CAPTAIN PLACES A GUARD ASHORE AT TIEN TSIN

Disturbances-Landed 100 Miles From Peking, the Chinese Capital

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24 .- The navy department received a dispatch to-day that the cruiser Charleston has landed a marine guard at Tien Tsin, in the roadways of the gulf of Pe-chi-li, 100 miles by water from Pekin, the Chinese capital. The dispatch was considered of grave importance, and was taken to President McKinley at the White house at once.

The disturbances in Pekin following the dethronement of the Chinese emperor suggested to Washington the necessity of sending a naval vessel to Chinese waters to protect American interests. Admiral Dewey was ordered to dispatch the Baltimore and Petrel to the Gulf of Pe-chi-li. The Baltimore, on account of a slight accident. was unable to sail. The Boston and ate view of the disaster." the Petrel sailed from the Philippine posely for ascending Chinese rivers. At the early part of the war she was near the river's mouth. The Petrel, however, took a position near Tien-Tain. The Charleston arrived later, relieving the Boston. On account of to join the Petrel at Tien-Tsin. Pekin is about 2,000 miles from Manila. The American vessels at Tien-Tsin count of the shallow water.

Secretary Hay, when called into conthe marines were landed, not because solely to act as a guard for the United States legation at Pekin. United States Minister Conger had represented that nearly all of the legations of the European powers were provided with marine guards, and he did not care to be exceptional in this case. After lying at Tangu for a while the Boston worked her way up the river to Tien Tsin, about the head of navigation for vessels of her class. It is believed at the Navy department that the marines will be sent forward from that point in lannches or small river boats. Prob-

Our Navy Put to the Supreme Test War and Not Found Wanting. Washington, Nov. 28 .- The annual report of the secretary of the navy is much longer than the usual annual re-Was Necessary in Order to Protect port. The first sentence explains this, "For the first time since its rehabilitation, the navy has been put to the supreme test of war. Years of patient, persistent training and development have brought it to a point of high efficiency which resulted in the unparalleled victories at Manila and Santiago-victories which have given the names of our naval commanders worldwide fame, and added an additional page to the glorious naval history of our country."

The report describes in rapid order the steps that were taken to consolidate the squadrons and put the navy in readiness for hostilities. Sigsbee's famous telegram asking a suspension of public opinion in connection with the blowing up of the Maine is quoted and the secretary says: "This judicious telegram did much to secure in the public mind a dispassion-

The indirect pecuniary advantage to the United States in the way of saving an increase of insurance rates and in asthe fall floods the Charleston was able suring the country freedom from attack on that coast is incalculable."

One fact disclosed by the history of the days before the surrender of Eancould not be joined by another cruiser tiago is that Sampson asked to be rep-from Admiral Dewey's fleet, on acresented in any conference held to arrange the terms of surrender of Santiago by virtue of the fact that he had sultation over the dispatch, said that engaged in the joint operations. Admiral Sampson's chief of staff did arrive before the final articles were signed, but Shafter doclined to permit him to be one of the signatories. In view of the prospective increase in the navy and the necessity of guarding the naval stations which will be needed in the newly acquired territory of the United States, and especially in view of the general efficiency displayed by marine corps, the secretary says it should be increased to 5,000 men, with the necessary officers.

SITUATION IS GRAVE SECRETARY LONG'S REPORT. LITTLE TO CHANGE IN HAWAIL

The President Will Suggest a Medification of the Island Government. WASHINGTON, Nov. 2s. - Senator Cul-

lom is preparing the report of the Hawaiian commission and will submit it to the President for transmission to Congress so that it will be ready at the opening of the session. The senator declines to give details as to the character of the report, but from other sources it was learned that the report, as finally drafted, will provide for a partial continuance of the present government in the islands under direct federal supervision. There will be a senate of fifteen members and a house of double that number, which is an increase upon the present will be a graded qualification infinitely worse than military upon the suffrage. Members of rule. "Under military the house may be elected by voters who pass an educational test alone, while members of the senate will be chosen by voters possessing both educational and property qualifications. There is now a property qualification for voting in Hawaii, but the proposed form of government will modify this so as to furnish an inducement for small holdings. There will be educational and property restrictions in regard to holding office, the qualifications for which will be closely defined.

There will be no "open door" in Hawall. The tariff laws of the United States will be extended to the islands without alteration, because Hawaii was formally annexed to the United States by a statute law and any other course would undoubtedly be opposed by the supreme court. The present supreme court of the Islands, whose members hold their places for life, is to be continued and to be given jurisdiction of local laws, whose force will also be continued as far as possible, as they have been taken by law from the statute books of different states in the union and are, as a whole, quite asceptable.

The immigration, labor and general election laws of the United States will be specifically extended to the islands. These will keep out further inroads of coolies. The islands will be give a delegate in the House of Representatives, who will have no vote, but will have the same privileges as the representatives of Arizona, New Mexico and Oklahoma. The governor and some of the higher territorial officers will be appointed by the President The legislature will have control over local taxation and expenditures. The restriction of the suffrage on educa tional and property lines will reduce the numbers of voters far below the present organized territories.

OPPOSES EXTRA SESSION.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—Representa-tive Cannon of Illinois, chairman of the appropriation committee of the House, has arrived and the subcommittee on deficiencies will begin the consideration of the estimates for the extraordinary expenses of the army and navy growing out of the war and the preparation of a bill covering these deficiencies for the period from January 1 to July 1.

