

IS HAYWARD OF OTOE NEBRASKA REPUBLICANS FLOCK TO HIM.

Roll Only Partially Called—Baker of Douglas Moves to Make It Unanimous—A Representative Republican Ticket—Platform and Biographical Sketches.

LINCOLN, August 11.—The republican state convention was called to order in the Oliver theatre yesterday a little after the time set, but as soon as organization was effected business proceeded with scarcely a break.

Congressman Dave Mercer called the convention to order and stated the committee had selected as temporary chairman C. W. Conklin of Tekamah. Mr. Conklin delivered an address, which had the single fault of being longer than the convention was in a humor to receive. It had the effect of losing him the permanent chairmanship, for which honor Senator Thurston was selected.

There were no contesting delegations and the list of delegates as prepared by the secretary was accepted.

As soon as permanent organization was effected and a committee on resolutions and platform appointed, the convention proceeded to ballot for governor. One county after another swung into line for Hayward. Douglas gave her 103 votes solid for Baker, while Lancaster gave her 53 to Hayward. Madison county elected Hayward by giving him 14 votes and Baker two. At this point Mr. Baker arose and said that to him it was evident that the convention thought he could serve the party best on the bench rather than as governor, and moved to suspend the call of the roll and make Judge Hayward's nomination unanimous. This was received with cheers. Judge Hayward appeared and thanked the convention in a short speech for the honor conferred.

On roll call for lieutenant governor, Senator Murphy of Beatrice and Mayor Giffert of West Point were the only starters, but Murphy forged so far ahead the call was suspended and the nomination tendered him unanimously. Lancaster county was reached on roll call for treasurer before the convention came to the conclusion that Cenek Duran, a Bohemian citizen of Saline county, ought to have it by unanimous consent.

T. L. Mathews of Fremont had a clear field and a straightforward course in his run for the nomination for auditor and it was given to him by acclamation and under a suspension of the rules.

For treasurer it was necessary to call the roll twice before a selection could be made. Peter Mortensen, a Danish-American citizen and banker of Ord led the chase and at the conclusion they made it unanimous.

For superintendent of public instruction the roll call resulted in the choice falling to J. F. Saylor, at present superintendent of schools for the city of Lincoln. Others ran, but Saylor proved fleetest.

Judge N. D. Jackson was so far in front in the race for the attorney generalship that the convention treated him as it had the others, and on motion of the chief of the opposition it was made unanimous.

Douglas county, which felt somewhat glum when Baker went down was mollified when told it could name the treasurer, but failing to agree on anyone for that office, accepted the land commissionership, and on its motion the convention named A. F. Williams of Douglas county.

The convention adjourned at about 5 o'clock.

Brief Biographical Sketches.

Judge Monroe L. Hayward will be fifty-eight years of age on the 22d of December. He was born in Willshoro, N. He was called Farmer Williams, an appellation rightly applied to him, as he is a practical farmer and owns one of the finest farms in Douglas county. He is one who has not failed on the farm. He served six years as county commissioner of Douglas county. Mr. Williams was born in Louis county, New York, February 12, 1844. His parents were farmers and he spent his early life on the farm. The Platform.

The following platform was adopted: We, the republicans of Nebraska, in convention assembled, congratulate the people of the state upon the fulfillment of the pledges made at the national republican convention at St. Louis. Our industries have revived, our finances have been maintained, our national credit is restored and every dollar issued by the government is on a par with gold.

Our laborers as employed, our manufacturing establishments have resumed operation, our mines are being worked to their full capacity, the masses of the people are prosperous and are consuming once more to the extent of their needs the products of the farm and the factory.

We reaffirm unswerving allegiance to the principles enunciated in the republican national platform of 1896. We are in favor of the maintenance of the present gold standard and unalterably opposed to the free and unlimited coinage of silver.

We favor the payment of our soldiers and sailors in the same money as is paid the bondholders.

We congratulate the nation upon the successful issue of the war with Spain presented under the direction of William McKinley, commander-in-chief of the army and navy of the United States, with the loyal support of brave volunteers on both land and sea.

We emphasize our hearty approval of the wise foreign policy of President McKinley and also of the terms demanded of Spain as the conditions of restored peace.

We pledge, if restored to control of the state government, an honest and economical administration of public affairs and the introduction of strict business methods into all state offices.

We pledge the abolition of all unnecessary or sinecure state offices.

We pledge a comprehensive revision of the revenue laws of the state with a view to more equitable distribution of tax burdens.

We pledge legislation for state control and regulation of public corporations in the interest of all the people.

We pledge the necessary steps toward a revision of the state constitution.

We call attention to the sham reforms of the tripartite fusion parties who have secured victory at the polls under false pretenses and whose pledges are proved by experience to be unreliable and utterly worthless.

We invite the co-operation and support of not only all who believe in republican principles, but also of all who wish better government, to the fact that Nebraska may be no longer discredited by being classed among the states in subjection to populism.

Has Fasted for 20 Years.

There is a Jew, a native of Litaik, Russia, living in the East End of London, who has fasted for twenty years, his sole daily diet during that time consisting of six pints of milk, three pints of beer and a half pound of Demerara sugar. His name is Morris Fox. He is an excellent Talmudical scholar, and in spite of his frugal meals, he is the most healthy, intelligent and wide-awake person in his quarter. He is now over forty. At the age of seventeen, it appears, he caught some lingering fever, which shattered his constitution and entirely destroyed his digestive organs. He took many kinds of treatment from many physicians, until his stomach became lured to all medicine. At the Kiev hospital he vainly tried to cure him by sponging and electrolysis; at Vienna his physicians included the well-known Drs. Albert and Northagel. His treatment at Carlsbad was a failure; then he traveled to Kongsberg, when the physicians decided that he must live on sugar, milk and beer. He adopted their prescription, and soon regained normal health. For twenty years no solid food has passed his mouth.

Couldn't Be in Two Places at Once.

Doctor—Your wife must have chicken broth three times a day, and you must give her a spoonful of this medicine every hour during the night. Mr. Jackson (dubiously)—Wa'al, doctah, I don't see how yo' expect me to pervide her wif chicken broff an' gib her dat medicine at de same time.

Too Dear a Friend.

From Harper's Bazar: "Hawley," said Tomson to his most intimate friend, "I'll make a compact with you. You tell me my faults and I'll tell you yours." "My dear fellow," Hawley replied, "I can't. My voice always gives out after I've been talking six hours."

Cuban troops and other citizens of Cuba needing food will at once be supplied with the same through the commissary department of the army until other arrangements are made.
