From an item in the daily papers we learn that a Red Cloud man has sued an editor at Beaver City for criminal libel for publishing an article in which charges were made derogatory to his being a man of chastity and honor.

The snow of last Sunday was somewhat different from the one of the previous week. About five inches covered the ground and made fine sleighing for those who were lucky enough to have anything to ride in.

FOR SALE OR TRADE.—Good town property, well improved and in good repair, near to railroad in the city of Red Cloud. Will sell for cash or part on time or trade for stock. Apply to Chas. Schaffnit, Red Cloud, Neb.

"The advertising man of that weekly paper looks mad every time he hears a freight train coming up the grade," observed the cheerful boarder. "What's the trouble?" asked his friend. "He hates to think of so much puffing and no one paying for it."—Spokane Review.

CLOSING OUT SALE—I have decided to close out my entire stock of dry goods, boots, shoes, hats, caps, notions, groceries, hardware, queensware and salt. I must sell to pay indebtedness. It will pay every farmer to call in and get some of these bargains. I will sell my entire stock at a big discount for cash. A good chance for some one with capital to engage in business. I will sell the building or rent it.—G. A. HARRIS, Cowles, Nebraska.

Advice to Consumptives

There are three great remedies that every person with weak lungs, or with consumption itself, should understand. These remedies will cure about every case in its first stages; and many of those more advanced. It is only the most advanced that are hopeless. Even these are wonderfully relieved and life itself greatly prolonged.

Scott's Emulsion

of Cod-Liver Oil with Hypophosphites. Be afraid of draughts but not of fresh air. Eat nutritious food and drink plenty of milk. Do not forget that Scott's Emulsion is the oldest, the most thoroughly tested and the highest endorsed of all remedies for weak lungs, with lung and consumption in all its stages.
