MISS LOVING TAKES STAND

MOST DRAMATIC RECITAL EVER HEARD IN VIRGINIA COURT.

HER STORY RIVALING MRS. THAW'S

Between Stifling Sobs She Tells That She Was Drugged and Ruined by Young Man Whom Her Father Shot Down.

Houston, Va., June 26.—Between stifling sobs, with tears streaming from her bright blue eyes, and while striving to hold back the huge lump in her throat, Miss Elizabeth Loving, who has occupied the center of the stage in the trial of her father, Judge William G. Loving, for the murder of Theodore Estes, told on the witness stand here her story of her alleged ruin by the young man whom her parent shot down. The recital was probably the most dramatic ever heard in a Virginia court of justice and rivaled the story told by Evelyn Nesbit Thaw of her ruin by Stanford White. It was the same story she said she told to her father on the morning of the tragedy, and which culminated in his hunting down and slaying the man whom she charged with perpetrating the deed. Estes, she said, had given her a drink of whisky from a flask he had in his pocket while they were out buggy riding on the afternoon prior to the killing. After taking the drink, she declared that she immediately began to feel dizzy and her head "spinned around" as if she had been given some powerful drug. In this connection and despite her protests, she declared that her escort drove her over an unfrequented road and, despite her screams, outraged her. Exhausted by the struggle and her mental faculties rendered incapable from the stimulant, the witness declared that she recalled nothing more until she regained her senses while in bed late that night at the home of County Clerk E. L. Kidd, where she had been visiting Miss Kidd. She testified that on the following morning, when her father asked her for the cause of her being brought to the home of Mr. Kidd in an unconscious and drugged condition, she related to him on bended knees the statement.

FRENCH WINE CRUSADE GOES ON

Marcelin Albert Suffers Considerable Diminution in Influence.

Argelliers, France, June 26.—Marcelin Albert, the leader of the wine growers' movement, appears to have suffered a considerable diminution in influence. His speech before a big meeting of citizens, in which he described his interview with Premier Clemenceau at Paris on Sunday, sounded curiously like a defense. Although he was greeted by cheers from some 3,000 people, he frequently was interrupted. The "apostle" addressed his followers from the roof of a house. He related in detail the incidents of his trip to Paris and his reception by the premier, who received him as a friend and pressed upon him 100 francs to pay his passage back. Albert indignantly denied that he wept in the presence of the premier. M. Clemenceau gave him this message:

"Will you go back and assemble the federated committees and tell them that I will not disarm until they abandon their illegal attitude." After reflection, Albert said, he undertook the mission and would now leave it to the delegates of the committees to decide what course should be taken. If they were for continuing the movement, he would go to Montpellier and surrender. After a stormy discussion, lasting more than two hours, during which Albert was savagely attacked, the delegates decided to continue the struggle with unabated vigor.

WARNING FROM BLACK HAND

Wealthy Italian Receives Notice that He Will Be Killed by July 5.

New York, June 26.—Members of the "Black Hand" society, who recently attempted to murder James Moroney and his family by placing dynamite in the kitchen stove of his home at Mount Vernon, have now set the date for his murder unless he gives them $1,000. Moroney received his last notice through the mail. The letter, which was postmarked New York, had a skull and crossbones at the head and read: "Unless you leave $1,000 where we told you to, you'll be killed and buried in the New Rochelle cemetery by July 5." The message was signed "Black Hand." After the signature was drawn a coffin. The police have arranged to guard Moroney night and day.

This action was taken in view of the dispatches which indicated the possibilities of trouble in Central America.

LIVELY FIGHT OVER WATER.

Baker and thirty-two other farmers and former incorporators of the Farmers' Ditch company of Scott's Bluff county was dissolved by Judge W. H. ## TWO-CENT FARE CONTESTED.

Union Pacific Asks Injunction of the Federal Court.

