BRIEF MENTION.

John Brush, one of our prominent farmers living about ten miles north of town, got badly bruised up Sunday by being thrown from his buggy. His team got scared at a blanket flapping in the wind and ran away, with the result mentioned.

George C. Whistler, of the firm of Clifton and Whistler, real estate agents at Fort Morgan, Colo., was in Red Cloud Tuesday morning on his way east. Mr. Whistler is very enthusiastic over the prospects for a big boom in land in that district.

If you suffer from bloating, belching, sour stomach, indigestion or dyspepsia, take a Ring's Dyspepsia Tablet after each meal, and overcome the disagreeable trouble. It will improve the appetite, and aid digestion. Sold by Henry Cook's Drug Store.

George Coates of Superior, whose son Milton had a horse badly cut on the barb wire here three weeks ago, was up from Superior Monday to get the horse and take it home. Charley Platt, at whose auto the horse became scared, bore the expense of caring for the horse.

"Out in Nebraska they're making cheap gas from corn cobs, hence the renewed hopefulness of Mr. Bryan", says the Boston Transcript. For the benefit of the Transcript, we will state that the gas produced is superior in quality and smell to that produced in the home of the "Boston baked".

In order to accommodate the crowd that will visit the Chataqua next week, the people of Red Cloud must open their homes for their comfort. If any one has a room or two to let for that time or could take a few to board, let Paul S. Dietrick know at once. This big crowd must be treated white.

The big tent, 120x90, will be crowded the entire time the coming ten days of the Chataqua. This is not a street fair, but an educational treat. It is a big step for Red Cloud to take, and everyone should turn out and help make it a success so that it will not have to go back to the street fair again.

For our own part we would rather see our home nine defeated than have them win the game with a lot of imported players. In the old days everybody took pride in the home team and sympathized with their victories and losses. Nowadays it is the fashion to roast the home team on every possible occasion.

John H. Walsh, formerly editor of the Red Cloud Nation, has begun the publication of a labor paper at Nome, Alaska. "Jack" has for some time been the national organizer of the Industrial Workers of the World, and a few months ago, accompanied by his wife, went to Alaska to organize that territory. Mrs. Walsh was formerly Miss Dollie Reid.

The Franklinites are making big preparations for the Nebraska and Kansas Interstate Reunion, to be held in that city August 20 to 24. The people of Franklin always send a good delegation to Red Cloud to all our entertainments, and no doubt the compliment will be returned reunion week. We know of several families who are already planning to attend.

There will be an all-day Sunday

School rally at the Indian Creek church next Sunday. A good program has been prepared and everybody is invited. An effort will be made to have the Meneley-Robley Male Quartet sing in the afternoon, instead of singing at the Congregational church in Red Cloud. As announced elsewhere, this organization will sing at the Union service Sunday evening.

W. H. Thomas returned Tuesday morning from a trip to Bird City, Kan., where he has recently purchased a quarter section of land. Mr. Thomas brought back with him some fine samples of winter and macaroni wheat, as well as oats that were grown in that neighborhood. He also had some red clover which he plucked from the lawn at the depot, probably the product of seed thrown out by immigrants.

The Meneley Robley Male Quartet will give two sacred concerts in Red Cloud next Sunday: At the Congregational church at 3 p. m., and at the Union meeting at 8. The quartet is one of national reputation, having sung over the union in Chautauquas and lyceum courses. They had a few open dates before a line of western Chautauquas. The first tenor is a Harvard man with a brilliant record in New York operas. His voice ranges two and one-half octaves. Robley, the reader, has a wide reputation. Urton, the pianist, is a splendid barytone soloist, and Kinsey, basso, is exceptionally good. At both concerts a silver offering will be taken.

JAILED FOR DEBT.

At One Time the Law Was Severe on Those Who Owed Money.

In nearly every country until comparatively recent times debtors have been subject to imprisonment. After the panic of 1825 101,000 writs for debt were issued in England. In 1830 7,000 persons were sent to London prisons for debt, and on Jan. 1, 1840, 1,700 persons were held for debt in England and Wales, 1,000 in Ireland and less than 100 in Scotland. From time to time modifications in the laws governing the imprisonment of debtors have been made, so that fewer debtors are imprisoned for this crime each year.

In 1829 there were 3,000 debtors in prison in Massachusetts, 10,000 in New York, 7,000 in Pennsylvania, 3,000 in Maryland and a like proportion in other states. Many of these persons were jailed for debts of $1. The law providing for the imprisonment of men who could not pay their debts was shown to be impracticable by statistics taken from Philadelphia, where in 1828 there were 1,085 debtors imprisoned for debts amounting to $25,000. The expense of keeping these persons in confinement was $362,000, which was paid by the city, and the amount recovered by this method was $205.

Imprisonment for debt was abolished by congress in the United States in 1833, though this measure was not fully enforced until 1839.—New York Tribune.

WIFE OR CHILD, WHICH?

An Ingenious Problem With Two Interesting Equations.

Some time ago George was bragging about never having told a lie, and he said he never would. An Irishman, hearing the assertion, made a wager with George that he could make him tell a lie in two minutes.

So Pat began: "Supposing you and your little child and her friend were out in a boat for a row; the boat suddenly capsized, and you were all thrown into the water. Now, which child would you save?" asked Pat.

"Well," answered George, "under the circumstances I should save my own in preference to any one else's child."

"Very good," answered Pat. "Now, suppose you and your wife and child were out for a row and the boat again capsized. Now, which of them would you save, your wife or your child?"

After a thoughtful pause, George answered that he would save his wife.

"There you are," cried Pat. "You said at first that you would rather save your child in preference to any one else's, but now you say that you would save your wife, who is somebody else's child."—Pearson's Weekly.

They Disagreed.

"These fellows were fighting," said the policeman.

"Your honor," began one of the prisoners, "I beg of you not to accept so crude a misconception of our acts. Doubtless you have heard of a 'gentleman's agreement?'"

"Certainly."

"Well, we had one, but it had progressed to the stage where it became a 'gentleman's disagreement.'"

Yet was the judge deaf to reason.—Philadelphia Ledger.

An Unexpected Shot.

"My dear," said the caller, with a smile, to the little girl who occupied the study while her father, an eminent literary man, was at dinner, "I suppose you assist your father by entertaining the bores."

"Yes," replied the little girl gravely. "Please be seated."—Judge.

The Chief tells an interesting story of three Moravian girls who came from the old country and were on their way to Oberlin, Kas. They had been swindled out of their money by an immigrant agent, who furnished them transportation only as far as Kansas City, where they were put off the train. They walked as far as Guide Rock, where charitable people paid their fare to Red Cloud. In this city Antonio Proskovec and John Polnick took them in hand and raised enough money to send them on to Oberlin. Mr. Polnick was at that time engaged in farming.
