Business College Notes

The football game today will be a fast one. The Grand Island Business College team stands away up toward the top and if our boys can give them the best game yet, won't we feel good?

A call came this week for two stenographers who are Oliver operators. It seems as though the Oliver is getting to be the machine. It will not be long until we are able to supply some of these demands that are made upon us.

A new class of seven students has taken up the Chartier shorthand course. The way all the large schools are taking it up, we believe it is the greatest thing in rapid writing ever gotten out. You can learn shorthand in ten weeks. What is the use of putting in ten months on any other system? We are here to show you.

Prof. Dietrick read from the life and work of Sam Jones Thursday, and then read a little poem by Jack Crawford on the death of Jones. Sam was surely the greatest and best paid man on the lecture platform. His cutting words, with the soothing sympathy that followed, will be remembered by all who ever knew him.

Rev. Cressman made the school a very pleasant talk Wednesday morning. Rev. Cressman is one of those ministers of Jesus Christ. He is not a little, two-by-four preacher who thinks his church and his creed form the only way to the successful life, but stands ready and willing to give us all a lift, even though we belong to different churches. His talk was brimful of good, honest humor and he placed his truths down in such a way that if we follow his advice we will not miss the best in this life and the one to come. We want you to come again, Rev. Cressman, and we will try and return the visit.

Miss Grace Peterson's school had a basket supper last Friday night, with Prof. Dietrick to do the entertaining along with the pupils in their songs. Quite a number of the college students were there, namely: Don Clark, Miss Beckwith, George Corner, Frank Watson, Jesse Null, Fred Spence, Eva Myers, Miss Mefford and Glen Arnold. Misses Lockhart and Morrison, from the high school, also attended. Charles Schultz, Esther Peterson, Ada Schultz, Luena Schultz, Wilbur Peterson and Dave Whitaker, from Red Cloud, helped the crowd. All had a great time and the baskets sold for $30.20, which will be applied on an organ.

The reception given by the old students to the new ones, last Monday evening, was well attended. Miss Beckwith, Miss Hermanson, Mr. Watson and Mr. Palmer were the committee that arranged the good time we all had. Miss Barlow and Mr. Clemmons made candy, and I tell you it was good to be there and have such a good time. A guessing game was played in which a phonograph furnished the music from different instruments which were guessed at by the students. We were sorry to postpone the time from Saturday evening, as a number came Saturday who could not come again. We want all old students to feel welcome to any and all of our good times here.

Red Cloud 6, Lebanon 0.

Another pretty game of football was played in Red Cloud yesterday afternoon before a large and enthusiastic crowd, when the Lebanon high school team met defeat at the hands of the Red Cloud high school. As in the game with Franklin, the first half ended without a score, with the ball well down in the visitors' territory. At one time the home team had the ball on Lebanon's five yard line, but lost the ball on downs. Red Cloud again got the ball on downs, and Sherwood tried a place kick for goal. Lebanon got the ball and made a touchback. The ball was kicked off from Lebanon's fifteen yard line and the half ended with the ball on the visitors' twenty-five yard line. On the first line-up in the first half Estey Smelser got a bad cut over his right eye, which compelled him to retire from the game. Ferguson was placed at fullback, and Whitaker was substituted at end. The only penalty imposed upon Red Cloud was fifteen yards because Whitaker failed to report to the referee when he entered the game. Whitaker more than made up for this loss, however, by the splendid manner in which he broke through and covered Lebanon's fumbles.

Both teams quickly warmed to the work in the second half, and repeated gains through the center and around the ends by Hedge, Johnston and Sherwood brought the ball dangerously near Lebanon's goal, but Lebanon again got the ball on downs and through a series of center smashes and a beautiful forward pass worked the ball down toward Red Cloud's territory. Another forward pass was attempted, but Lebanon's right end was not out the required five yards and the ball was carried back to where it started from. Red Cloud got the ball on downs, and from that time on the play was very fast. Quarterback runs, center rushes and a forward pass to Robinson which netted twenty yards brought the ball back into within striking distance of Lebanon's goal. Johnston was pushed over for a touch-down and Sherwood kicked goal.

Score: Red Cloud 6, Lebanon 0.

There was an entire absence of slugging and other unfair tactics on the part of either team. The Lebanon boys are a gentlemanly set of young fellows and took their defeat gracefully.

The teams lined up as follows:

LEBANON.	POSITION.	RED CLOUD.
Hislop	center	Jernberg
Buchanan	quarterback	Sherwood
Rickabaugh	right guard	Beckwith
Anderson	left guard	Beal
Mays	right tackle	C. Kellogg
Merry	left tackle	J. Kellogg
Forgy	right end	Robinson
Linton	right halfback	Whitaker
Adams	fullback	Smelser
		Ferguson

Don't Kill the Squirrels.

Because of its isolated position in the statute book the law protecting red foxes and grey squirrels has been overlooked by many persons, and because of their inability to find the law under the proper heading they have been led into the belief that there is no law against killing squirrels. The law is there, however, and is very strict. It provides a fine of $5 for each grey squirrel or red fox killed by any person, or found in his possession. The law also provides against the chase or pursuit of these animals, and fixes the same penalty. There is no "open" season.

When your Watch Stops

You cannot make it go by shaking it.

When the bowels are constipated you can disturb them with cathartics but, like the watch, they will not be able to do their allotted work until they are put into proper condition to do it.

One cannot mend a delicate piece of mechanism by violent methods, and no machine made by man is as fine as the human body.

The use of pills, salts, castor-oil and strong cathartic medicines is the violent method. The use of the herb tonic laxative,

Lane's Family Medicine

is the method adopted by intelligent people.

Headache, backache, indigestion, constipation, skin diseases—all are benefited immediately by the use of this medicine.