With the enactment of the regular money bills necessary to earry on the governmental machinery at this session of Congress, Mr. Cannon sees no occasion for an extra session as far as legislation for our new possessions is concerned. He believes unripe or hasty legislation for the government ship there is perfect elasticity," he said. "Changes can be made to fit new conditions as fast as they arise. Congress can then deal intelligently with the sub-

The grand total of the appropriations for the fiscal year ending July 1, including all the extraordinary war expenses to January 1, but not including the deficiencies for extraordinary expenses from January 1 to July 1, is $893,231,515. There are no figures yet upon which the appropriations for the coming session of Congress can be based, but Mr. Cannon believes they will be considerably below the figures for the last Congress.

NIGHT CABINET SESSION.

President McKinley Summons His Advisers in Post Haste.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28 .- A special meeting of the cabinet was held at 10 o'clock last night. All the members were with the President except Secretary Long, who was out of the city. The meeting was called by the President in order that his advisers might consider with him advices received from the American peace commissioners at Paris. It is understood that the advices related to counter proposals informally made to the American commissioners by the representatives on the commission of the Madrid government

It is understood that one point new in the negotiations thus far was raised in the dispatches received by the President. It related to a modification of the terms of the proposition submitted to the Spanish commissioners a few days ago by the American commissioners, but in just what particular the proposed modification was to be made could not be ascertained. That the proposition was not a cepted was made clear by the Presidont in cabling to the American commissioners a reiteration of his former instructions.

Following is the translation of the his wife by the chief clerk of the minister of the colonies, the French government having withheld from her the possession of the original letter:

"Despair is beginning to seize me. Have all my friends forgotten me? No one seems to be occupying themselves with me I recall to you that months and months ago I wrote to the president of the republie and to General Boisdeffre, begging them to introduce a revision of my case. I am without news; nothing, nothing comes to me. I leave as a bequest to the president and General Boladefire the task of avenging my memory, of clearing my honor, my name and that of my dear children, whom I shall see no more. I shall no longer communicate with my family, as I have said all there is to be said. and I have nothing more to say."

This letter has been hinted at, perhaps, but this is the authentic copy. Captain Dreyfus' affection for his family is well known, and the pathetic nature of this letter is all the more apparent

THIEVES IN THE STATE HOUSE

Money Stelen From the Deposit Vanits of the Kapsus State Capital

TOPERA, Kan., Nov. 26.—The officers and employes of the state house were wildly excited this forenoon by the discovery that the private boxes of the vault of the state treasurer have been robbed recently of sums aggregating nearly a thousand dollars, possibly more. In this vault is a section of boxes, which for years it has been the custom of state officers and employes of the state house to use as safe depositories for money, private papers and other valuables. The boxes are labeled with the names of their respective owners and each has a key sup-posed to fit his particular box and no other. By the rules of the treasury, nobody is permitted to enter the vault except employes of the office and per-sons holding boxes. At night nobody can enter, the doors being equipped with a time lock.

On Wednesday Governor Leady went to his box to get a little Thanksgiving money and was surprised to find nothing there. Just a week before he had left $165 in the box and had not been near it since. He made no investigation at the time, as he was about to leave for his home in Lawrence, and he cautioned the employes of the office to say nothing about it. Soon afterward the vault was closed and the time lock put on till to-day.

Last night J. M. Harrington, the state house guide, who kept a little fruit stand in the building, died and this morning his wife sent her key down to the treasurer's office for some money, her husband having $500 in a box. The box was opened by Mr. Williams, the assistant treasurer, and the money was found to be gone. In-formation of this loss soon spread over the building and the employes hastened to examine their boxes. The first to open her box was Lena Mo-Lallin, who discovered that $100 ahe had put away for safe keeping was missing. Then W. H. Barbee, a jani-tor, whose box is just above Mr. Harington's, found that he had lost $150. Barboe is a son-in-law of Harrington. H. A. Mosher, an employe of the treasurer, was more fortunate. He had $600 in a box, but it was locked within a smaller box and the thief did not take it, presumably because it was too bulky to carry away without discov-

Numerous others have boxes in the yault, but so far the losses above stated are the only ones discovered. There may be others, however, as the helders are out of town. Among them are John W. Breidenthal, state bank commissioner; M. A. Waterman, assistant state bank commissioner; W. H. Barnes, secretary of the state horticultural society; J. W. Amiss, assistant superintendent of public instruction; H. Z. Gill, secretary of the state board of health, besides a number of clerks

It is agreed by all that since the vault is secured by the time lock at night, the robberies were committed during business hours, and by somebody who holds a box and discovered by experimenting that his key fitted other, boxes.

That the robbery was committed by somebody employed in the state house nobody doubts, for although others may have keys given out by former treasurers, only persons known to have keys have been allowed to enter the vault during this administration. Mr. Heflebower will employ a detective to ferret out the robber.

SECRETARY BLISS' REPORT.

Comments on the Progress Made by the WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 .- The annual report of Secretary of the Interior Bliss reviews in detail the progress of pension, Indiau, land, patent, educa-tional and territorial affairs. Reviewing the gradual diminution of public land area, Sacretary Bliss says: three hundred and odd million acres of desert land requiring irrigation to render them valuable farming lands, the available water supply is sufficient for only 71,500,000 acres, leaving 260,-676,000 acres suitable for grazing purposes. There are thirty forest reservatious embracing an estimated area of 40,719,474 acres." The Indians are declared to have made substantial progress, and the Chippewa outbreak was the only serious disturbance of the year. Referring to this trouble, the report points to Commissioner of Indian Affairs Jones' successful efforts in bringing about the surrender of the Indians, and says the origin of the trouble is now under joint investigation by the departments of the interior and of
