SEVENTEEN CAR LOADS OF LUMBER

From Harris & Foster's yard, were sent out to Kearney Junction yesterday, for the freight transfer platform at that point.

The celebrated Georgia minstrels, who have before played with brilliant success in Omaha, last evening began a season of three nights at the Academy of Music.

They are in every respect the best troupe traveling, and have been appropriately named the "Kings of Fun."

They have a well-earned reputation, and they maintain it admirably well. They will be greeted with immense houses during their stay here, which is much longer than most troupes dare venture; but they know that Omaha can and will support first-class entertainments.

The reserved seats should be secured at the Variety Bazaar.

Mr. James Creighton Monday evening came in from Canada with over two hundred sheep, which he purchased within the last two weeks.

They are to be the best ever brought to Nebraska. Mr. John Creighton is a partner in this enterprise with Mr. James Creighton, both of whom are going into sheep raising on an extensive scale, believing that it can be made a very profitable and successful business in this State.

They intend to lease or purchase a large tract of land within five or six miles of the city, and sow it with clover, etc., and erect upon it a house, several sheds, and a large corral, for the winter protection of the sheep.

As soon as they can make the proper arrangements, they will add to their herd by other large installments from Canada.

The proprietors of the Grand Central billiard room deserve a great deal of credit for the enterprise they have exhibited in fitting up the reading room adjoining the billiard hall. It has been elegantly furnished throughout regardless of expense.

The floor is carpeted with beautiful Brussels, the walls are ornamented with costly pictures, and the marble-top tables are supplied with all the leading daily and illustrated papers of the country.

It is the most comfortable and homelike resort in the city, and is entirely separate from the billiard room, and is designed for the benefit of the patrons of that hall and the guests of the hotel in particular and the public in general.

The Council Bluffs Nonpartisan of yesterday says: "John T. Pugh, who was a short time since clerk in the City Hotel, Omaha, has recently taken the initiative steps to secure unto himself journalistic fame in the publishing of an extra edition of the 'Hancock County Courier,' West Virginia, a copy of which was shown us today by John A. Kintz, of this city. The sheet is rather antique in appearance, but its motto, 'Fiat Justitia, Ruat Caelum,' is beyond reproach. He has arrayed himself in opposition to the 'W. W. W.' but avows that he is in favor of 'putting down' whiskey, though the method that he would have adopted, for its accomplishment, he fails to mention, and we are inclined to think that he is in favor of putting it down his throat."

John G. Taylor, cashier of the Union Pacific freight house, was called to Cleveland yesterday by the death of his mother.

Z. King, of Topeka, Kansas, general agent of the King Bridge Company, is in town. This company has recently received contracts for several bridges in this State.

Harry A. Smart, advance agent for the great and only Joe Murphy, is in town making arrangements for Joe's reception at the Academy of Music Friday and Saturday evenings of this week.

Dr. George Parr, formerly head clerk in Ish's Farnham street drug store, has returned to Omaha after several months wandering about the country. He has gone to work at Allen's new drug store, where he will hereafter hold forth.

Capt. E. E. Smith, formerly checkman for the Omaha Bridge Transfer, has been appointed assistant general baggage agent in Nebraska, with headquarters at Plattsmouth. This is not the Captain Smith of unenviable notoriety, who was taken to Schuyler to answer to the charge of embezzlement.

John Graff, agent of the Union Pacific at Alma, Wyoming Territory, arrived in town Monday on a visit. His many friends are glad to see him, and are happy to learn that he has greatly improved in health. When he left here over a year ago, he weighed only 130, and now he is a 180 pounder, good enough!

Mr. and Mrs. Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Benson, Miss Benson, Mr. and Mrs. Blackford, Miss Harriet Blanchard, Miss Marie Blanchard, Joseph K. Wheeler, Miss Sally Wheeler, Miss Emma Wilson and Mrs. Annie T. Paul, are the names of a party of Philadelphia excursionists, westward bound, who are stopping at the Grand Central Hotel, having arrived from the East yesterday morning.

Mr. Duncan Cameron, of the firm of Buntin & Cameron, contractors, has returned from Scotland after an absence of six months. He was accompanied by a Scottish wife, whom he married during his visit to his old home. His many friends are happy to see him back, and are congratulating him on his matrimonial success in obtaining a most estimable lady for a life partner. Mr. and Mrs. Cameron are stopping at the City Hotel.

