It gave immediate relief and she was able to walk about in three days. I am sure it saved her life." Sold by H. E. Grice, Druggist, Red Cloud.

Crushing the Curate.

One of the first tasks they set the new curate, who was handicapped by youth and inexperience, was to investigate the bona fides of a "widow woman" who had applied to the church for help. He departed nervously on his errand and knocked, as ill luck would have it, at the wrong door.

"How long has your poor husband been dead, my good woman? What number of children have you? Are any of them working? If so, what amount of money are they earning altogether?" were the questions he fired, like shots from a revolver, at the stammering woman who answered his summons. "I presume I am addressing Mrs. Harriet Smith?" he added, noticing with alarm that she looked angry.

"No, you ain't," answered the woman snappishly. "My name is Selma Jackson, my bairns go to school and my 'usband's doin' what is necessary to a plateful of steak and onions at this very moment. Would you like to know anything else? Where I was born? When I was baptized? At what age I started courtin'? Perhaps," she concluded sarcastically, rolling her tattered sleeve up above the elbow, "you'd like to see my vaccination mark before you go?"

But the bashful curate was already in full flight.—Liverpool Mercury.

Long Men Wanted.

The records in the war department in Washington are as a rule very dry, but occasionally an entry is found that is humorous.

An officer of engineers in charge of the construction of a road that was to be built through a swamp, being energetic himself and used to surmounting obstacles, was surprised when one of his young lieutenants whom he had ordered to take twenty men and enter the swamp said that he could not do it—the mud was too deep. The colonel ordered him to try. He did so and returned with his men covered with mud.

"Colonel, the mud is over my men's heads. I can't do it."

The colonel insisted and told him to make a requisition for anything that was necessary for a safe passage. The lieutenant made his requisition in writing and on the spot. It was as follows:

"I want twenty men eighteen feet long to cross a swamp fifteen feet deep."—Harper's Weekly.

The "Nagur" and the Fiddle.

Here is a story that Frederick Douglass used to tell about himself: Once when he was in Dublin he felt very lonesome. He was wandering about the streets when he was attracted by two violins in the window of a second-hand dealer. Frederick entered and asked the price of one of the instruments.

"Five shillings, sor," said the Irish dealer.

Frederick tuned the violin and began to play "Rocky Road to Dublin." Soon the proprietor's wife heard the music and entered the rear door. Then Frederick started in on "The Irish Washerwoman," and the couple began to dance for dear life. When the music and dancing stopped Frederick tendered the dealer 5 shillings, but his performance on the violin had greatly enhanced its value in the mind of the storekeeper, and as he hurried away to a place of security he exclaimed:

"If a black nagur can git such chunes out of that fiddle I'll never sell it at any price, begorrah!"

The Secret.

From his farm Judge Blank was in the habit of supplying the preachers of all the churches with flour, corn, hay and vegetables free of cost. He also kept the country supplied with venison from the herd of deer which he kept for many years. He built a big smokehouse in the rear of his grounds. One night, unseen himself, he saw a man emerge from the smokehouse with a side of pork on his shoulder. He recognized the intruder, but said nothing. A week afterward the fellow approached him, saying, "Judge, I understand you had some meat stolen from your smokehouse?" The old Judge raised his hand deprecatingly and said: "Sh! No one on earth knows anything about that but you and me." Argonaut.

Where She Got Them.

"But," said the inquisitive bachelor after the baby had been carefully placed in his arms, "where does she get her blue eyes? Yours are dark, and so are her papa's."

"Oh," the fond young mother explained, "she inherits them from my side of the family. My brother Will's wife has just such eyes exactly."—Cleveland Leader.

Food and Civilization.

Few people realize adequately that the stomach is the greatest civilizing agency upon earth. A well fed man whose meals are suitably served will rise out of barbarism with an irresistible clan.—London World.

Cheap Lands

in the Texas Panhandle and Pecos Valley, New Mexico.

People are just beginning to realize the fact that thousands of acres of the very best agricultural lands in the rain belt in the United States are in Potter, Randall, Swisher, Hale, Palmer, Bailey and several other counties in Texas, as well as the land lying east of the mountain range in New Mexico and the Pecos Valley, where they irrigate from artesian wells, which have been lying idle during the long years for want of knowledge of their real worth. People are flocking there by the hundreds, following those who have preceded them into the region and proved its worth beyond doubt. The discovery that here lie

Lands, the Equal of the Best in the older regions, at one-tenth the price, lands as fertile and productive and much easier cultivated, is the inducement that is causing people to locate there. The portion of Texas mentioned is known as the "shallow water district," and good water may be obtained at depths ranging from 25 to 100 feet. The altitude is 3,000 feet, and this is conducive to the mild and beneficial climate with which the southern plains are blessed. You can plow the whole year around if you choose. The soil is a rich loam. This land grows from

40 to 50 bu. of Corn,                      25 to 40 bu. of Wheat,
50 to 60 bu. of Kaffir Corn,           6 to 10 tons of Alfalfa,

Cotton, Millet, Sorghum, Apples, Peaches, Grapes and all kinds of small fruit, Irish Potatoes, etc. Almost all kinds of garden stuff grown with little care. This is probably one of the best countries on earth for hog raising, and no hog disease has ever been known there. There are good school and church privileges, good live towns, and good railroads.

Some of the land is sold on ten years' time, with reasonable cash payment. Deferred payments draw from 6 to 8 per cent. Land from $9 up.
