The Business College summer school which opens next week promises to be a large one. Teachers who are going to school this summer need not go away from home to find good instructors.
George Ford, who has been visiting his sister at Bladen, was in Red Cloud Tuesday and visited his cousin, S. H. Bogart. Mr. Ford and Mr. Bogart had not seen each other for thirty-five years.
It seems remarkable how people in their anxiety to avoid a little rain, will run out from a good, safe building right into the rain, as was the case at the revival meetings Sunday night.
Don't be fooled and made to believe that rheumatism can be cured with local appliances. Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea is the only positive cure for rheumatism. 35 cents, tea or tablets. C. L. Cotting.
F. M. Brown, from over near Lebanon, had eight teams hauling out lumber for a new barn. This speaks well for the Red Cloud lumberman, when a man will come for twenty miles over bad roads to trade with them.
Quite a number of people were disappointed Monday evening when they came down town after 7:30 and found all the stores closed. Everybody closed up promptly except the saloons, drug stores, billiard halls and restaurants.
Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Dietrick have arrived from Pawnee City and are occupying the McConkey residence just north of the Moranville building. They will assist Prof. and Mrs. Paul S. Dietrick in conducting the summer normal course at the Red Cloud Business College.

In the future, be very careful to look at your mail before opening it. Hereafter the "opened by mistake" excuse will be a mistake that will cost $200. The postoffice department has ruled that mail must be looked over before leaving the office, and that any letter put in your box by mistake must be returned before leaving the postoffice under a penalty of $200 for failure to do so.
John Person had his team tied together with a long rope and was exercising them, Tuesday evening, when an automobile came along and they became frightened and took a "hike." One of them got home about 9 o'clock, but the other did not "turn in" until 11, and when he did get home he was so badly cut up by wire that he looked as though he had been through a sausage mill.

Not half the people in Red Cloud are aware of the work that is being done by G. V. Argabright, the artist. It will pay anyone to visit his studio and see the many products of his labors. One of the most remarkable pictures in his studio is a painting of a cyclone cloud in action, a reproduction of a photograph taken at Smith Center, Kansas. There are also many fine specimens of portrait work that do credit to the artist's skill. There is no occasion for anyone to go away from Red Cloud to secure beautiful paintings and life-like portraits while Mr. Argabright makes his home here.

Rev. Honeywell, the evangelist, is not so tolerant of crying babies as are the local preachers. Whenever a baby in the audience tenses up the preacher stops in the middle of a sentence, or wherever he happens to be, and waits until the mother takes the hint and lugs the infant outdoors. This is more trying to the nerves of the audience than are the squalls of the innocents, as it directs attention to the noise and creates a feeling of pity for the mother who is thus singled out and compelled to get up and leave the meeting. Of course it is very annoying to the preacher to be disturbed by crying babies, but many mothers must either take their babies or remain at home, and in this matter we are on the side of the mother and baby every time.

Rebekahs Have Good Time.
About twenty members of the local Rebekah lodge went to Hardy Wednesday to attend the district meeting of that order.
The Red Cloud degree team exemplified the work of the order, and six candidates were initiated. The visitors were royally entertained and all report a good time. Those from Red Cloud who attended were:
Mr. and Mrs. Teel, Mr. and Mrs. Fogel, Mrs. Savilla Rife, Mrs. Al Slaby, Mrs. C. F. McKeighan, Mrs. O. D. Hedge, Mrs. E. H. Newhouse, Mrs. Ward Hayes, Mrs. E. Welsch, Mrs. C. H. Kaley, Mrs. Irving Cummings, Mrs. Wm. Weesner, Mrs. C. B. Hale, Miss Lucinda Davis, Miss Clara McMillan, Miss Victoria Haskins, Misses Frances and Viola Ward, Miss Myra Griffith, Miss Villa Ross.

New Undertaking Establishment.
Ed Amack, who recently opened a furniture store on West Fourth avenue, has added a fine line of caskets to his stock and entered the field for a share of the undertaking business. His furniture stock, while necessarily small owing to the limited size of the building, is complete. Ed has many friends in Webster county, and will undoubtedly receive a liberal patronage in his new line of business. Mr. Amack has made arrangements with a competent undertaker to assist him in handling that branch of the business.
