Five weeks from yesterday is the Fourth of July. If we are going to have a celebration it is time to be doing something. It has been a long time since we have had a celebration worthy of the name. We understand that the band boys are planning to give a big celebration, and if they are it is time they were letting the world know it. Red Cloud always has a good celebration when preparations are begun in time, but if we wait until the last minute it is sure to be a "fizzer."

Site for the School House.

At their last meeting last Friday night the school board accepted the proposition of C. J. Platt for the block south of the Leonard property in the old Outhwaite tract. The price of the tract is $1600, and Mr. Platt agrees to allow the board $500 for the old building site. However, the board has six months in which to dispose of the property at a higher price if they can find a buyer for it. They should be able to use a large part of the material in the old building in erecting the new one, unless they can find a buyer for both the building and grounds. In view of the difficulty in obtaining a clear title to the property south of Curt Evans' place, this is probably the best that could be done.

FLOWER GAME.

Union Class, Friday Evening, May 31, Business College—Rev. Bates Will Entertain.

Make a large bouquet; each person draw from it a flower, and the meaning attached to it will typify the future consort's character. For example:—Say your bouquet consists of violets, hyacinths, primroses, daisies, heart's-ease, hawthorn, daffodils. Then the characters would be: Violet, modest; hyacinth, playful; dark hyacinth, mournful; primrose, simple, candid; daisy, an early riser; heart's ease, kind, charitable, or thoughtful; hawthorn, hopeful; daffodil, daring.

The profession of the destined lover will be found thus: Lily, a person of rank; rose, an artist; thistle, a scotchman and a soldier; oak-leaf, a farmer; laurel, a poet; foxglove, a lawyer; cypress, a doctor; tulip, a freeholder; passion-flower, a clergyman; marigold; a merchant; shamrock, an Irishman; leek, a Welshman.

Of course the persons who draw the flowers are supposed to be ignorant of their meaning, or they may draw blindfolded. Come and bring your flowers and your friends.

The display of flags on Decoration day was the best ever seen in Red Cloud with the possible exception of Reunion week.
