Severe Attack of Dyspepsia Cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla - A Skin Disease From Childhood.

"Since we came to North Dakota we have never had occasion to call a physician. We take Hood's Sarsaparilla for all our ailments. About three years ago my husband had the misfortune to strain his stomach by heavy lifting. This brought on dyspepsia and he suffered very much, especially at night, and he could not sleep. He decided to take Hood's Sarsaparilla and after using two bottles he was completely cured. He was also gratified to find that Hood's Sarsaparilla relieved him of a roughness of the skin with which he had been troubled from childhood." Mrs. JOHN ARHAMS, Pembina, N.D.

WASHINGTON NOTES.

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 22. European members of the dipkatic corps are not interesting themselves to any marked extent in the developments in Porto Rico and Cuba, recognizing that the former has passed under U. S. control to stay, and that it is only a question of time when the latter will follow, but they are keenly alive to everything having even the remotest connection with the Philippine islands problem. The United States is in a position to get from the peace commission whatever portion of the Philippines it may see fit to demand, is not doubted, but the shrewdest diplomat has not been able to ascertain the extent of the demand that will be made. There isn't a government in Europe that would not breathe freer if the United States took them all. Whether right or wrong, only time can tell, but there is a general belief among diplomats that if the United States only takes one of the islands trouble will speedily follow, no matter what arrangements are made for the government of the others. They think the trouble would arise from the rivalry of England, Germany and Russia, each of which would like to get some territory on the islands for themselves, but would most decidedly object to seeing either of the others do so. Neither Spain or a native government could successfully resist European encroachments. The diplomats believe trouble can only be avoided by the United States either taking the whole group or allowing them to go back to Spain. In either disposition of them, no European government could find a reasonable pretext for objection or interference.

Secretary Alger and Adjutant General Corbin are finding the task of naming the regiments of volunteers that shall be mustered out of service first, it having been decided to reduce the army to the extent of about 100,000 men, without waiting for the formal treaty of peace to be negotiated, much more difficult than they expected it to be, owing to the influence wielded by the friends of the different regiments that wish to remain in the service, as well as those who wish to be mustered out. It was supposed that with the fighting all over, the men in all the regiments would be clamoring to be mustered out, but it seems that a great majority of them have gone on just the opposite tack.

Although the rumors concerning the possibility of the resignation of Secretary Alger are still in the air, it is not likely that he will change his mind, and that Secretary Alger is to retire at an early day because of friction between himself and the president concerning the conduct of the war, it can be stated as coming directly from the two men that there has been no friction between them, and that Secretary Alger has no intention of leaving the cabinet.

The politicians are all at sea as to the issue upon which the congressional campaign shall be fought—that is, national issues; there are, of course, local issues of more or less importance in all districts. Talk with the men in charge of the committee headquarters in Washington makes it plain that they are watching each other, each hoping that the other will take some step that can be used as an issue by the other. The war will be used to a certain extent, but the active participation of all parties in the war, both in the field and in congress, will make that a very limited issue indeed. The anti republicans will try to arouse opposition to the war revenue law, by claiming that it imposes more burdens upon the poor than upon the rich, but so far there is little indication that it will be very successful. The silver question, like the poor, we always have with us, but there is no such interest in it as was displayed two years ago. The president is determined that the Philippine question shall not be made an issue and it will not be difficult for him to succeed. He will simply have to keep his mouth shut. The administration cannot be arraigned for a Philippine policy until it is known what the policy is, and that will not be until the demand the American peace commissioners make concerning the Philippines become public property, and that is not likely to be until after the congressional campaign.

More than passing interest was taken in the presence of Arch Bishop Ireland at Washington, for the purpose of trying to get the president to select a Catholic for one of the peace commissioners. Whether the mission of the arch bishop was successful will not be known until the names of the other three men, in addition to Secretary Day and Senator Davis, who are to serve as peace commissioners, are announced. They are expected every day.

The anti-pass plank in the pop platform is very weak in view of the fact that nearly all of the present state officers are carrying a pocketful of passes. They now propose to impose fines and imprisonment on railroad officials for letting a pop officer have a pass. In this treatment of a great moral question the pops follow in the lead of our prohibition friends, who hold that the weak minded galoot that swills red liquor by the gallon is an innocent victim, but invokes the terrors of the law upon the individual who furnishes the liquor. They class the pass habit with the drink habit. The next step will be to build reformatory institutions for pop officials, with guardians to protect them from the pass dispenser. Why not invent some Keeley cure for this pass habit that afflicts the pop officials.—Tekamah Herald.

The republican state ticket meets the hearty approval of the rank and file of the party in all parts of the state. It is a representative ticket, composed of practical, capable business men of established integrity, and it is sure to receive a very generous support. We do not underrate the strength of the fusionists when we say that we believe the republican ticket has flattering chances of success at the polls in November.—Tecumseh Chieftain.

If the people of Nebraska could see Judge Hayward and W. A. Poynter standing side by side upon the same platform, and know and fully understand the manner in which both men were nominated for governor, there would not be much hesitancy as to which to vote for. There were no dickers or deals to bring about Hayward's nomination. He was the choice of the people.—Minden Gazette.

It has now been two weeks since the republican convention was held at Lincoln, and the populists have not yet been able to find a single inconsistency in our platform or a single fault with our candidates. The reason is simple, the platform is right and so are the men, and just because of this populism is doomed in the coming campaign.—Hastings Record.

The republicans of Nebraska never went into a campaign with a more grim determination and enthusiasm than they are entering upon the one just opening. It is a good omen. It signifies success.—Fremont Tribune.

Scrofula, a Vile Inheritance.

Scrofula is the most obstinate of blood troubles, and is often the result of an inherited taint in the blood. S. S. S. is the only remedy which goes deep enough to reach Scrofula; it forces out every trace of the disease, and cures the worst cases.

My son, Charles, was afflicted from infancy with Scrofula, and he suffered so that it was impossible to dress him for three years. His head and body were a mass of sores, and his eyesight also became affected. No treatment was of any avail until he was five years old. I thought would relieve him, but he grew worse until his condition was indeed pitiable. I had almost despaired of his ever being cured, when by the advice of a friend I purchased S. S. S. (Swift's Specific). A decided improvement was the result, and after he had taken a dozen bottles, no one who knew of his former dreadful condition would have recognized him. All the sores on his body have healed, his skin is perfectly clear and smooth, and he has been restored to perfect health. Mrs. S. S. MAREY, 350 Elm St., Macon, Ga.

For real blood troubles it is a waste of time to expect a cure from the doctors. Blood diseases are beyond their skill. Swift's Specific, reaches all deep-seated cases which other remedies have no effect upon. It is the only blood remedy guaranteed purely vegetable, and contains no potash, mercury, or other mineral. Books mailed free to any address by Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.
