

CITY ELECTION.

After an All-Day Battle the Voters Decide to Remain "Wet."

The following men were elected last Tuesday:

Mayor, J. O. Caldwell.
Treasurer, J. O. Butler.
Clerk, L. H. Fort.
Police judge, Clarence Read.
City engineer, Geo. H. Overing.
Ed Amack and Ed Pulsipher, aldermen First ward.
J. A. McArthur, Second ward.
F. W. Studebaker and Henry Newhouse are the new members of the school board. Quite a number of ladies participated in this fight.

J. A. McArthur, the temperance candidate, defeated C. D. Robinson in the north ward by 42 votes.

All day the fight waxed strong, carriages and automobiles whizzing to and fro carrying the voters to the polls. Now that the fight is over it would behoove all citizens to co-operate for the best interests of Red Cloud generally and for the school children particularly.

Wedding Bells.

Jones-Strickland.

On Tuesday evening at the residence of Thos. F. Jones, in Walnut Creek Township, occurred the marriage of his eldest daughter, Miss Sara, to Mr. Frank Strickland. The families own and occupy adjoining farms, and are among the thrifty, prosperous people of that fine part of Webster county. The ceremony was at 8 o'clock p. m. so prompt that the contracting parties entered the ceremonial room and were in place while the clock was yet striking the hour. The service was the usual religious one of the church of the officiating minister, and was pronounced by Rev. I. W. Edson, of Red Cloud. Many beautiful gifts were received, some of great excellence and utility. From abroad, in attendance were Mrs. Burnett, of McCook, Mrs. Worthen, from Hebron, Mrs. Nelson, from Shickley, and others whose names the writer failed to obtain.

Mr. and Mrs. Strickland had all preliminaries arranged for occupancy of a cozy home on the Hinkins farm west of Inavale, and there their friends will doubtless find them, as a score of visits is already promised. It is pleasing to note that these young people, among the best we have, decide to remain and take up their life work in this county; they will deserve success, and will know how to obtain it.

Arneson-Points.

Miss Sara Arneson and "Biz" Frank Points, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mahlon Points, of Walnut Creek, were united in marriage by Rev. George Hummel at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. Mary Arneson, at high noon on Wednesday, April 8 in this city. Only the relatives were present. They received many valuable and costly presents. This young couple have many friends and commence their married life under very favorable conditions.

Kehler-Boyd

On Tuesday morning Mr. John R. Boyd and Miss May F. Kehler of Bladen, were united in marriage by Judge Edson at his office. Mr. Boyd is the only son of H. B. Boyd, living near Bladen, while Miss Kehler is a daughter of Dr. Kehler of that town.

This estimable young couple enter married life with the best of prospects, the groom being a worker, intelligent and active, and the bride one of the most talented and faithful young ladies to be found in the county. None doubt that they will succeed.

Etherton-Pegg

Yesterday Judge Edson married James C. Etherton and Lillie M. Pegg.

B. F. Gately.

While on a visit with his wife and stepson, L. C. Foss, at the home of G. H. Michaels nine miles northwest of Red Cloud, Mr. B. F. Gately of Lincoln, an old friend of Mr. Michaels, was taken sick and died last Saturday of apoplexy. Deceased was 62 years old, was born in Boston. Came to Nebraska in 1877, locating at Crete. From there he moved to Lincoln, where he was employed in the B & M yards for 21 years. His visit to Mr. Michaels was his first trip out of Lincoln limits during all those years. The remains were taken to Inavale Sunday and the funeral took place at Lincoln Wednesday.
