The mill is being pushed to completion as fast as possible. The structure is now fully enclosed, and in a short while we will again have a mill in our midst. In warm weather Prickly Ash Bitters helps your staying qualities. Workers who use it occasionally stand the heat better and are less fatigued at night. Sold by C. L. Cotting. "God bless the man that first invented rain." That is a very popular expression these days when you see the street sprinkler going down the street. All the trouble is the darned thing don't cover enough territory. We understand that some of the Riverton boys have an idea they can beat Red Cloud in a water fight. If the Riverton boys have any such ideas in their heads they had better send a representative down to arrange the preliminaries.

The past week has not been very conducive to good spirits among the farmers or any one else. To tell the truth the outlook for the corn crop is just a little gloomy in this locality. No rain here to speak of for a month and still on all sides of us they have had good rains. The early corn is in most cases already considered a failure, but the corn which is not yet tassel out is not thought to be hurt to any great extent, and will yet make good corn providing it rains within a week. The fusionists held their several conventions in Lincoln this week and divided up the ticket amongst themselves in a manner calculated by them to cause harmony, but even weather prophets are unable as yet to predict whether it will be a snow storm or just a frost. John O. Yeiser of Omaha, generally conceded as the nominee for governor, was turned down, and the nomination given to Poynter for a second time. The balance of the ticket is entirely new and is as follows: Lieutenant governor, A. E. Gilbert; secretary of state, C. V. Svoboda; auditor, Theo. Greiss; treasurer, S. B. Howard; attorney general, W. D. Oldham, commissioner of public lands and buildings, P. J. Carey; superintendent of public instruction, C. F. Beck.

From this date we will give one with each dollar paid on subscription. In addition to his very fine oration at the grove on the afternoon of the Fourth, Mr. Overman also made a very pleasing little speech to the old settlers in the afternoon. At a meeting of the city council last Friday $50 was appropriated to be used in gravelling Fourth avenue west of Webster street. Elsewhere in this city will be found the semi-annual report of the county treasurer. It shows the county to be in good condition financially. The city council this week revised and passed a new set of ordinances for this city. The reason for this was the inadequacy of the old ones. The new book will be out in about two weeks. It covers various things which have long been a nuisance in this city, among which is the peddler nuisance and the dog nuisance. The Case of State of Nebraska vs Wm. Murphy for larceny came up before Judge West for hearing last Saturday. The entire afternoon and evening was taken up in trying to secure some tangible evidence against Murphy and then the court adjourned until Monday morning. On Monday morning when the court convened the prosecuting attorney dismissed the case, there being no chance of securing evidence against him. The CHIEF has always been in the habit of giving its subscribers the best of it on the offering of premiums for subscriptions paid in advance. The fact that paper has advanced materially and that no advance has been made in the price of this paper, has made it imperative that we have what is due us at once. We have heretofore been lenient, but will be compelled soon to place many accounts in the hands of a collector to enforce payment. Rather than do this we will give as an inducement for those paying up to date, a six months paid up subscription to the paper and a fine genuine oil finish portrait of yourself or a friend, in a splendid frame for the small sum of $1.98. These portraits will not rub off like the cheap crayon pictures, but they wash and can be put in a tub of water over night without injury. The portrait can be made from any small picture, photo, tintype, or ambrotype furnished. Any portrait that is not entirely satisfactory will not cost you a cent. We have a sample portrait at this office which must be seen to be appreciated. If you have a loved one whose picture you wish enlarged it will pay you to take advantage of this offer.
