HABITS CT DIET.

Excess in Enting and Drinking Is Conducive to Obesity and Illness.

The lower animals in wild life do not appear to require the services of a veterinary surgeon, nor do we hear of disease or epidemics raging among them. Though they range over fields dotted here, there and everywhere with poisonous weeds, a God-given instinct teaches them what to shun, the savor doubtless indicating to the serses what constitutes improper food. Domesticated animals would enjoy a like ex-emption from disease if, without the intervention of man, they were permitted to confine their diet and habits of life to the all-sufficient provisions of nature; but man corrals them in unsanitary places, applies the overfeeding, cramming processes and reverses natural conditions as he also does for thus we have the man glutton and the the Christian church on November 30. brute martyr to man's ignorance and perverse notious of life.

It is a question not difficult of solution, whether the modern connoisseur is not the greatest enemy of mankind. Not educated to eat and drink only those simple things which are health- all. ful, life-giving and primarily designed to prolong life, the average youth is reared by the overindulgent mother as a monstrosity of perverted appetite, with a consequent inclination to run the entire gamut of abnormal feeding, including all the slops that are sold ever the bar or fountain counter. What wonder is it that the boys of the nation are developing so many eigarette wrecks and juvenile tipplers with crippled intellects and lack of capacity for any purpose worth living for? Too ing at 7:39 many of our boys are educated gluttons, a condition of disease as inexorable and exacting as the drink or drug habit. The obese man or woman will tell us that ancestry is to blame for their inherited (?) condition, never seeming to realize that they consume each day food enough to sustain three or four hard-working sons of toil, and lews: they are mountains of fat only because they gorge their anatomy beyond nature's capacity to eliminate, leaving it no other alternative than to store the surplus here and there on vital organs, tissues and muscles, as waste matter that cannot be disposed of while the supply is unchecked. The victim dies ten or twenty years before his allotted leader. time has expired. Vital statistics show an ever-increasing percentage of deaths by heart failure, nervous prostration, etc., yet the process of cramming the children goes on in increasing ratio. The appetite habit requires a cure, and if mothers would initiate it in the nursery by the application of common sense methods, they would rear fewer drunkards and self-indulgent derelicts and sheds fewer tears in old age because of the preverse habits they have unwittingly enforced .- Banner of Gold.

HANDKERCHIEFS.

Those of Fine Texture But Very Plain Are Now in Pavor with the Ladies.

It might truthfully be stated that the handkerchief is one of the most important articles of clothing, and an interesting bit of reading it makes to sean the statistics of the number of handkerchiefs that are sold even in one shop during the year. But there are handkerchiefs and handkerchiefs, and some have very little reference to

The bargain ones, for instance, that are sold for 121/2 cents, and that are pretty and most useful, bear little refinest linen that is embroidered with One-fourth the price of coffee. 15c and the owner's monogram, and which never costs less than three or four dollars. Just at present it is the fad to have the finest and most expensive handkerchiefs that can be bought-exceedingly simple in so far as they are finished with a hem and hem-stitching, of course, but the expense lies in the very fine texture of the material and in the wonderfully fine stitches that are employed in the lettering. One set of to three-that were finished the other day, were embroidered in hair. Large possible when the single letters are used-and even with the monogram nothing exaggerated is considered cor-

What Makes Beauty?

Beauty is made or marred by the blood. When the blood is impure, the cheeks grow sallow, the eyes dull, the hair loses its luster. When the blood flows through the veins in a pure, rich current, the eyes sparkle, the skin is clear, the eomplexion beautiful. Women who use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, find that it is a growing beautifier. By purithat it is a genuine beautifier. By puri-fying and enriching the blood it puts a bloom on the cheek and a brightness in health.

"Having been left weak from fever last October, I was under the doctor's care here," writes Mrs. Alice E. Casebier, of Crawford, Dawes Co., Neb. "I took medicine, but did not seem to gain very much. I was tired all the time, had no appetite, had wandering pains all over me more or less, and was very nervous, as I had been sick all the summer. I was all run-down and didn't know what alled me. I got advice from Dr. Pierce, telling me my symptoms better than I would describe them myself, and also telling me that I would have to take care of myself, and how to take the medicines. I took four bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and five of 'Favorite Prescription,' and gained strength right along. I took one bottle of the 'Pleasant Pellets,' also. I know that these medicines will do all that they are recommended to do."