Lincoln, June 24.—The Union Pacific Railroad company filed in the federal court a transcript of the proceedings in the state court for a transfer of the suit brought by the attorney general to restrain the company from interfering with the operations of the 2-cent fare law; the freight rate reduction law and from disobeying orders issued by the state railroad commission. With the transcript was a cross petition asking for a restraining order to prevent the railway commission from putting into operation the reduced freight rates as provided in the Aldrich bill and from enforcing the 2-cent rate law. The papers were filed by Edson Rich of the legal department of the Union Pacific and in his petition he alleges that the 2-cent passenger rate is not compensatory and that should the freight rates be reduced 15 per cent these rates would not be compensatory. He alleged also that to enforce such a law would cause his road a great reduction in interstate rates, and he cites as an example the suggestion of the commission that people buying interstate tickets buy to the state line only.

STORM DAMAGE AT LINCOLN

Small Buildings Wrecked and Plate Glass Windows Demolished.

Lincoln, June 25.—Following a day of intense heat and great humidity, a nasty storm of wind, rain and hail descended on Lincoln and vicinity shortly before 8 o'clock last night. The wind, which was a straightaway from the west, was of enough violence to partly demolish one two-story brick building in the business center. A number of plate glass windows were demolished in store fronts and goods damaged. Trees were leveled and small outbuildings were wrecked. At Capitol Beach, a pleasure resort two miles from the city, damage estimated at $12,000 was done and people at the resort were given a bad scare. The theater building, a lightly constructed frame structure, was blown down, the roof falling upon and partly wrecking a restaurant building and high diving platform. One man was slightly injured by being struck by a corner of the roof.

Telephone lines in Lincoln were all but out of commission and there was no communication by telephone with outside towns.

The storm was severe west and north of Lincoln, being especially violent at points in York county. At Gresham, hail fell in quantities following the wind, and wheat and rye was pounded into the ground.

LATEST NEWS REGARDING MARS

Recent Photographs of Planet Show Two Canals.

Boston, June 26.—Perival Lowell, director of the observatory at Flagstaff, Ariz., who arrived in Boston on a business trip, announced some of the latest information he has gathered regarding the planet Mars. While the relations of earth to Mars in their motions about the sun are such that it is usually the North pole that is presented during an opposition, the case this year is reversed, and Mr. Lowell has had an opportunity to view the South pole of that planet. In doing so he has secured some confirmation of what was seen fourteen years ago. As with the earth, Professor Lowell explains the snow cap of the South pole of Mars is much larger than that of the North pole and the melting of this has been seen under excellent conditions. The cap at first observation was enormous in extent, covering an arc of more than 100 degrees on the planet's surface. At a second observation this cap had diminished greatly and at its base were certain appearances that Mr. Lowell thought bore out his belief in vegetation there. Photographs of the planet have been taken recently and Mr. Lowell has with him pictures showing two canals. The planet reaches its closest proximity to the earth the middle of next month. Mr. Lowell has prepared for this event by sending an expedition to South America, where it can be better observed.

IDEA OF PARADE GIVEN UP

'Frisco People Inclined to Regard General Funston's Remarks as Unjust.

San Francisco, June 26.—The Fourth of July committee, after a two hours' session, drafted a reply to General Funston, in which the latter's intimation that United States troops would not be safe from insult in the streets of San Francisco was repudiated and the general's offer of troops declined because the idea of a parade had been abandoned. The reply covered both the original letter from General Funston, dated June 17, and a later communication, in which the general explained at greater length his reasons for advising against the parading of troops. He declared that the expression, "as yet unwhipped mob," was intended to apply to a certain lawless element in the community and not to the committee. He closed by offering troops for a parade on July 4 with the statement that it was up to the people of San Francisco to deal with any disorder that may occur. The committee, in its reply, stated that it did not take the general's expression as a personal insult, but stigmatized as unjust the accusation that United States troops would be unsafe in San Francisco's streets.
