EIGHT MEN DROWNED

YACHTS TURN TURTLE OFF THE NEW JERSEY SHORE.

Sudden Squall Springs Up and Craft Find a Rough Sea When Coming in From a Fishing Expedition—Two Are Capsized.

Anglesea, N. J., July 30.—Two yachts coming in from the fishing banks capsized on Herford inlet bar, off here, and eight persons lost their lives. There were thirty-two persons on one yacht, of whom seven were lost, and twelve on the other, all of whom but one were saved. That not more fell victims to the rough sea was due to the heroism of Captain Henry S. Ludlam of the life saving station and a crew of five men. So far as known, all the dead came from Philadelphia or vicinity.

Bodies recovered: Frederick Fisher, Herbert Hammeil, Walter Snyder, John Fogarty, J. Starkey, Jerry Donahue, unknown man.

Missing: Samuel Lodner, Woodbury.

Anglesea is one of the favorite fishing places along the southern New Jersey coast. Every excursion train from Philadelphia and other nearby points came down crowded with visitors, most of whom intended spending the day in fishing. The weather in the morning was ideal, and all the fishing boats took out large crowds to the fishing banks. After noon, however, a brisk breeze sprang up, and the captains of the small craft hoisted sail and started for home. Most of the fleet got in without mishap, although some of them had considerable difficulty in clearing the Herford bar.

The two boats that got into trouble were the sloop yacht Nora, which had on board Captain Herbert Shivers, his mate and thirty passengers, and the sloop Alvin B., with a party of twelve. The sand obstruction is about a mile from shore. Just as the Nora was about to go over it a heavy squall struck her. As the craft heeled over she was hit by a huge wave and the Nora turned completely over, throwing the thirty-two occupants into the sea. As the yacht turned over the mast snapped off short. There was an agonizing cry as the yacht turned turtle, which was quickly silenced when nearly all the victims disappeared beneath the water. The heavy sea, however, probably was responsible for the saving of most of the survivors, as the waves were so rough that the upturned yacht was tossed about, thus uncovering the struggling victims caught underneath. As many as could reached the keel. In the unequal fight against the elements the struggling men disappeared one by one until only twenty-five were left clinging to the boat. After hanging to the yacht for nearly an hour, a government life boat, commanded by Captain Henry S. Ludlam of the Herford inlet life saving station, hove in sight, and after some maneuvering managed to get close to the capsized vessel. He was not a moment too soon, for as he came within a boat's length of the Nora four men, weakened from exhaustion, let go their holds and began floating away. Captain Ludlam threw his boat around and the four half drowned men were drawn out of the water. Then, at the risk of their own lives, the rescuers went after the other men and pulled them into their boat. The rescue was most perilous, as the rough sea was constantly pounding the life boat against the keel of the yacht. The survivors were transferred to the sloop yacht Violet and taken ashore.

Shortly after the survivors of the Nora were brought ashore another yacht, the Alvin B., was seen to capsize about a mile above the place where the Nora went over. There were several boats in the vicinity at the time, and all but one person was saved.

MILWAUKEE REDUCES RATES.

Lower Tariff on Flour and Wheat From River to Chicago.

Omaha, July 27.—Another rate fight is imminent on grain from the Missouri river to Chicago, and this will be brought about by the action of the Milwaukee in making a rate of 8 cents on wheat and flour from Omaha and Kansas City to Chicago. The rate was 10½ cents on wheat, but the Rock Island has been giving a lower rate from Kansas City on export flour, and it is supposed the Milwaukee has put in this new rate to meet the action of the Rock Island in giving an 8-cent rate on export flour. The new rate will run from July 30 to Aug. 29, and the other roads will be compelled to meet it. They will fight the Rock Island's cut on the theory that the raw material cannot be hauled cheaper than the finished product.

Railroad officials say they can't see how they can confine the cut in grain rates to wheat, when corn is entitled to a lower rate than wheat. Although this is the wrong season for grain to move through the gulf ports, if the fight is continued the gulf lines probably will take a hand in the rate cutting, and Nebraska's excess crops will have the advantage of cheaper rates to the seaboard.

The Hymn That Fitted.

On the evening of the first Sunday after their removal from their house in the suburbs, which was the only home the children had ever known, to the top floor of a seventh story apartment house, the family gathered around the piano for the usual hour of song, each member in turn, according to time honored custom, requesting a hymn of his choice. When ten-year-old Marjory's turn came she said, "I think the most appropriate hymn is:

"I'm nearer my heavenly home today Than ever I've been before.
"I think of it every time I come up in the elevator."—New York Press.

Fine Art in Show Windows.

It is a common error for dealers to put too many shoes in their window. In fact, some windows would lend the impression that the stock was in the window and the samples on the shelves. Said a shoe manufacturer who has traveled extensively: "One of the most impressive windows I ever saw contained but one shoe in each window. Each was a fine shoe, mounted on a standard in the center of the window. From this shoe red and white ribbons were draped in various directions, much like a sunburst. A small, neat sign told the story. Everybody stopped to look."—Shoe Retailer.
