Business College Notes

Miss Elyra Rushton, from near Esbon, Kan., is a new student this week.

The college will be cleaned up nice and trim Saturday in preparation for next term.

Miss Lois Beckwith is doing stenographic work for the college now. She does real good work.

Don't you think Ray Palmer looks guilty? Ask any of the students who had to walk home Wednesday evening the reason why?

This week is examination week and many are working hard to secure the coveted grades that are required to get one of our pretty diplomas.

George Phelps, our janitor the past winter, has gone to work for Albright Bros. George was the best janitor the college has ever had and we predict for him a bright future. A good janitor will make a good man as he climbs up the ladder.

The new Oliver typewriter that has just been secured by the college is a beauty. It is a No. 5 and is the latest thing on the market. It would pay anyone contemplating the purchase of a machine to come up to the college and look it over before buying.

The school took a trip out to the old mill dam and to Miner's ranch last Wednesday. On the return we stopped at the Burlington roundhouse and watched the engines come out of their stalls, turn on the turn-table, take water and coal and start on their long journeys. All learned many things and enjoyed a good time.

A. J. Dietrick ends his work here this week and Mrs. Paul S. Dietrick takes up work in the college Monday, as her school closes today. Mrs. Dietrick is glad to get back to the college work again. All the students that have attended the college know what President Dietrick and his wife can do in the teaching line and they are sure of the success of the college this spring.

These are the studies that the college will review before the April examination: Bookkeeping, agriculture, civics, spelling, penmanship, mental arithmetic, and theory and art. Arithmetic and composition will be taught, but not reviewed until after the April examination, at which time all other studies leading up to a second grade certificate will be taken up and finished before the May examination. Now is the time to start, as we begin next Monday.

School Notes

G. W. DUDLEY, SUPT.

Vacation next week.

Free tuition to county pupils goes into effect next September.

J. F. Winters stopped off in Red Cloud Wednesday, en route for Cambridge.

Miss Skjelver goes to the South Western Nebraska Teacher's Association meeting at Cambridge the last of this week.

Miss Sherman appears on the Central Nebraska Teacher's Association program, which will be in session in York, Thursday and Friday of next week. Her subject is "Primary Reading."

The removal of 30 pupils from the 3rd and 4th rooms in the north ward has greatly facilitated the work of both teachers and pupils. If thoroughly efficient work is done, the attendance must be kept below thirty-five scholars per teacher. Few teachers can successfully manage a greater number.

The University reports a shortage of teachers. Inexperienced men are easily getting $80 and $90 for small principalships. The secretary of the Employment Bureau says they can furnish no man candidate, even though unexperienced, for less than $80. Women high school teachers are demanding from $5 to $15 per month advance over last year's salary.

Vote for the School Bonds.

The Nation this week advocates the defeat of the school bonds on the ground that a $10,000 building is good enough for the First ward. Should the bonds carry, $5,000 of the money would go to put the high school building in good condition and buy a heating plant for it. Of the money remaining it probably would require at least $6,000 for the purchase of a location, heating plant and furniture for the proposed new building, which would leave not over $14,000 for the building itself. As to the matter of the location, we have confidence in the members of the school board and have no doubt they will be able to find a location for the school building that will be satisfactory to the majority of the people. The board has not committed itself upon the matter of a location because they have not decided upon one. Unless the bonds carry at this election, the people will have to put up for another year with the abominable conditions that now prevail. As it is, we are about twenty years behind Superior and other nearby cities in the matter of school buildings, equipment and methods.

Two days' treatment free. Ring's Dyspepsia Tablets for impaired digestion, impure breath, perfect assimilation of food, increased appetite. Do not fail to avail yourself of the above offer. Sold by Henry Cook.

A Central School Building.

The people in the south ward are decidedly in favor of having the board of education announce where the new school building is to be located. They want the building located just south of Curt Evans. The mistake in the matter seems to have been in placing the amount too high for the building. We are in favor of the building, and hope the bonds will be carried.—Com-Ad.

While it is natural that the First ward people should want the proposed new school building located near the center of their ward, the Second ward people are also deeply interested. Instead of being too much, the amount asked for is, if anything, too small. The proposition of some people to have three or four little "dinky" schools scattered all over town is absurd, when the size of the town is considered. It will be no more of a hardship for the children of the south end of town to walk as far as Fourth avenue than it will be for those living in the northwest and northeast parts of town, which will furnish nearly twice as many pupils for the new school building as will the south end of town. Eighth, and possibly seventh, grade pupils from all over the city will be cared for in the high school building. The greatest benefit to be derived from the new school building is the doing away with the present plan of giving each teacher two or three grades to teach. Under the proposed new arrangement each grade will have a teacher, and the pupils will reap the benefits of having the undivided attention of their teachers.

Insane Girl Causes Sensation.

Superior Journal.

About 9 o'clock Monday evening the fire bell was rung and it was not long before a large crowd of men were at the City Hall to learn where the fire was. But it was not a fire that caused the alarm. Miss Ida Davis, who is slightly demented, escaped from her home and could not be found. A vigorous search was begun at once. Ray Kesterson, Frank McLaughlin and W. E. Fitzgibbons drove a single rig south from the Davis residence across the race and past Mrs. Trumble's. The young lady was overtaken near August Schmelting's farm, and was asked if she knew where she was going, whereupon she replied that she did not and that she was considerably bewildered. She was asked if she did not wish to ride, to which she really consented and was brought home. It is reported that Miss Davis will be taken to Lincoln.