The following are the arrivals at the Wyoming Hotel: E. L. Root, Chicago; Wm. Taitman, Burlington; R. Wight, Burlington; James Boston, Lexington, Wis.; A. Blair, Bradford, Pa.; Howard Taylor, Dunkirk, N. Y.; J. W. Jordan, Chicago; T. G. Foster, Chicago; G. W. Parr, Jacksonville, Ill.; Seth Way, Bellefontaine; P. B. McCormick, Bellefontaine; H. Zalouk, Plattsmouth; Mrs. E. S. Smith and family, San Francisco; Miss Fannie Baker, San Francisco; Isaac Thurston, Robert Simpson, John E. Shaw, Benicia, Cal.; D. Crinklaw, Hopkins, Mo.; Mrs. M. COLLAPSE OF THE IOWA POOL

Mr. Vining's Latest Movement Means Trouble For the Trio of Monopolists.

The Chicago Times of Monday records Mr. Vining's latest triumph as follows:

"The new outlet for the California freight over the Chicago and Alton railroad has proven a very serious matter to the 'pooling' trio. It was supposed that the new combination would command but a slight portion of the traffic and that it provided it became a clog in the way of the other three Chicago roads, could be easily broken. But the new line has developed an immense amount of strength, and on Saturday last entered in a contract with the Union Pacific whereby it will command the entire through business from the Pacific coast, and receive all the through New York, Boston, Cincinnati and Chicago traffic, which is issued under through bills of lading. This contract is signed by the officers of the Union Pacific Railroad company and the officers of the Chicago and Alton railroad companies. The new plan will go into operation immediately, and if the 'pooling' roads are not allowed the equal privilege of issuing through bills of lading, which will not be broken, and if the 'pooling' roads will be broken, Beyond that is not safe to state. The other three lines will not stand idly by and see the business escape them. A cut rate will either be inaugurated, or they will severally ask the privilege of issuing through bills of lading, and enter into a straight competition for the business."

The new route carries the through freight to and from Kearney Junction, where accommodations for the transfer of freight are now rapidly being pushed forward. The eventful result will undoubtedly be the bursting of the Iowa pool.

The Times also says: "The Chicago and Alton railroad also proposes to put on a through passenger train for California, in the course of a few weeks, upon the completion of a short line of railway from Louisiana to Hannibal, which they will control."

Hon. A. J. Poppleton has returned home from the East.

Samuel C. Smith, a prominent real estate dealer, of Columbus, Nebraska, is in the city on business.

Col. H. C. Nutt, now of Chicago, is visiting in Council Bluffs, his old home. He arrived on Sunday, and will remain there during the week.

Thomas Rogers, traveling agent for his father, Milton Rogers, left for the west yesterday morning on business.

Mr. Lucas. For what purpose? Mr. Lucas. To present the bond of John Baumer. I move that the bond of John Baumer be approved. This is important. The bond of Mr. Johnston is not good after his year has expired.

Several voices. I second. President Gibson. I do not see how we are in office unless we have bonds filed. I do not feel like sitting as President unless I am properly in office.

Mr. Lucas. We are none of us in office unless we have filed legal bonds, and the Mayor, who tells us that he has consulted with Judge Lake, who assures us that our bonds are illegal. Mr. Johnston's bond holds good till his successor is appointed.

President Gibson then resolved on a general call for question, by putting Mr. Lucas's motion. The vote upon it was as follows, viz: Aye—M. H. Brown, A. A. Gibson, Lucas, Stephenson, Sutphen, President Gibson, 6. Nay—Banckes, L. Brown, Campbell, Swobe, 4.

President Gibson: The Council stands adjourned one week.

It was reported at a late hour last evening, that Mr. T. E. Stieckel had sent in his resignation as General Superintendent of the Union Pacific railway, and that it had been accepted by the directors, who have promoted Assistant General Superintendent Clark to fill the vacancy. Mr. Stieckel will retain his position as Chief Engineer of the Union Pacific, and also of the Colorado Central.

OMAHA WHOLESALE HOUSES.

The Wholesale Tobacco House of A. R. Simpson.

This is one of the oldest manufacturing and jobbing tobacco houses in the city. It was established by its present proprietor in 1867. When the foundation was laid for the new Creighton block adjoining the post-office, Mr. Simpson, who is always wide awake and up to the times in business, lost no time in securing for himself one of these handsome stores. This he has now fitted up in most elegant style and made it the finest establishment of the kind west of Chicago or St. Louis.

Mr. Simpson employs eight hands constantly, and makes a specialty of fine cigars, displaying the most complete stock of home manufactured goods in the city. The Henry Clay De Villor, and other brands manufactured by him, are too well known and appreciated to need any mention here. The stock in this house at the present writing, exceeds 100,000, of his own manufacture, and they are sold at the very lowest prices, at which this class of goods can be had.

Mr. Simpson is opposed in practice and principle to trading drummers and sells his goods only on direct orders taking care to fill all orders carefully, and giving his customers the advantage in prices which he gains by saving the expenses of a traveling salesman.

His quotations in this paper may be relied upon as the lowest figures at which the grades quoted can be sold, and country dealers can be sure of fair and honorable treatment.
