first class orchestra of six musicians which is competent to furnish the best of music for any occasion. The organization is known as "Mercer's Orchestra" and is composed of the following musicians: M. A. Mercer, violin; Vic Manspeaker, cornet; A. B. Sellars, clarinet; T. E. McCarl, trombone; Horace McIntosh, drums and cymbals; Mrs. J. D. Crans, pianist. With such an array of talent banded together there is no excuse for importing an orchestra from some other town to play for dances and like entertainments. Support the home organization, and some day enough patriotic musicians may be gathered together to give us a good band.

A Fine Bunch of Cattle.

A. Roats shipped 226 head of fat steers to Kansas City Monday. The bunch made a train of fifteen cars. The cattle were in prime condition. Gus Roats came to this county with the first settlers, with nothing but his brains and muscle for capital, and today he is one of the wealthiest and most successful farmers and stockmen in southern Nebraska. His success has been entirely due to his own efforts.

MARRIAGES.

Fort-Ferguson.

A very pretty home wedding was solemnized Wednesday afternoon at 4:30, at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr and Mrs. L. H. Fort, when their daughter, Miss Nette Evelyn Fort, was united in holy matrimony to Mr. Carl Albert Ferguson of Orleans, Neb., Rev. E. C. Davis, pastor of the Christian church, officiating. The bride was gowned in white organdie, and the groom wore the customary black. The house was profusely decorated with roses and carnations. The wedding was a very private affair, only the immediate relatives of the bride and groom being present. Those in attendance from out of town were: Mrs. J. O. Wiles and son Charles of Orleans, Dr. and Mrs. Gardner of Wymore, Charles Fort of Omaha, Dr and Mrs. Collins of Orleans and Mr. H. T. Ferguson of Orleans, father of the groom. Mr. Ferguson's mother was unable to be present owing to illness. A five o'clock luncheon was served by Mrs. Gardner and Miss Sadie Evans immediately after the ceremony, and the bride and groom took the evening train for Orleans, where they will be at home to their friends after August 10. Mr. Ferguson is engaged in the drug business at Orleans. The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Fort, and has a large circle of friends in Red Cloud, where she has lived all of her life, who join with THE CHIEF in extending congratulations.

Baker-Williams.

Fred G. Williams and Mrs. Sadie Baker, both of Blue Hill, were married in this city Monday. The ceremony took place at the Royal Hotel, Judge Albert H. Keeney officiating.

Baker-Lafin.

On Tuesday, at the office of the county judge, occurred the wedding of Miss Mary L. Baker and Mr. Ben W. Lafin, both of Guide Rock, Judge Keeney officiating.

The democratic party have an elephant on their hands in the shape of the new editor. He has already divided the party, and now their supplication runs about like this: "Oh, Lord! deliver us from the evil effects of imported democracy."

After suffering a year with consumption Mrs. Will H. Smith passed away last Sunday evening. She was only confined to her bed but one week before the final coming of the Angel of Death, and then passed quietly away amidst the sorrowing of her bereaved husband, parents and friends while yet in the bloom of life, her age being only twenty-four years.

It's a strange fact that a man who would throw your gold brick at your head if you tried to sell him one will walk into a clothing store and calmly pay the price of all-wool-and-silk and accept the "mercerized cotton" cheat.

The clothier may plainly tell him it contains "mercerized cotton"; "a few threads; they look just like silk"; actually make him think it's all right, and pockets the added profit cheerfully.

Or the buyer may take the "mercerized cotton" adulteration ignorantly; there are some dealers who will let him do so.

In either case the result is the same; the wearer gets left. But he doesn't deserve any sympathy; he can have all-wool if he wants it; nobody feels sorry for a man who gets "flim flammed."

Our label means all-wool; it's a small thing to look for, a big thing to find.
